Fires. On Monday morning last about one o'clock, a stable on Kent street belonging to Mr Samuel Walker was completely destroyed together with two horses and other contents. Loss $700. Insured for $400. On Tuesday morning about 2 o'clock p.m. Mr Nicholls' hotel at Fenelon Falls was set on fire in the room of the north east corner, but was extinguished before much damage was done.

Mount Assumpta. The assembly of Tuesday night was the largest ever held in the Opera House. Dancing commenced shortly after eight o'clock and was kept up till the next morning. Plenty of good refreshments were provided and served in the Council Chamber. Everything went off to the satisfaction of all present.

Change of Proprietors in Opera. The Post Driver who lately carried the mails between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls, informed us a few days ago that he was about to retire from the business, and that Messrs Ward and Bryan, of Opera, had purchased the stages, horses, &c., and would continue the business. We understand that the new firm are well qualified to carry on the business to the satisfaction of the public, and we hope they will receive a share of patronage.

Fresh Fish. If a new paper, I may know how to conduct it, I must tell you "all about" the Lindsay Curling Club's new quarters, which pay every subscriber who pay up arrears a paper free for one year, the most built within it, and seek information in conduct and manner. All newspapers have more or less one, and it is impossible to please them all, but we have heard enough to know that the majority of our friends are enthusiastic "Kerlers."

Change of Proprietors in Opera. The Post Driver who lately carried the mails between Lindsay and Fenelon Falls, informed us a few days ago that he was about to retire from the business of Opera in company of Rev Mr Stafford. We understand the stages, horses, &c., have been purchased by the gentlemen named, and they will continue the business. We understand that Rev Mr Stafford intends to take up his residence in Fenelon Falls, and we hope he will be well patronized, as we know he is a gentleman in every respect, and will do his share to build up the village. We understand that Rev Mr Stafford intends to preach in Fenelon Falls every Sabbath for some time to come, but more anon.

Victoria Railway. We are happy to be able to inform our readers that the Victoria Railway Company purchased two engines, fifty box cars, flat cars and four of five passenger and combination coaches, which will be placed on the line about the first of March next and run regularly.

Professional. In our advertising columns this week will be found the professional card of Dr. C. L. Coulter, who has opened an office on Russell street, one door west of Dr. Fuller's. The Doctor has lots of friends in Lindsay and having had an extensive hospital experience, we predict for him a good practice and wish him success.

Observer. A paper out west has the following notice: "All notices of marriage when no bride cake is sent will be set up in small type, and poked into an outlandish corner of the paper. When a handsome piece of cake is sent the notice will be put conspicuous in large letters, when gloves or other bridal favors are added, a piece of poetry will be given in addition. When, however, the editor attends at the ceremony in person, and kisses the bride, it will have special notice, very large type and the most beautiful poetry, that one staffman wrote or shall. N.B. Complimentary allusions to ugly hogs, or any personal charges, to cause a line extra.

Concert. The Snow Shoe Club, with commendable enterprise, intend holding a concert on Wednesday evening next, both the proceeds of which are to be distributed among the poor. They have spared no trouble and have secured a rather good programme. Colonel Deacon will occupy the chair, and it is to be hoped that the Club will be liberally supported in their efforts to aid the worthy poor. Fun following will very likely be the programme.

DISTRICT NEWS.

OAKWOOD

Correspondence of The Warder.

Fenelon Falls was all alive in Wednesday morning, 17th inst., by the receipt of a wedding party. In a short time the Methodist church was almost filled, and after the Superintendant, J. W. Savage had performed the ceremony, Mr. Donald Sinclair, of Cambray, and Miss Mary Ann Jane Rachel, daughter of Mr. John Jordan of Mariposa, followed by a long string of carriages and sleighs to the residence of the bride's father, where some fifty persons were sumptuously entertained. Thus was certainly one the gayest and liveliest events of the season.

HEAD LAKE

Correspondence of The Warder.

On Monday last a tea for the benefit of the Sabbath School, was given in the school house, and was very successful. The attendance was larger than was expected, and the entertainment pleased all present. The music by the choir was excellent. Miss English presiding at the organ. This being the first entertainment of the kind given here, it proved profitable and is likely to be succeeded by several more of a similar character. All parties taking part in it deserve great praise for the able manner in which the entertainment was carried out. In the evening an election took place for a make between two ladies, one representing Mr. Mackenzie and the other Sir John A. Macdonald. The representative of Sir John won by a few votes, which goes to show that Head Lake cannot be the core. The amount realized was large.

WOODVILLE.

Correspondence of The Warder.

Entertainments seems to be the principal thing here just now. Last Thursday the Good Templars had a Neck Tie Social for the purpose of getting better acquainted, that is the boys with the girls. I wonder what they did for they did not allow an outsider to put his head inside unless it was one or two well-trained ones, but I suppose we all will know as the Dunkin Act is to be carried soon.

Next night came Professor Johnson's benefit, which was well patronized, and I believe all enjoyed themselves. I notice that the talent from Lindsay did their part well. We have not time to particularize, but the lady singers did their part remarkably well, Mrs. McFaddan being encored the second time on "Happy as a King."

Grain trade is very brisk here, our buyers being determined to have grain, the prices are kept up well.

Now, I trust Mr. Editor that our Deputy Reeve, or anybody else, will say that these entertainments had not ought to take place, and that the Council will keep a sharp look out this year, as the people do not want the roads gravelled in the winter time. 1096

LITTLE BRITAIN

Correspondence of The Warder.

I suppose you will be accusing me of negligence for the past month in not communicating to The Warder from here. Well the fact of the matter is there was not much occurring, save the annual recurrence of church anniversaries which were duly held in the Wesleyan and Bible Christian Churches, respectively, and as far as I learned the attendance was all that could be desired.

At the annual meeting of ratepayers in S. S. No. 8, Dr. Vroeman was elected Trustee in room of Mr. John Sailes, whose term of office had expired. Mr. John Kelley was appointed Auditor.

In connection with school matters a lively time is expected. More school room is required while some favor an addition to the present school house, others wish to erect a second one in the north part of the section, the present one is so near as can be say, within a few rods, of the centre of the section, which the advocates of enlargement claim is most fair to all parties. A meeting is called for the 30th inst. to ascertain the views of the people when as I have before stated lively times may be expected.

Miss Sarah Ellen Sailes presided at the organ in the Methodist Church on Sabbath last on account of the absence of Miss Annie Hay.

"A VOICE FROM CANADA."

FATHER STAFFORD TO FATHER NUGENT

From the Liverpool Catholic Times, Dec. 15, 1876.

Father Nugent has received a vigorous letter from the Canadian apostle, Father Stafford, who was recently in England. We give some extracts, which are very strong, because the writer feels strongly.

It is Monday night. The hour is eight. Outside the snow is falling—it falls in Canada at this season—like flakes. Inside, I am sitting here by my bright wood fire thinking of Liverpool and your League meeting. Time is ripe now and the lay. All thoses honest, earnest, bright faces, that I saw a month ago are there, all looking up towards you and your fellow laborers on the platform. I think I see them all there, full of enthusiasm, devotion, and loyalty, cheering you on and cheering each other. I am after spending my whole Sunday at home, and it nearly a month since I parted from you. If ever I get back to Ireland again, I hope and trust it will be to see you and your fellow laborers crowned with laurels of triumph.

Of victory over the greatest curse that has ever fallen on the world. I am confident the day is fast approaching when you will call out, with a voice resembling "the roaring sounding water of the sea," "Away with that traffic. Down with the manufacture and sale of ardent spirits! Away with the drink houses! Let the people be emancipated, let their chains be broken, let the free daughters of Erin "remember the days of old" and return and be seated on the high throne of virtue from which so long have been hurled by the many-headed demon called drink.

Do you know, my dear Father Nugent, there is something terrible about this whole traffic—something that requires to be looked at—probed into—investigated—scrutinized in all its bearings and to its very depths. Strip it naked and hold it up, shivering in the light—one searching glance of the world at it will make it shrink into its place.

What is the traffic? Let us see. We find a contract between two parties. These two parties—these two high contracting parties—are the "Licensed Victuallers" on the one part and the Government on the other. The Licensed Victuallers! How have they come by that name? A victualler is one who provides victuals. Is beer, wine, brandy, gin or whiskey, or all together, victuals? If all the truth been in them they would have called themselves the Licensed Victimisers—or Licensed Vampires. They make victims—they live on people's blood—they suck the very blood out of the children by depriving them of the food that makes blood, but let us call them victuallers for the present. They are licensed! By whom? By the State. The Government gives them permission to sell intoxicating liquors. In other words, the Government gives the licensed victuallers the right to cause three-fourths of the crime in England—the right to rob the poor and keep them poor and in slavery—the right to rob wives of their husands and husbands of their wives—the right to rob parents of their children and the child of its father and mother—the right to rob women of their chastity—the right to build prisons, poor houses, penitentiaries, lunatic asylums, reformatories, and to fill them with their victims—the right to fill the land with blasphemy and infidelity—the right to invoke the name of Christian ceremonies with that of drunkard among heathen nations—the right to send up from your kingdom alone, each year, before the throne of the Almighty, the wail of 60,000 lost souls. The price paid each year for the privilege to do this dreadful work of death; is the sum of $150,000,000.

My dear Father—there is something rotten in this state of things. The Government have no right to give this license. It is contrary to the natural law. The natural law requires that we should live honestly, hurt nobody, and render to every man his due. The common law declares no man has a right to use his property to the injury of another, and that the consent of the party injured is no mitigation of the offence (see the great Blacketone.) I say nothing about the Divine law. In the Day of Judgment you will not have to answer for this; neither will Cardinal Manning, neither will all those who are working to destroy this mystery of iniquity; but in that day the Licensed Victuallers and their licensers will have an account to render. Woe be to us unless we tell them so.

My dear Father—I bid you good-bye. God be with you to strengthen you, but my heart is so full of pain and grief at the sight of all the misery of our people I feel it hard to stop. Tell your men I have told my people what they are doing. It cheers them on. The news of every victory gives them fresh courage. The Bishop of Ferns, Wexford, has created the younger in Enniscorthy. His priests will all be with him. Wexford will be imitated by every county in Ireland.

COLD CHARITY.

Report writing to the "Mail" from Hamilton, says: The soup kitchen has hitherto been the best patronized hotel in town, but it must expect a falling off in patronage when its managers adopt the extraordinary expedient of compelling its patrons to run the gauntlet of a policeman's eyes, in order that if their records have any flaws in them they may be either driven or frightened from the flesh-pots. This may be all right, but it seems to me that it is the most extraordinary way of dispensing charity that could be conceived, and the brilliant originator of the idea should be awarded a medal made out of a tin soup plate. Just look at the absurdity of the proceeding. Here are a bevy of benevolent ladies—God bless 'em—boiling bones, and peas and potatoes, and things, in the name of Him who multiplied and divided the loaves and fishes amongst a promiscuous multitude, and after they have prepared their charitable dishes they give notice through the city papers that a policeman is at the door to see that no publican or sinner shall approach the charitable table. I may be cynical or irreverent, as folks say, but I can't help thinking this mighty queer charity. Shall only those who are blameless eat soup? Or can those who concoct that cheering extract guarantee that they are blameless themselves? Or is the design to save the soup? Hah! Better the crumbs of a bar-room free lunch in peace and self-respect than the delicacies of a soup kitchen with a moral sponge behind the trough and a minion of the law in the doorway.

DEADLY ASSAULT.

London, Jan. 20.—A deadly assault and robbery was perpetrated last night in London East. The victim was a small storekeeper named William Dymond. He was about to close his place of business for the night, between ten and eleven o'clock, and was entirely alone. The streets were nearly deserted, and but few people up in the village. A stranger of stout build, whose face was almost covered with a muffler entered and looked around cautiously. Dymond bid him good evening, but the other replied "I've a spite against you," and dashed at him with a wooden club, with which he dealt him several rapid and heavy blows. A desperate struggle ensued, but the ruffian being much more the powerful man soon overcame Dymond, and after belabouring him into a state of semi-sensibility produced a gag and tried to put it into his mouth. Dymond roused himself for more resistance, but owing to the blows and the loss of blood from his wounds was weak to help himself further. The gag was placed on him and his limbs were tied, when the ruffian took the sum of $80 from his person and left the shop. The affair attracted no one's attention, and after Dymond recovered his senses and the use of his legs he ran out to secure help. The gag was so firmly that he could not disengage it or cry out so he knocked at the neighbors' doors alternately until he at last found assistance. He presented a shocking spectacle, being covered with blood. The force with the strength took place was displayed in his gory face with blood. As soon as Dymond's condition was ascertained he was conveyed home and medical aid procured. His head and face were ghastly wounds, and the injuries due to the ruffian's cowardly. Several persons engaged in chasing a suspicious looking man who was seen in the fields at the time of the occurrence. Some persons were about in the neighborhood at the time and neither saw nor heard Dymond's cries or the subsequent affair. Some very strange thoughts of it. The locality has been actively engaged in the case and seems to secure the culprit. A man in a drunken condition was found with two feet long, and it was said had been found in a vacant lot. It was, no doubt the weapon used. Dymond is still very low, being naturally of a delicate constitution.

SOUTH VICTORIA AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of this Society was held on Wednesday afternoon the 17th inst., and up to the time of going to press we were unable to give more than the names of the officers elected. The following report was read:

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

The Directors of South Victoria Agricultural Society beg to report that the number of members for the year 1876 were 146, being less by 18 than in the previous year. Of the 146, 62 were residents of the Town of Lindsay, 63 of other municipalities of the South Riding of Victoria, and 21 beyond the limits of the Riding. At the two shows held in the spring and fall respectively the various prizes awarded amounted to $353, of which the sum of $31 was awarded to residents of the town of Lindsay, $271 to residents of other parts of the Riding, and $31 to persons residing beyond the Riding. The receipts at the spring show were $31.95, being $1.92 over those of 1875, and at the fall show $190.70, an increase of $8.70. Much money-matters and dissatisfaction having been experienced on former occasions owing to the rules respecting the time of making entries and receiving articles for exhibition, having been relaxed in favor of certain individuals, it was resolved at the late fall show that the rules and regulations should be carried out with honesty and impartiality, and the Directors are happy to report that although a few intending exhibitors may have suffered disappointment, the convenience of the judges as well as that of the exhibitors and visitors was greatly increased.

In the early part of last year the Directors of the North Riding of Victoria Agricultural Society expressed a wish to hold a united plowing match, but in view of the approaching Central Fair it was considered better to husband our resources for the latter purpose.

The grounds and buildings of this Society, being acknowledged to be altogether inadequate for present as well as future purposes, the attention of the Directors has been directed to the selection of other property. The first site selected was a park lot belonging to Mr. Michael Deane; but as the offer to sell was immediately withdrawn it was necessary to look elsewhere. After receiving several offers and making the most careful enquiry, the Directors purchased one of the property of Mr. William Grace, known as the cricket ground. But in order to make the grounds available for exhibition purposes it was necessary to induce the Town Council to grant to the Society a certain street which had not hitherto been used as a thoroughfare. This after much opposition the Council very reluctantly consented to do, Mr. Grace having purchased land for another street in lieu of that to be closed.

It is to be regretted that the display of productions from this county at the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia was not as good as it might have been had the collection been undertaken at an earlier date. The articles sent, however, it is satisfactory to know, were well spoken of.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

A good deal of discussion took place about the purchase of suitable grounds for the Society, many of the members being opposed to the purchase of Mr. Grace's lot. The above report was adopted after striking out the clause having reference to the purchase of Mr. Grace's lot. The Society then elected the following officers and directors:—President, Mr. John Connelly; 1st Vice-President, Mr. Thos. Thompson; 2nd Vice-President, Mr. W. L. Russell; Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. James Keith. Directors—Emily, Messrs. A. McQuade, M.P., and Dennis Scully; Mariposa, Messrs. Geo. Brown and John A. Mason; Verulam, Messrs. Alex. Robinson and P. N. Murdoch; Ops, Messrs. Thos. Ray and A. Walker; Lindsay, Capt. Deacon, Mr. S. Wilson! received the unanimous vote of the Society, as representative to the Provincial Agricultural and Arts Association, for the Newcastle district. Auditors—Messrs. J. Cooper and R. Gregory, re-elected.

Consumption Cured!

An old physician, retired from active practise, having had placed in his hands by an East India Missionary the formula of a Vegetable Remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all Throat and Lung Affections; also a Positive and Radical Cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints, after having thoroughly tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, feels it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive, and a conscientious desire to relieve human suffering, he will send FREE OF CHARGE, to all who desire it, this recipe, with full directions for preparing and successfully using. Sent by return mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper.

CATARRH.

Five Years' Sickness Cured by Four Bottles of Constitutional Catarrh Remedy.

Pain in Shoulders, Back and Lungs, and Droppings in Throat Disappear.

ST. ARMAND, P.Q., Sept. 12, 1876.

MR. I. J. B. HARDING:

DEAR SIR:—Being desirous that others may know something of the merits of your CONSTITUTIONAL CATARRH REMEDY, I wish to inform you what it has done for me. I am twenty-nine years old; had been out of health for about five years. I had employed three or four different doctors, and tried various medicines, without receiving any permanent benefit, but continued rather to grow worse until last fall, when I had become so bad as to be unable to do an hour's work at a time. Had severe soreness and pain under the shoulder blades and through the shoulders, with very lame back, and a feeling in my right lung as though there was a weight bearing it down, with continual dropping in the throat and down upon the lungs. Such was my condition when I commenced to take your Catarrh Remedy, one bottle of which eased my pains and gave me an improved appetite, and after taking four bottles I was restored to health so as to be able to endure hard and continued labor, such as chopping and clearing land, as which I have been engaged the past season. My recovery I attribute solely, with God's blessing, to the use of your Catarrh Remedy.

Yours truly, HENRY SNIDER.

Prices $1 per bottle. For sale by all Druggists.
