G-MEN AND SHERIFF RAID HUGE ALKY STILL

PLANTED IN OLD BORDEN FACTORY AT SPRING GROVE

CAPACITY OF 5,000 GALS. DAILY

A gigantic still and rectifying plant, said to be the largest ever to be located in Northern Illinois either in prohibition time or since prohibition was repealed, was confiscated Tuesday when Sheriff Henry A. Nulle, Chief Deputy C. C. Miner and a squad of federal agents from the Internal Revenue Department office in Chicago, raided the old Borden-Wieland milk plant at Spring Grove.

Two men were arrested and taken into custody being placed in the county jail here where they will be held until a preliminary arraignment is given them before Edwin K. Walker, United States commissioner. They are Lincoln Rankin, 23 years old whose address is R. F. D., Zenda, Wisconsin and Ralph Boguch, 19 years old of 5833 Archer avenue, Chicago.

Daylight Raid

The raid, which was planned by the G-Men, was staged shortly before noon Tuesday. The G-Men and Sheriff Nulle and his assistant, surrounded the building. A window was smashed and as Sheriff Nulle entered the building the two men on duty tried to make their escape through the rear door only to run right into the arms of the G-Men.

As usual the two men taken into custody did not know anything about the still. Rankin first gave his name as Lynn Graives but when some papers were found on his person addressed to Lincoln Rankin he told his right name. He said he was married and has a ten months old baby and for that reason he hesitated giving his right name.

Rankin said he was hired at $20 per week to fire the boilers. Boguch said he was employed to keep the water hot and to mix sugar. Neither knew the people who hired them or where they live.

Cleverly Hidden

The owners of the still had the whole setup cleverly hidden. Using the front end of the building for a poultry house known as the Saux Poultry Company of Wisconsin it was generally known that the entire building was used for this purpose. Chicken coops were piled up around the outside of the building and the citizens of Spring Grove thought nothing of the poultry trucks which operated in and out of the premises. It is thought that these poultry trucks were used to transport the alcohol and materials used.

Inside the front part of the building was an office, well furnished and used as a decoy. It was supposed to be the office of the Poultry Company. Stationery and various order blanks of the Poultry Company were much in evidence around the office.

However, as the Sheriff and the G-Men found their way into the other parts of the building the huge still setup was discovered.

The Machinery

The machinery consisted of a 40 horsepower oil-operated high pressure steam boiler, a "beer" still to distill the sugar mash, a large rectifying still which turned the first-run output into high proof alcohol, two 1,000 gallon cooking tanks, a tier of receiving tanks, motor driven pumps to pump the mash and alcohol into the cookers, and EIGHT large vats filled with mash.

It is estimated that each vat held 4,000 gallons making a total capacity of 32,000 gallons of mash. The G-Men estimated the plant to have a capacity of between 4,700 and 5,000 gallons per day and that the complete setup of machinery and equipment cost some $50,000.

Twenty sacks of sugar each weighing 100 pounds; twenty 5-gallon cans, twenty 1-gallon cans, six 50-pound drums of ferno and 800 pounds of A. B. C. yeast were found in the building.

Use Old Drainage System

The columns of the "beer" still and rectifying still and the top of the boiler protruded through the flooring on the second floor, holes having been cut to make the room for the equipment.

The old drainage system used when the Borden plant was in operation was used by the operators with the drainage going into the creek which passes through Spring Grove.

The room which housed the still was carefully locked and insulated so that the mash fumes could not escape and lead to detection.

The Sheriff and G-Men discovered a well concealed buzzer alarm system. The points of two nails protruding through the front door, hardly detectable, was one of the switches. The buzzer could be sounded by placing a key across the two nail points.

Pure cane sugar was being used in the still indicating that a good grade of alcohol was being manufactured. In prohibition days corn sugar was generally used by still operators.

In Operation Six Months

From all evidence secured it is thought that the still has been in operation for about six months as the Poultry Company has been located in the building for that length of time.

The still is similar to the one discovered in the heart of Elgin last week although about twice as large. The manner in which it was constructed is about the same only the Elgin outfit used a garage in the front of the building as a decoy while at Spring Grove the "chicken business" was the decoy.

Although the two men captured are being held here it is expected they will be turned over to federal agents shortly. Work on dismantling the still has been started.

The finding of the still in the old milk plant came as a surprise to the citizens of Spring Grove who thought they had a very successful poultry business in their fair village.

News of the raid was kept quiet until Wednesday morning because the agents guarded the place all night in hopes that some of the "higher ups" might make a night visit to the plant.

CELEBRATE THIRTY-FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF FORESTERS

It was thirty-one years ago on a wintry January night that St. Clara's Court, No. 659, Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, was organized by a little group of interested women.

The events of the evening commenced at 6:30 o'clock with a delicious supper served by Mrs. Anna K. Freund and her committee. An attractive, large birthday cake was cut with each one present receiving a piece.

Father Frank Miller was guest of honor and gave a short talk as did also the first Chief Ranger, Mrs. Josephine Heimer. Seated at the head table were the five charter members and past Chief Rangers, each one receiving a small gift of remembrance. The hall and tables were attractively decorated in yellow and white, colors of the court.

Following the business session which was conducted by the Chief Ranger, Mrs. Celia Blake, cards were enjoyed with prizes in bridge won by Mrs. Helen Weber and Mrs. Susie Justen; in five hundred by Mrs. Frank Hay, Mrs. Lillian Stoffel and Mrs. Mary Weingart and in bunco by Mrs. Kathrine Worts.

HEBRON FARMER DIES WHEN WAGON RUNS OVER HEAD

George Christman, farm laborer working for Wm. Jacobs on the Geo. Stoneall farm between Hebron and Zenda, died at the Elkhorn hospital on Saturday from injuries received when a wagon load of wood ran over his head, Friday.

Christman has collected a wagon load of fire wood from the Ralph Behrens farm and was on his way from the grove, when, because of the iciness of the road, the wagon slipped, causing some of the wood to fall on the mules drawing the vehicle.

The animals became alarmed and ran away, leaving Christman beside the road with his face crushed in. He was taken to the Elkhorn hospital in an unconscious condition from which he did not recover. Every bone in his head was reported broken.

The deceased, 45 years of age, was born in Clinton, Wis. Prior to his residence since March 1936 near Hebron, he was employed at the Rock River Fuel and Lumber Co. of Beloit. He leaves his wife and four children, three sons, Dean, Lawrence and George and one daughter, Jane.

DEATHS EXCEED BIRTHS IN McHENRY TOWNSHIP

The number of deaths in McHenry and McHenry township exceeded the number of births nearly two to one, according to the records of the city clerk, Peter Neiss.

The clerk's records, however, are only the deaths or births within the city or township and do not include those that took place in hospitals outside the township. Birth and death certificates for those outside the city and township are filed at the place of birth or death. As many babies are now born at hospitals this probably accounts for the list of only eighteen infants born here, as compared to thirty-one deaths.

Deaths in 1936 in the city and township were: Catherine May, Josephine Boley, Joseph Justen, John Singer, Augusta Niesen, George W. Colby, Leo Meyers, Stanley S. Young, Wilhelmine Bloethmer, Harry Morris, Jacob M. Freund, Mary Louise Gilly, Mathias Wengler, Richard Kennebeck, Julia Ann E. Roberts, William Sayler, Mary K. Adams, Molly Schreiner, Wm. Henry Burmeister, Joan Schmidt, Mary Barbara Lay, Frank H. Wattles, Kathrine Schmitt, August Kunz, Maude May Fisher, Ella A. Weber, John King, Fred Voeltz, Nizza O. Holly, Josephine Frett, and Mary A. Green.

COUNTRY CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The annual meeting of the McHenry Country Club was held at the city hall at 1:30 p. m., Sunday, Jan. 17, for the purpose of electing officers and to outline plans for the year.

Officers whose terms expired were re-elected for another term as follows: James Sayler, president; Frank A. Connolly, vice-president; Gerald Carey, treasurer; Eber E. Bassett, secretary, and Albert Krause and A. E. Nye, directors.

The fiscal year of the club, which has extended from January 1, to December 31, was changed to November 1, to October 31 with the annual meeting to be held on the second Sunday in November. This change was made for the convenience of the Chicago members in attending the annual meeting.

The local golf course, with its natural advantages and excellent condition at all times, maintains a position among the leading clubs of this section.

PAYMENTS TO START FRIDAY

TO APPLY ON DEFERRED CERTIFICATES

For the fifth time the West McHenry State Bank will pay an installment of ten per cent on the deferred certificates held by that institution since March, 1933, making a total payment of fifty per cent. Payment will start on Friday when deferred certificates of interest may be taken to the bank and payments received.

The return of $9,480.33, which is the amount of the fifth payment, will make a total payment of $47,273.73 repaid to the 588 depositors, half of the total amount which they waived at the time of the bank moratorium. At that time forty per cent of each deposit was waived to facilitate the reopening of the bank and it was expected by many of the depositors that it would be some time before any refund would be made.

Banking conditions have improved rapidly, however, and the first payment on the deferred certificates was made in December, 1934, only a little over a year after the moratorium. Since that time payments have followed regularly and again business will be stimulated by the circulation of nearly $10,000 in this vicinity.

Permission authorizing the payment was received from Edward J. Barrett, auditor of public accounts of the state of Illinois, and should be good news for the people of McHenry and vicinity.

Bring Certificates

It is necessary that everyone entitled to a ten per cent refund present their certificate at the bank where it will be endorsed with the amount of the payment and the face value of the certificate reduced a like amount.

Certificates must be presented for endorsement before check can be received.

Several have not yet called for their previous refund which was due last August.

The West McHenry State Bank was the first in the county and one of the few in the state to start paying off the money which was deferred in 1933 and local people should be proud of the bank and the fine progress it has made.

THIRD QUARTER EXAMINATIONS AT MCHS THIS WEEK

Students with arms full of books and their faces serious are seen wending their way home from school this week, the reason, as you probably may surmise, is the fact that third quarter exams at the high school are scheduled for Thursday and Friday of this week.

Of course, if grades are high enough, ninety or over, in fact, exemption is promised, which perhaps accounts for the hopeful expression, as well.

School children of the nation harassed with examinations, who for years have been trying to solve different questions in mathematics or tell in a certain number words the causes of the Revolutionary war, will be happy to learn that they have, at least, one friend who is a champion to their cause.

He is Dr. I. L. Kandel of Columbia University, author of a 183-page study, made public in New York by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching.

He asserts education is not a process of separtaing pupils into sheep and goats. Instead, Dr. Kandel believes that education should painlessly find out what the boy or girl can do, and then, as painlessly, set them upon the task.

Unfortunately for students in Chicago, Dr. Kandel's ideas did not meet with high favor there. Educators who expressed high regard for his professional abilities did not agree with his recommendation regarding examinations.

George Allan Works, dean of students and university examiner of the University of Illinois, states that examinations are widely used at the university and not likely to be abolished there. William E. Johnson, Chicago superintendent of schools, also believes that we still need the old-fashioned examination.

Dr. Kandel is raising the question of the relative value of the modern objective examination as opposed to the old-fashioned essay type. The former requires the true or false answer. Its chief fault is that it is likely to be only a memory test, while the essay examination shows how well the student can think and work.

Well, anyway, it appears that "exams" are the subject at the present at the Community High School.

CITY ELECTIONS WILL BE HELD TUES., APR. 20

ALL CITY OFFICIALS TO BE ELECTED

With the Christmas holidays and the shortest day of the year out of the way, the thoughts of many begin to turn to plans for the spring and summer, among the important events of which will be city and township elections.

Voters in McHenry will be required, on Tuesday, April 20, to elect an entire new slate of city officials, including the mayor, clerk, aldermen, city treasurer and police magistrate, which according to the new law passed in 1935 will serve for four years. However, the recent enactment changing the terms of city officials from one and two years to four years, has been amended so that half of the aldermen elected in April will serve for two years and half of them for a four year term. Each ward will have one alderman serving for four years and one for two years.

The alderman themselves will decide who shall serve the long terms as they will draw lots to see who shall get the two year term and who elected for the four year term. Thereafter, the elections will come every two years.

This law does not apply to the mayor, city clerk, city treasurer and police magistrate, who will be elected for four year terms. The law governing the term of the mayor reads: The chief executive officer of a city shall be a mayor, who shall be a citizen of the United States, a qualified elector and reside within the city limits. He shall hold his office for four years, and until his succesor is elected and qualified."

The law applying to election of aldermen reads: "Aldermen elected at the first election after the effective date of this act, or at the first date after a city is organized, shall draw lots to determine which one of the aldermen in each ward elected at such election shall hold for a four year term and which one in each ward shall hold for a two year term and until his successor is elected and qualified. Aldermen elected thereafter shall hold for a four year term and until their successors are elected and qualified."

The terms of the clerk and city treasurer, although not specifically fixed at four years are designated to be the same as that of the mayor, which is four years, as follows: "A clerk and city treasurer shall be elected in each city when a mayor is elected: provided, that no person be elected to the office of city treasurer for two terms in succession."

The intent of the legislature was to establish a four year term for the city officials. After the election in 1937, one half the trustees, chosen by lot at the first meeting, will serve for two years. Thereafter there will be a municipal election each two years. At one biennial election the mayor and half the council and clerk will be elected; at the intervening election only half the council will be up for election.

"An election for city officials shall be held on the third Tuesday of April of each odd-numbered year."

The terms of all of the present city officials expire at the April election. Whether or not they will all be candidates for re-election has not been announced but it is expected that the majority of them will enter the race.

The present city officers are: Peter Doherty, mayor; Peter Neiss, city clerk; Robert Weber, treasurer; W. R. Bickler, police magistate; aldermen, first ward, R. I. Overton, Nick P. Justen; second ward, Herman Kreutzer, Edward J. Buss; third ward, George P. Freund, Fred Ferwerda.
