Constipation

Is a universal and most troublesome disorder. It causes Headache, Mental Depression, impairs the Sight and Hearing, destroys the Appetite, and, when long continued, causes Enlargement of the Liver, Inflammation of the Bowels, and Piles. Constipation is speedily cured by Ayer's Pills.

"For a number of months I was troubled with Costiveness, in consequence of which I suffered from Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, and a disordered liver. My eyes also troubled me. I was compelled to wear a shade over them, and, at times, was unable to bear exposure to the light. I was entirely three boxes of Ayer's Pills. I have no hesitation in pronouncing this medicine to be the best cathartic ever made.—James Eccles, Poland, Ohio.

CURED BY USING

"I suffered from Constipation, and consequent pains from Headache, Indigestion, and Piles, for years. Ayer's Pills, which I took on the suggestion of a friend, have given me effectual relief. I commenced using them only two months ago, and am now free from Constipation, the result which has caused my other troubles to disappear, and greatly improved my general health.—W. Keeler, Andover, Mass.

"I suffered from Constipation, which assumed such an obstinate form that I feared it would cause a stoppage of the bowels. Two boxes of Ayer's Pills cured me completely."—D. Burke, Saco, Me.

Ayer's Pills,

Prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Medicine.

LINDSAY, FRIDAY, OCT. 7, 1887.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

HOME AND FOREIGN ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Gathered from the Telegraph and Exchanges.

P. D. Sullivan and Wm. O'Brien have been released from publishing of the preceding and continued league branches.

The [illegible] two boys were suffocated and [illegible] others partially overcome by gas [illegible] mine at Ashland, Pa., on Saturday.

Kaba [illegible], a West African potentate, has asked [illegible] of his subjects to enforce an order which he had issued against trading.

[illegible] night at Mitchell, Dakota, the house of Dr. De[illegible] barn, Carswell barn and pitch on [illegible] of horses, including Rod[illegible]'s running horse.

[illegible] from Sugar Lake state that immense [illegible] have been raging during the [illegible] in the vicinity of Gaspe which have proved very destructive.

In [illegible] raisins apricots are to be made [illegible]. Experiment shows that they make a richly flavored wine, clear and effervescent as the best champagne.

[illegible] of four hundred and eighty eight Chinese [illegible] to Canada in one year by organized methods three hundred and fifty are reported to be doing well. This is a good [illegible].

Without awaiting the result of the judicial enquiry the German government has [illegible] an indemnity to the widow of the gamekeeper who was shot on the French frontier.

Lord Polworth sold five gimmers from the famous Merton flock of border Leicesters to Mr. Whitelaw of Ontario. The sheep are of excellent quality and will likely figure conspicuously at Canadian shows.

It may be interesting to most persons sometime in their lives to know that a barrel filled with water of overturned will support as many persons as can get their heads upon the gunwale if they behave quietly.

Protests against the holding of elections for the repeal of the Scott act have been sent to the minister of justice by the temperance electors of the county of Stanstead, Quebec, and the Scott act association of Guelph.

M. Schnaebele, jun., who was arrested for crossing into German territory and affixing a reward placard on a tree near the French frontier has been found guilty and sentenced to three weeks' imprisonment. The lightness of the sentence is on account of the prisoner being only sixteen years of age.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt in addressing a meeting of liberals at Lewes on Thursday denounced the Salisbury government's policy in Ireland as base and brutal. The course of the ministry was revolting to the free people of England, who would not long endure to see the sister country so maltreated. The tories aimed to maintain their privileges by force. The liberals offered freedom, conciliation and self government to Ireland. He hailed the prospect of the contest soon reaching a climax. He did not doubt that home rule would win.

—In the Northwest the male population far exceeds that of the female, and the consequence is there are not enough women to supply the demand for wives. Another very annoying thing in this state of affairs is that many young men who wish wives and cannot get them in the Northwest are unable to pay their way to the eastern provinces and run the risk of getting married while down. To overcome this difficulty the agent of the C. P. R. at Kildonan Road, Mr. Lewis, has devised a scheme to assist the forlorn young men. He has organized the C. P. R. property into lots with the intent the "Matrimonial Journey" shall be a Marriage Certificate, the condition of which is that if a young man comes over from the Northwest with the intention of securing a wife and succeeds a rebate of his railway fare will be given and the fare of his bride carried free. This should be an inducement, surely.

—Surveyors who are subdividing the townships near Lake Nipissing, preparatory to their being opened for settlement, report very favorably on the quality of the land.

—General Booth is planning a salvation army campaign for Zealand and South Australia. He has issued a call for five thousand officers to be trained to go around as missionaries. Thousands promptly responded to the call.

—At the Elgin assizes last Friday the grand jury threw out the indictment of manslaughter against Conductor Spettigue of the ill-fated Port Stanley train, which was wrecked and burned at St. Thomas on July 15th, causing great loss of life. He is to be tried on another indictment.

—The Boston World says: A Stayner constable was refused admittance to the local fair. He asked County Attorney Cotter asking if he had not authority to enter the grounds. Cotter answered certainly he had if he paid. The two messages and the admission cost him 72 cents.

—A baby farm was discovered near Rochester, N. Y., the other day by a newspaper reporter. Two children were dead and were little better than skeletons, while two who were living had every appearance of being almost starved. The woman in charge has been arrested and sent up for trial.

—A pamphlet has been circulated in Petersburg announcing that the reorganization of the nihilists has been fully successful, and that the centres of action are amply provided with everything requisite for the carrying out of their plans. Nihilism is fast spreading in Siberia, where, during August, forty-five guards absconded and twenty-three prisoners escaped.

—Navigation on the St. Lawrence between Prescott and Quebec has been stopped for the past week by the dense smoke from bush fires, and the two forwarding companies doing business at Kingston are completely blocked. Bush fires have also done immense damage in the Upper Ottawa district and along both sides of the Lievre river.

—In a letter from Wadelai, dated April 17, Emin Pacha declares that he will not return with Stanley. He says: "I have passed twelve years here and have succeeded in reconquering nearly every station in the country which General Gordon entrusted to me. I have won the trust and confidence of the people, sowing the seed of a splendid future civilization. It is out of the question to ask me to leave. All that I want England to do is to make a free trading way to this coast."

—At Ottawa on Friday night the salvation army had what they called "the procession of the ten virgins," that number of women walking, five with lighted and five with unlighted torches, all being dressed in what appeared to be a burlesque of a Catholic girl's costume for her first communion. The show caused a good deal of comment, and Saturday night when the army procession without the virgins was near the post-office a large crowd assembled and hooted and jeered them to such an extent that they retreated in short order.

—Sir West Ridgeway, the head of the Afghan boundary commission, has an important article in the Nineteenth Century, declaring that the demarcation has been satisfactorily carried out and that there is a reasonable hope of the durability of the status quo. He ridicules a Russian invasion of India, speaks in the highest terms of the Russian officers and quotes a remark of a diplomatist that the advance of Russia through Central Asia has been like a knife gliding through butter, but has now met the hard side of the dish.

—Almost every day accidents from exploding lamps, causing loss of life and property, are reported in the daily papers. In a majority of cases the difficulty arises from inferior oil. Manufacturers of kerosene oil say that all lamps are safe with good oil and that the quality of the oil can be ascertained by the following test: Take a pint tin cup, fill it nearly full of water warmed so that an ordinary thermometer immersed in it will show one hundred and twenty degrees, pour a small quantity of oil on the water, stir it a little, then pass a lighted match quickly but closely over the surface of the oil once; if it ignites the oil is unsafe. If purchases be made of from three to five gallons at a time and this test be made people can protect themselves.

—A few nights ago a young man named Robert Elliott, living in Nassageweya with his brother George, went out coon hunting in a bush below Haltonville. They had treed a coon and went to work to cut the tree down. Robert took the first turn and after he had chopped his half he sat off to one side in a squatting position, holding the dog between his knees, while his brother finished the cutting. Before felling the tree the brother gave warning and the answer came "all right." But it so happened that in the fall the tree struck a sapling, which turned it from its course and caused it to strike the young man on the head, killing him instantly. He was found in exactly the position he was in before he was struck, but with his head fallen a little forward.

—Here is an item of interest to bee men. Mr. G. L. Pearson of Clarksburg, Ont., gives the following interesting account of what he has done with bees: "Last season at this time I had 63 colonies that I went into winter quarters with; I lost four by being queenless, which left me 59 to begin spring work with. Commenced swarming the 13th of June and finished the 14th of July. Have now on hand 115 colonies, all in first class condition; have sold ten swarms, gave two away, in all 127; received 2,000 lbs. of extracted honey and 400 lbs. of comb honey in one pound sections and boxes. I have sold all this season's crop, the extracted at 10 cents, with the exception of the last 1,000 lbs., which was sold for 9½ cents, the comb in sections at 12½c. and the comb in boxes at 10c." After paying all expenses he has a clear profit of $520 80 for his season's work, valuing the colonies at $295.

—A London cable says: Whenever a breeze is stirred up on the Franco-German frontier, a thing that often occurs, it is assumed that France is in danger of German invasion, the presumption being that the German government is only awaiting a pretext, however slight, to make march an army into the French capital, and that France is quaking with fear lest Germany may be provoked too far. All this sounds very well, and no doubt many people not Germans would like to see it come to pass; but there are others who believe Germany doesn't want to fight. These persons see in the tirades of the German press against France and Frenchmen, and the appeals to the government to redress real or fancied wrong committed by agents and servants of the republic, not a desire to take up arms against France, but fear that France may suddenly decide to take an aggressive step against Germany. That antipathy war between France and Germany is certain nobody doubts; but it is scarcely probable that the hostile declaration will be made by the latter. France of to-day is not the France of 1870 by any measure. Germany, with all her power and the prestige that still clings to her as the victor in the last war, is not the country to measure swords with a power of which second strength she knows little or nothing, or whose military resources she knows to be greater than her own. Opportunity never to recover has passed for Germany, a great deal of chance slipped within the last three years, and, in truth, the country may be out of France, but the question of glory in the sword of Germany is hardly so sure as it was before the war, for some time to come.

—The Supreme Court of Canada has given judgment in the case of the Queen vs. Robert Farrow, which will have a great bearing upon the settlement of the long standing Canadian fisheries difficulty. It appears that the crew of the fast two-masted schooner Adelaide, while in Canadian waters, had in their possession a quantity of herring, which they had taken in American waters, and the question of the Court was, could the Canadian crew, in Canadian waters, be molested for having in their possession herring taken in American waters? The Court decided that both governments are determined that the other shall not develop to serious proportions. If necessary it is fair to the American vessel, which contains the Canadian crew, to make concessions. The Supreme Court of the United States has only recently given a decision in favor of the Canadian contention, and it would be a very unfortunate thing if the Canadian Government should now decide against the American contention.

—Spurious money is now being passed over North Carolina. On Wednesday, tracing through the clouds of bogus bills, it was found that at the rate of thirty-five million an hour and counterfeit it would dip down and sweep away trees and fences.

—George A. Harrington, a pupil at the Oak Grove seminary, Vassalboro, Maine, became so weak and sick in his studies and did not like the food provided, that the boarding house. A small boy perished in the flames. Harrington, who has been induced to confess his crime, is fifteen years of age.

—Mr. Walton Smith, the Quebec prison inspector, states that in his opinion the prison cannot be just closed in Toronto when that the common gaols in Canada and the United States require great improvement, principally in the classification of the prisoners and in providing hard labor, the latter being at present merely a farce in many gaols.

—Two young belles appeared at a Boston dinner a few days ago with serpents apparently tattooed on their arms instead of bracelets, and a circle of strawberries and strawberry leaves around the neck, exquisitely done both as to drawing and color, and producing a striking effect. Though it resembled tattooing it was, of course, some this substance excellently painted and made to adhere to the skin.

MIDLAND DISTRICT NOTES.

—Burglars have been operating a "scare" at Norwood. Tuesday morning the residents of that village awoke to discover that three stores, that of Messrs. Phillips Bros., P. W. Reynolds and T. Frazer, had been burglarized. Each store supplied about an equal amount of booty for the bold burglars. Six or seven dollars in cash, a few jack-knives, razors and other items of hardware, three or four dozen silk handkerchiefs and some wearing apparel was the extent of the burglary.

—The Stirling News says: It will be remembered that some time ago Dr. McCrea of Campbellford bargained with several farmers in this vicinity for the purchase of their farms and also for the opening up of a supposed coal mine. The doctor failed to find coal in as large quantities as he anticipated and so ceased working it and now having no use for the farms abovementioned he called on the expectant farmers one day last week and released his claims in each respective case. He is also going to fill in the coal mine. So the farmers who expected to soon move off got left, as did also the doctor, who by the way has paid out about $400 in the speculation. Some of our citizens who were calculating to procure their winter supply of coal from the new mine got left too, so altogether it has been quite a sell.

—The first decision under the new libel act of 1887 was given by Mr. Justice Armour in the case of Egan vs. Miller, from Severn Bridge. The action was brought by a clergyman against the defendant for damages for libel contained in a letter over the defendant's signature, which was published in the Gravenhurst Banner. Under section four of the act a motion was made in chambers before vacation on behalf of the defendant for security for costs from plaintiff, and the order was granted. Mr. Aylesworth appealed from that order on the ground that the act was passed for the protection of newspaper proprietors, and its benefits could not be claimed by the defendant, a private individual in full possession of the facts, who was not on the staff of the newspaper. Mr. Kean supported the order. The learned judge reversed the order on the grounds taken, deciding that the act was passed for the benefit of newspaper men only.

EVERY DAY TOPICS.

They were talking of death, when one man asked, "What were his last words?" "He didn't say anything," was the reply. "That's just like him," said the first man, with an approving nod. "There was no gas about him. He was all business."
