SCROFULA

and all scrofulous diseases, Sores, Erysipelas, Eczema, Blotches, Ringworm, Tumors, Carbuncles, Boils, and Eruptions of the Skin, are the direct result of an impure state of the blood.

To cure these diseases the blood must be purified, and restored to a healthy and natural condition. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA has for over forty years been recognized by eminent medical authorities as the most powerful blood purifier in existence. It frees the system from all foul humors, enriches and strengthens the blood, removes all traces of mercurial treatment, and proves itself a complete master of all scrofulous diseases.

A Recent Cure of Scrofulous Sores.

"Some months ago I was troubled with scrofulous sores (ulcers) on my legs. The limbs were badly swollen and inflamed, and the sores discharged large quantities of offensive matter. Every remedy I tried failed, until I used AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, of which I have now taken three bottles, with the result that the sores are healed, and my general health greatly improved. I feel very grateful for the good your medicine has done me.

Yours respectfully, MRS. ANN O'BRIAN."
148 Sullivan St., New York, June 24, 1882.

☞ All persons interested are invited to call on Mrs. O'Brian; also upon the Rev. Z. P. Wilds of 78 East 54th Street, New York City, who will take pleasure in testifying to the wonderful efficacy of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, not only in the cure of this lady, but in his own case and many others within his knowledge.

The well-known writer on the Boston Herald, B. W. BALL, of Rochester, N.H., writes, June 7, 1882:

"Having suffered severely for some years with Eczema, and having failed to find relief from other remedies, I have made use, during the past three months, of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which has effected a complete cure. I consider it a magnificent remedy for all blood diseases."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

stimulates and regulates the action of the digestive and assimilative organs, renews and strengthens the vital forces, and speedily cures Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Rheumatic Gout, Catarrh, General Debility, and all diseases arising from an impoverished or corrupted condition of the blood, and a weakened vitality.

It is incomparably the cheapest blood medicine, on account of its concentrated strength, and great power over disease.

A LITTLE POEM.

From "Grip."

With little care,
A little pair
Of lovers fond and true;
A little skiff,
A little whiff
To blow them o'er the blue.

A little way
Out on the bay,
A little 'fraid they feel;
A little squall—
A little bawl—
The girl clings to the keel.

A little yelp,
A little help
Soon lands them wet and cool;
A little spat,
A little cat
Calls him a little fool.

BOB INGERSOLL'S CREED.

A Discovery that He is Quite Orthodox after all.

Some one sends us a little tract containing epigrammatic expressions from Col. Robert G. Ingersoll's latest lecture, "What Must We Do to Be Saved?" We have read the tract and we have read the entire lecture. If this is truly Ingersoll's creed, the Colonel isn't so far out of the way. He is coming around maybe. He manages to get considerable Scripture into his creed, as he sets it forth. There is lots of hope, in fact there is a great deal of certainty for the Colonel. We subjoin a few articles of this great man's creed, just to show from what book he got his declaration of faith.

"Honest industry is as good as pious idleness," says the Colonel.

Well, that's all right. Thats orthodox. The bible says the same thing, and said it long before the Colonel thought of it, "Faith without works is dead."

"Christ believed the temple of God to be the heart of man-"—Ingersoll

Yes that's orthodox too. We must worship him in the spirit." "Know ye not that ye are the temples of the Holy Ghost."

"If I go to Heaven I want to take my reason with me.—Ingersoll.

Of course, and so you will, "fornow we see through the class darkly, but thereface to face; now I know in part, but then I shall know even as I am known."—Corinthians,, xiii., 12.

"Fear is a dagger with which hypocrisy assassinates the soul."—Ingersoll.

That is good Gospel, and "perfect love casteth out fear"

"If I owe Smith $10, and God forgives me, that doesn't pay Smith."—Ingersoll.

Correct you are; the prayer of Christianity is "forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors." "Owe no man anything."

"Reason is the light of the soul, and if you haven't the right to follow it, what have you the right to follow?"—Ingersoll.

"Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with an understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than 10,000 words in an unknown tongue. Brethren, be not children in understanding; howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men." —I Corinthians, xvi, 19, 20.

"If you go to Hell, it will be for not practicing virtues which the Sermon on the Mount proclaims."—Ingersoll.

That's all orthodox "If ye know these things, happy are you, ye that do them.

"The men who saw the miracles all died long ago. I wasn't acquamted with any of 'em."—Ingersoll.

Same way with the men who saw Servetus burned. But the Colonel most firmly believes that Servetus was burned.

"A little miracle now, right here—just a little one—would do more toward the advancement of Christianty than all the preaching of the last thirty years."—Ingersoll.

"If they hear not Moses and the prophets neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead."—Luke xvii., 31.

"If there is a God in the universe He will not damn an honest man."—Ingersoll.

"A false balance is an abomination unto the Lord; but a just weight is His delight."—Proverbs, xi., 1.

"There is only one true worship, and that is the practice of justice."—Ingersoll.

"Render, therefore unto Cæsar the things which be Cæsar's, and unto God the things which be God's."—Luke xx., 25.

"God will not damn a good citizen, a good father, or a good friend."—Ingersoll.

Certainly not; nor any good man.

"A good man showeth favor and lendeth; he will guide his affairs with discretion- Surely, he shall not be moved forever? the righteous shall be held in everlasting rememberance."—Psalms, xxii., 5, 6.

"Study the religion of the body in preference to the religion of the soul. A healthy body will give a healthy mind, and a healthy mind will destroy superstition."—Ingersoll.

That explains why Indians have no superstitions.

"People who have the smallest souls make the most fuss about saving them." —Ingersoll.

Of course, Colonel; they are the hardest kind to save.

"I will never ask God to treat me any fairer than I treat my fellow men."—Ingersoll.

Well that's perfectly orthodox. "For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your Heavenly Father will also forgive you; but if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses." "For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged; and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured out to you."

"Upon the shadowy shore of death, the sea of trouble casts no wave."—Ingersoll.

The Colonel must have been singing that good old hymn, "When I can read my title clear," in which occur the lines:

And not a wave of trouble rolls
Across my peaceful breast.

The Sabbath Day.

To the Editor of the Advance.

Dear Sir.—A letter appeared in your last weeks issue above the commonplace name, "John Thomas." Now, Sir, I don't know whether that is his right name or not; that is of little consequence. It is the sentiments in his letter I wish to refer to. The same ideas in connection with the observance of the Sabbath Day have been advanced before, and by persons who have went below the surface in dealing with them. These superficial scribblers, Sir, are never satisfied unless when writing up some imaginary grievance. Logic, Sir, is what we want, and sound logic at that. The letters of men of some depth of character demand attention—nay, command attention—no matter if the arguments adduced are at variance with our pre-conceived notions of right or wrong. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy," saith Holy Writ. Now, Sir, who can keep it holy by gallavanting all over the country just as though the Sabbath were of no more importance than any other day in the week. John Thomas had better put on his thinking cap ere he next rushes into print.

FELIX.

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes: "I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess in lungs, and reduced to a walking Skeleton. Got a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 lbs."

Call at W. Richardson's Drug Store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all Lung Diseases. Large bottle $1.00.

Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent,

Mr. R. Howell had oats six inches in height above the ground last week. He plucked a pea-stalk on the 20th inst. which measured 11½ inches in length!

The new Mansion House sign is "fearfully and wonderfully" painted. The words "Kimberley, Ont.," appear in bold relief, thus—

KIMBERLE YONT!!

The painter deserves a leather medal.
