Stuart—Booth

At. Paul's Church, Biggar, Sask., was the scene of an Armistice Day wedding Thursday, November 11, when Frances Dora, eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs Thomas Booth, of that place, became the bride of Mr Douglas J Stuart, second son of Mr and Mrs J H Stuart, of Traynor, Sask., and formerly of Artemesia. The ceremony was performed by Rev A B C Douthwaite, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a charming gown of African brown tricolette and hat of black and old rose panne velvet trimmed with ostrich feathers. She was attended by Miss Lillian Stuart, of Seattle, Wash., sister of the bridegroom. Mr Baden Booth, a brother of the bride, was best man.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests went to the home of the bride's parents for luncheon, after which Mr and Mrs Stuart left on the Canadian National for eastern points Upon their return they will reside at Yorkton, Sask., where the bridegroom is a member of the mechanical staff of the Yorkton Enterprise.

Sea Lions Hear Submarines.

In the late months of the war some wild stories were published to the effect that the British naval authorities were training sea lions to catch German submarines. Of course, this was ridiculous, but the story was based upon a fact, and that fact has only just been revealed.

It was at the recent meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, when Sir Charles Parsons, the president, delivered an address on Science in War and Peace, says the Detroit Free Press. In it he described the development of the binaural hydroplane, with which submarines are located by the sound they make. Early in the game it was discovered that the first forms of these instruments were useless when the vessel bearing them was in motion or when the sea was rough, because the noises made by the vessel's motion and by the waves drowned the noise of the submarines. This is where the sea lions came in.

Sir Richard Paget, the eminent biologist, made experiments to learn how far these interesting animals could hear under water and at what speed their directional hearing ceased. These proved that the directional hearing of the lions was good up to six knots an hour.

Dr. Arthur Keith informed the naval experimenters that whales' ears are too small to receive sound waves in the usual way, but that the animals' heard under water by the transmission of sound waves through the bones of the head.

Now, the whale's organ of hearing resembles the hydrophone. So the design of this was changed, and those used in the last year of the war were hollow bodies in the form of fish or porpoises, made of celluloid or varnished canvas.

Osprey Council

On November 13th a regular meeting of the Osprey Council was held at Singhampton. The members were all present. After the adopting of the minutes of the previous meeting the following accounts were ordered to be paid: Municipal World, accounts of $3 48 and $7 15 for stationery; Wm Heitman, 75c for cartage on machine gun; Mrs D McMillan, gravel account $8 50; D Wood, gravel account 75c; A C McDonald, $80.00 for cement for bridge on 20th sideroad.

Bylaw No 681 to pay school rates, school debentures, telephone and drainage debentures and county rate for the year 1920 was read the required number of times, signed and sealed.

Ross—Arnott—That on the petition of certain ratepayers of the Municipality of Osprey for electrical power and light, that this Council request the Hydro Commission to make the necessary estimates under Part 2 of the Power Commission Act, to provide power and light to municipalities.

Arnott—Ross—That the Reeve be paid the sum of $20.00 for time and mileage in connection with the drainage system of this township.

Kaitting—Arnott—That the Clerk convey the appreciation of this Township Council to R. J. Ball, M. P., through whose agency a war trophy in the nature of a German Machine Gun was secured for this township.

On motion Council adjourned to meet in Maxwell on December 15th.

Winter Storage of Cars

When you store your car this winter you will drain your radiator, jack the car off the tires and put it in prepor shape for the "long winter's nap."

But don't forget your Battery. Unless kept fully charged it may freeze and frozen batteries are not worth repairing.

The "safety first" thing to do is to have us store it under proper conditions. It costs only a little, but it means that you will get your battery again in the Spring in the best possible condition. A little forethought NOW may save a repair bill or the purchase of a New Battery in the Spring.
