We have received a neat little book, entitled Johnson's Canadian School Shorthand. It is the most simple system we have ever examined, and from a perusal of it we would judge that it is destined to become, if not an authorized text book on the subject, at least an accepted authority. It is much easier learned and practiced than either Pitman, Graham or Munson, and having been invented by an old newspaper man it bears in some degree the stamp of practicability. The book is very neatly lithographed and is sold at the low price of 25 cents. Address G.W. Johnson, head master Central School, Hamilton.

Fan us!

Adjourned Garden Party.

The adjourned garden party which was held on Mr. Armstrong's beautiful grounds last Friday evening was highly successful, although the gathering was not quite so large as desirable. The place was decorated with Chinese lanterns, and looked very handsome. The band was present and added much to the pleasure. We think ourselves that Mr. Armstrong should be tendered the heartfelt thanks of the Methodist people for so freely giving the use of his residence and grounds twice in one summer for the purpose of a garden party.

The Toronto Industrial Fair.

The directors of the fair, which is to be held this year from the 9th to the 21st September are already actively at work making preparations for the same, and appear determined to make it excel in magnitude and attractiveness any of its predecessors. Hill, the manager, at Toronto. A large amount has again been appropriated by the directors for new special attractions, and the erection of additional buildings, etc.

Wedded.

On Tuesday evening, at the residence of the brides mother, Artemesia, By Rev. J. Walker Shilton, B. A., Mr. Frederick G. Karstedt, of Flesherton, to Miss Minnie Down, Artemesia.

The interesting ceremony was performed on the lawn of the brides mother, where a very large company of friends and relatives of the contracting parties were assembled. The groom was supported by Mr. Bristol Evans, of Flesherton, and the bride by Miss Hannah Karstedt, of Toronto. The presents were numerous and handsome. After the ceremony an elegant supper was provided, and the remainder of the evening was spent in music and games, the company dispersing at quite a late hour. Congratulations of The Advance attend the happy couple.

The Cheeky Manufacturer.

A cheeky manufacturer of Buffalo offers us $10 worth of shoe blacking in exchange for an advertisement. As we do not anticipate entering into the shoe-blacking industry, and our family being limited, the chances are that our great great grand children would reap the largest share of the profits out of that advertisement. Anyhow the present straitened condition of our circumstances prevents us from providing for our prospective progeny. Just at present we are economizing as much as possible on shoe blacking, and have even persuaded ourselves and family that it is a needless luxury. We do not desire to disabuse their minds yet awhile, and are therefore tearfully compelled to refuse the contract. What do these people take country editors for, anyway. We have already during the past year been offered half of a windmill, six dozen bottles of patent medicine, half of a sewing machine, plants, flowers, seeds, and other merchandise too numerous to mention, in exchange for advertising. We would like these enterprising individuals to understand, once for all, that we are no haberdashery store, and if we are married we are able to pay cash for all such luxuries as patent medicines and anti-wagon rattlers.
