AN OLD-YEAR SONG.

Through the form, disguised
By dull November, I spied,
A lonely minstrel of the wood
Was singing to the solitude:
I loved thy music, thus I said,
When o'er thy perch the leaves were spread;
Sweet was thy song, but sweeter now
The carol on the leafless bough,
Sing, little bird! thy note shall cheer
The sadness of the dying year.

When violets pranked the turf with blue
And morning filled their cups with dew,
Thy slender voice with rippling trill
The budding April bowers would fill,
Nor pass its joyous tones away
When April faded into May:
Thy life shall hail no second dawn,—
Sing, little bird! the spring is gone.

And I remember—well-a-day!
Thy full-blown summer roundelay,
As when behind a leafy screen
Some lady musician sings unseen:
With answering notes the woodland rung,
And every tree-top found a tongue.
How deep the shade! the groves how fair!
Sing, little bird! the woods are bare.

But now the summer's chant is done
And mute the choral antiphon;
The birds have left the shivering pines
To flit among the trellised vines,
Or fan the air with scented plumes
Amid the love-sick orange-blooms,
And then art here alone—alone
Sing, little bird! the rest have flown.

The snow has capped yon distant hill,
At morn the running brook was still;
From driven herds the clouds that rise
Are like the smoke of sacrifice:
Ere long the frozen sod shall neck
The ploughshare, changed to stubborn rock,
The brawling streams shall soon be dumb—
Sing, little bird! the frosts have come.

Fast, fast the lengthening shadows creep,
The songless fowl are half asleep,
The air growes chill, the setting sun
May leave thee ere thy song is done,
The pulse that warms thy breast grows cold
Thy corets die with thee, untold:
The lingering sunset still is bright
Sing, little bird! 'twill soon be night.

CONSUMPTION.—Hudson City, New Jersey.—Mr. Wm. Lawrence, Office to Mr. Fellows, says: I cannot tell you how many have called to see me, to inquire if I really had been so ill as reported, and if it was the Syrup alone which so wonderfully restored me (a consumptive) to such good health. With gladness I tell them all that my recovery is due to Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, with the blessing of God upon it. Fellows' Hypophosphites being peculiar in its effect and composition, no other preparation is a substitute for it.

LEIBIG'S

Liquid Extract of Beef

AND TONIC INVIGORATOR.

Besides the Condensed Beef prepared from the best parts of the animal, the preparation contains Quin ine, Peruvian Bark, and numerous herbs and roots grown for their tonic and health-giving properties.

This is the only condensed beef that does not require cooking or warming. It was especially manufactured under the direction of Baron Von Liebig, before the late Franco-Prussian war, for the German soldiers. Its tonic qualities are much greater than those found in any ordinary Specific or Appetiser, and its nutritive properties are sufficient to sustain the body without the addition of solid food. It is now recommended by the faculty in preference to anything else as the best remedy for Consumption, General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Lowness of Spirits, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Lassitude, &c.

No article has yet been discovered that is so effective in all cases of failing health in the old, or weakness in the young. This preparation is not only the best, but it is the cheapest Beef Extract offered to the public: Two Tablespoonsful being sufficient three times a day.

Great care should be taken in purchasing the Liquid Beef Extract. See that the bottle contains the German label and certificate from Professor Wagner, of the University of Wurtzburgh, and that it is prepared by the Liebig's German Beef Extract Co., of Hamburg, as other extracts of an inferior quality have been put on the market.

Price 60 cents per bottle.

The Nutritious Condiment of the North British Cattle Food Co. GOLD PRIZE MEDAL, awarded, London Exhibition, 1862. At the Exhibition of British and Foreign Manufactures, held in the Crystal Palace, London, 1862, the Nutritious Condiment was awarded the Prize Gold Medal for genuineness and utility. It will coax the most impaired appetite. It renders coarse provender rich and palatable. Horses fed on this Condiment for a short period of the year receive as much benefit as if they had been out to grass for a season. Its regular use is beneficial and not injurious, as is the case with some worthless preparations palmed off on the public at high prices, and designated Cattle Spices, &c. The Nutritious Condiment is composed of pure herbs and roots grown for their fattening properties and health-giving qualities. By using it, a saving of twenty per cent is effected in the cost of feeding and the animals are in better condition. It is not only the best but the cheapest Condiment for cattle in existence, being just half the price of any at present in the market. All the principal prize cattle at the Royal Agricultural Show, held at the Agricultural Hall, Islington, London, Xmas, '68, '69, '70, '71, were fed on the North British Cattle Food Company's Condiment.
