Capitalism Totters Says Miss Macphail

Miss Agnes Macphail, member of Parliament for Grey-Bruce, Ontario, declared in an address at Syracuse, N. Y., on Friday that unless governments effected "a more equal distribution of wealth, employment and leisure," the capitalistic system would collapse.

Commenting on impressions of a trip to Sweden, Miss Macphail said that Sweden has attained "an intelligent economic system" giving its people "sustenance and happiness," and added that "The United States or any other country would do well to copy it."

She declared the fate of the United States depends on "whether Mr. Roosevelt will continue his progressive policies.

"So called radicalism in governmental affairs," she asserted, "is what is going to save your country and others from a complete collapse.

"Personally," the Canadian Parliamentarian continued, "I believe it will be hard for Mr. Roosevelt to continue his progressiveness. He must be a very tired man, and it is easier to set the pace than keep it." . . . . .

Miss Macphail said also that hope for world peace should not be entirely lost.

"It must be remembered," she said, "that the Powers fear war almost as much as the populaces. The Powers know that civil revolution might result in several instances and the Powers would no longer be in power."

She asserted current reports of improved business conditions should not be greeted with too optimistic smiles.

"This is temporary," Miss Macphail argued, "and you in the United States have reached no permanent solution of your economic difficulties."

She predicted another depression within three or four years "unless proper economic steps are taken."

She recommended a united labor organization "which would be prepared to enter politics if necessary."

SOLVED MYSTERY

Postmaster McCready, of Harriston, has solved a mystery that was causing more than a little trouble for users of the post boxes in his office. Letters, containing money and bank cheques were disappearing. Postmaster McCready undertook to do a little detective work and discovered that the trouble could be traced to a girl, who was pilfering the contents of boxes. Some of the boxes were not locked so it was easy for anyone to enter the post office and take letters from other boxes, while apparently opening one's own post box. It is understood that action is being taken to safeguard the boxes in the Harriston office in future.

Operating Rink

Messrs. Harold McCutcheon and Bill Patton have leased the skating rink from Mr. Walter Akitt for the season and commenced on Saturday to make ice. They expect to have skating this week if the weather holds up.

Plow Now Operating

First class sleighing is being enjoyed by the farmers at the present time. A heavy fall of snow the end of last week resulted in the road becoming almost blocked. Wm. Heitman had to have his car towed to reach the Collingwood gravel while bringing the mail to Flesherton. About eight inches of snow fell and in places on the roads the drifts were two feet deep. Dave Weber of Kimberley again has the contract of plowing the snow off Highway No. 10 and made nis first trip on Tuesday. Cold weather was general Tuesday morning and the thermometer reached a couple of degrees below zero.

Election Contest In Artemesia

FOR REEVE

John A. Davis — Nominated by W. G. Bowles and Thos. Sled.

Cecil D. Meldrum — Nominated by J. W. McKee and R. J. Fisher.

FOR COUNCILLORS

Norman Hostrawser — Nominated by J. J. Meads and Dalton Corbett.

Robert D. Purvis — Nominated by Wm. Walker and A. F. Pedlar.

Earnest A. Stinson — Nominated by H. Purdy and R. W. Piper.

Elmer Warling — Nominated by Louis Teeter and Wm. Swanton.

I. B. Whittaker — Nominated by Russell Purdy and J. K. McLeod.

Less than one hundred ratepayers attended the Artemesia township nomination held in Flesherton town hall and the meeting was very orderly under the chairmanship of Mr. Herb Corbett. Reeve Davis gave a splendid report of County Council activities, while Deputy Reeve, Cecil D. Meldrum and the other councillors spoke on their activities in their various divisions.

Those nominated for the various offices finished signing up by Saturday evening and it is expected by observers that the race will be close, as all are fairly strong contestants. Reeve Davis has held office for four years, as has Deputy-Reeve Meldrum the only returned soldier in the council, Elmer Warling, I. B. Whittaker and Robert D. Purvis are well known councillors, the latter first entering the Council 33 years ago. Earnest Stinson is a young man residing half a mile north of the Inistioge Corner, while Norman Hostrawser resides on the south line and is a newcomer to the township four years ago, from near Brampton, where he had considerable experience in road building. Take your choice, they are all goou so that you will not be going astray in voting for any of them.

Flesherton's Council is again in office by acclamation, due to the fact that no other ratepayer wants the job of governing the village. Russel Park was nominated, but withdrew his name from the list. Reeve McCauley and Councillors Richardson, Welton, Dargavel and Down will comprise the 1937 council. Messrs. G. A. McTavish, E. Loucks and F. J. Thurston were elected Public School Trustees and Mr. J. A. Richards was added to the Cemetery Commission, taking the place of J. E. Bennett.

Reeve McCauley came in for considerable criticism for the raising of the assessment of the village, but he was ably upheld by Councillors Dargavel and Down, the only members of the Council present. F. J. Thurston gave a report of the activities of the Public School Board for the year.

Mr. John Pedlar acted as chairman of the meeting, the 13th successive year he has filled the duties of that position acceptably. He injects life into a meeting that would otherwise be drab and uninteresting.

NEW RULING FOR HOLIDAY DELIVERY

Regular mail deliveries on public holidays including Christmas Day will be the new policy of the post office department, effective at once, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced last week. There will be regular mail deliveries every day but Sunday in future.

Convenience of the general public and the growing importance to business of quick and immediate delivery of mail matter was the consideration prompting the Government in this move, the Prime Minister said. There would be a slight addition to the estimate for this service but the Government felt it justified.

Due consideration will be given the employees with respect to hours of work and remuneration, and it was anticipated, Mr. McKenzie King said, that extension of the continuous service given by the post office would mean some additional employment.
