SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.

SCUGOG'S FIRST VICTIM THIS YEAR

Mr. Ben Bryans, of the East Ward, the Victim.

Early Wednesday a.m. word reached town of a sad drowning accident which occured Tuesday p.m. some four miles down the river, by which Mr. Ben Bryans, a well known resident of this town lost his life. It appears that somewhere about 7.30 p.m. Mr. Bryans in company with Mr. Chas. O'Leary started down the river in a small boat to spend the night at a point near the light house. When about four miles down, in some unaccountable way, the boat was capsized and both occupants were thrown into the water. The next known of the accident is told by Mr. Thos. Hickey is as follows; "About 9.30 p.m. last night whilst sitting with my family after having arrived home from town, some one present remarked that they heard some one shouting in the direction of the river. A member of the family went out and listened and not hearing any further sounds concluded it must be some boys in the neighbourhood. Mr. John Turner, who was at my house and had started for home, when he again heard the shouts as if some one was in distress. He hastened back to the house and told us what he had heard. Immediately my son Patrick hurried across the fields to Mr. Thos. Flynns and also to Mr. Thos. Hutton, both of whom live close by and apprised them of what had transpired. They, in company with Mr. Ed. Spears and Mr. Geo. Kasley, started for the river and made for the spot from which the sounds seemed to come. John Birgenaw, who was camping in the vicinity, also started out in a boat with the rescue party having reached the spot from where the cries of distress came from, found Chas. O'Leary in an exhausted condition, clinging to a stump, and in a semi-conscious manner, was able to tell them his companion had fallen out of the boat, but from what cause he knew not. That he had made all reasonable efforts to get him into the boat again, and in so doing precipitated himself into the water. By this time Bryans had become almost exhausted and seeing O'Leary's position told him to strike for the shore and save himself. He managed to reach a stump on the edge of the river where he remained until rescued. After reaching the shore Mr. O'Leary was driven to the residence of Mr. Hickey, where everything was done to make him comfortable. This morning a number of men went out in search of Bryans body and succeeded in finding it in some weeds close to the shore. About 9 a.m. Coroner Burrows was communicated with, who after hearing the circumstances surrounding the case, deemed an inquest unnecessary.

The deceased was about 46 years of age and a carpenter by trade. He was a son of ex-Alderman Bryans. He leaves a wife and several small children. The funeral will take place tomorrow to Riverside cemetery.

Obituary.

On Saturday evening at three o'clock, Nellie, the beloved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Leddy, of this town, was called to her reward, after a lingering illness, borne with christian resignation, at the early age of twenty-three years, six months. Being of a bright and cheerful disposition, her illness was not looked upon as being serious in the early stages, but unconsciously the disease had been making such inroads on her constitution, that medical science was unabel to arrest until finally death came as a happy relief, at the time and date mentioned. A father and mother, two sisters and four brothers are left to mourn the loss of a loving sister. Her remains were conveyed to St. Mary's church at 8.30 on Monday morning, where a solemn mass of requim was chanted for the repose of her soul, after which interment took place at the R. C. cemetery.

A Digby Township Pioneer.

Mr. P. McFadden, one of Digby's solid farmers, drove to town last Friday, a distance of some forty miles, to meet some American friends who are visiting here. He reports the crops as being fully up to the expectations of the farmers in his section. Mr. McFadden is one of the earliest pioneers of the north country and hewed a home for himself and family in the forest, when his only neighbors were bears and wolves. By dint of honest industry he, with the assistance of his family, is now the possessor of one of the finest and best farms in the north, which comprises several hundreds of acres. Messrs. Frank and Joseph McFadden, of town, are sons, whilst Mrs. Jas. Blake, of the north ward, is a daughter.

Lindsay Can Go One Better.

An article appeared in in Mail and Empire on Aug. 15th, which stated that the oldest coin in the world was found 800 years before Christ. Mr. W. F. McCarty, the Jeweller, Lindsay, can show a bronze coin which was made at the time of building Solomons temple, 975 before Christ. This is a Masonic coin and bears the double triangle and seven stars. He also has a very rare coin of Edward I, king of England, a silver penny in perfect preservation. Also a French coin made by the old roll mint. A 1 frank piece 1589 very rare. He has three Lady Jodiva coins. One with her tomb. These are a rarety. Altogether he has 4,000 pieces. Hundreds of these are really a curiosity. They were collected by Mr. A. C. Babcock and represent 36 years of work.
