Tourist centre opens

The information centre is located on the south-west corner of Brock and Burns Streets and has a wealth of information on tourist attractions within Whitby, Durham Region, Ontario and the country at large.

The centre is manned by four students hired under a federal grants program and will be in operation until September.

The location is a temporary one. Whitby Town Council is expected to choose a permanent location for the information centre sometime in the fall.

New number for centre

The Distress Centre of Durham Region has changed its telephone number.

The centre's telephone numbers are now 433-1121 or 686-2366.

These numbers will now be located inside the front cover of the telephone book. The centre hopes that this service will now make their volunteers and staff more accessible to those who need it.
