SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me.

Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."
148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882:

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

BLOOD AND FIRE.—The above rather startling heading to their bills, announced that the Salvation Army would open fire in this place on Sunday last, and their invitation to "come in crowds" was accepted very generally by the citizens of Owen Sound and surrounding country. The Army opened fire on the market square on Sunday morning, and after reading and prayer proceeded to their barracks at the Drill Shed, which they have rented for the next six months. The Army were followed by a large number of men, women, and chileren, in fact it seemed as if everybody was bound to see the opening performance, if we may so designate their exercises. Their style of conducting a meeting was as might be expected, entirely out of the ordinary course connected with a religious gathering. The Army consisted of one man and three Salvation lasses, and the mode of conducting the meeting was novel and interesting, singing, praying, and exhortation followed each other in rapid and continued succession. Some of their tunes were very lively, and were heartily joined in by the large audience. Three meetings were held on Sunday, and each time the Drill Shed was crowded to the doors. Many people came in long distances to see and hear the Army, and the first day's efforts were certainly very encouraging. Large numbers of song-books, and of the Salvation paper, the War Cry, were sold during the day, and a large collection was taken up at each meeting. The Army have come to stay, and will hold meetings every evening henceforth. The behavior of all at the meetings was very decorous, and with the exception of a few interruptions by some hoodlums on Sunday evening everything connected with the meetings passed off in an agreeable and pleasant manner.—Owen Sound Advertiser.

"Check."

From Toronto "Grip."

He was a mild-mannered civil sort of a fellow, but there was a smile of grim determination on his face to-day as he entered the office. "Is the paper out yet?"

"Yes, just out of the press."

"That's good, hand me one will you? Thanks, now I want my paper stopped."

"Stopped! my dear sir?" we gasped, for he was a prompt payer, and a strong political supporter.

"Yes sir, stopped, INSTANTER, that is, if ever you wish me to set eyes on your paper again, stop sending it at once."

We gazed at him long and sadly from under our gold spectacles, while we mentally took a retrospect of all his known relations. It was no go, not one had died in the lunatic asylum. We abandoned the insanity plea and begged him to explain.

"Look here" he said solemnly "I've put up with this sort of thing for more than two months, and now I've made up my mind that he'll have to go without as I do."

"He! Who?"

"Can't tell you, all I know is he moved himself and family in next door to us, a dozen or so in all. For the first two days I had my paper all right as usual, but since—oh well! never mind, stop it anyway."

"But my dear friend—"

"Well, I suppose I owe you an explanation. First it was, 'Please Mrs. Benign, will Mr. Benign kindly oblige pa with two seconds of the evening paper? he wants to see the advertisements.' All right! Second night ditto; third night, ditto; fourth night, ditto; fifth night, 'Please could you let pa have the paper an hour earlier? he likes to see the news before he goes down town.' Well, we were a little surprised, but of course must oblige a neighbor. All that week waited till after tea for the return of the paper; next week they didn't send it in till after we had had gone to bed, had to march down stairs in nightshirt and candle, got a cold ever since, told them I'de provide them with a latch key. Then they took to cutting out the slips of poetry and other bits, till it came back like a window sash with the pains out; then the baby tore chunks out of it, Tilly curled her bangs with odd corners, and the old man himself lit his pipe with long strips of the margin. When I remonstrated, they went in and banged the door, protesting that the cheek of these upstarts was amazing, they had no respect for old families, the idea of any man talking in that way about that paltry little sheet. For all that they did not fail to put in an appearance at the usual hour. My wife don't like to be quarrelsome, so handed over the paper in silence. When I looked at it next morning it stuck to my fingers; explanation was, they had syrup for tea—no, they didn't use table napkins only when they'd company. Day before yesterday I sent in the girl to ask if they would kindly let me have just a loan for a minute of my own paper, 'Pa had sent it off to the Old Country, 'cause he thought there was nothing in it that I would care for.' Now I don't want you to think me a churlish disagreeable neighbor for the world. I've put up with everything hitherto, but when it comes to the old man waiting on the doorstep for the route boy so as he can get the paper early, and keep his family escutcheon unsullied, by avoiding being under obligation to me—then I cry 'Cheek!'

"Ta, ta! Of course I wouldn't like to get behind the times, so I'll run in here and have a surreptitious squint at the paper once in a while. So Long!"

A Startling Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Johnson, of Huron, Dak., writes that his wife had been troubled with acute Bronchitis for many years, and that all remedies tried gave no permanent relief until he procured a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs, and Colds, which had a magical effect, and produced a permanent cure It is guaranteed to cure all Diseases of Throat, Lungs, or Bronchial Tubes.
