The new regulations governing the shooting of partridge makes it illegal to shoot these birds except between Nov. 5 and Nov. 20, and not more than ten may be killed in any one year. There are many who do not realize the change in the law regarding the shooting of partridge and that it is absolutely illegal to sell the same or other game birds. Keep the law regarding this.

The Advance had a much appreciated call one day last week from Mr. Donald Bell of Bellingham, Algoma. Mr. Bell was visiting old friends here and taking in the Toronto exhibition. A few years ago we had the pleasure of enjoying the hospitality of Mr, Bell and his estimable family when on a hunting excursion, and it was something to remember. We were very much pleased to shake his hand once more.

Rod and Gun in Canada, the popular Canadian sportsman's monthly magazine, appears in a new and improved form with its September issue. The improvement include a larger size of page together with a coated paper that adds considerably to the appearance of the stories and illustrations. The number is rich with stories, articles and anecdotes dealing with wild life in the various parts of the Dominion. Published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

The Shelburne motor bandit episode, published in this issue as taken from the Free Press, has much interest for some Flesherton autoists who were coming up from Erin on the Sunday night in question. When this side of Melancthon a car stopped in the road in front of them and asked them to halt. Mr. Charles Richardson, who was driving, as did Mr. Berry, instead of complying took to the ditch and shoved on the juice, making his getaway. Pity these human vermin cannot be exterminated. But then all nature, animate and inanimate, has its parasites.

Cream Testing Work

Do the farmers of Ontario know just what has been done in the matter of the Cream and Milk Purchase Act? An inspector was around last week and handed the following information to the Department of Agriculture, Markdale. The regulations which are the most important are: Every person purchasing cream or milk on the basis of its butter fat content shall keep or cause to be kept until 10 o'clock of the following day on which the tests are made a sufficient quantity of the original unchanged sample of such milk or cream as is required for the purpose of a retest. If the purchaser uses composite samples sufficient must be kept for ten days for retest. Records must be kept of the reading of all tests. The purchaser shall at the time of settlement be required to furnish each patron with a statement as to weight and test; and when payment is based on weight and test of each can or single delivery a detailed statement as to tests and weights of the various lots of cream being paid for shall be furnished at the time of settlement. If the seal on a can has been broken in transit the receiver shall at once notify the seller or farmer of the same.

Died At Brampton

Mr. John Hales, an old and respected resident of Flesherton, was found dead of heart failure in his bed at Brampton on Monday morning. He had been working on the Provincial highway at that point during the summer. The remains were brought up on Tuesday and interment took place from the home of his daughter, Mrs. A. Sinclair, Ceylon, to Flesherton cemetery, on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased gentleman leaves a family of three sons and two daughters—Will and Charley of Weston and Harmon in the West: Mrs. P. Norris of Drummer, Sask., and Mrs. Archie Sinclair at Ceylon. Mr. Hales was 72 years of age. His wife predeceased him several years ago.

Butter By New Method

The Durham Chronicle says: "A nearby farmer has a novel method of doing the family churning. That was one of the hated chores of long ago, and it had to be done before breakfast Times have changed, the drudgery has been eliminated, and the hated monotony has now become a labor of love. The same old churn will do, but it must be more than half full of cream. During the operation the lid must be screwed down and the whole contraption bolted to the bottom of a car; a Ford will do. Now everything is ready and after running four miles and back over any part of the new county road between here and Hanover the work will be done and the dairymaid may skim off the butter. We can't vouch for the success of the work, but pass it on to those who have the churn, the cream, the car and the courage to try out the experiment. We are told that the car should not travel at the rate of more than six miles an hour, as the agitation will be excessive and the butter is liable to be too soft and lacking in fibre."
