women wore leg-of-mutton sleeves and ostrich plumes . . . and during the same period men first began smoking Wilson's Bachelor cigars. The "furbelows" have long since been discarded but, today, more men are smoking Wilson's Bachelors —100% Havana filler—than any other ten cent cigar in Canada.

A Night in Bachelor's Hall

They've gone away! It seems a year,
Aye, weeks of years, since they were here.
And yet it was but yesterday
I kissed them when they went away;
Away from all the scorching heat
That grips this brick-walled city street.
And it was I who bade them go,
Though, she, dear heart, protested so,
And vowed I'd find no joy at all,
Nor any peace, in Bachelor's Hall.
I laughed at that, but she was right;
I never knew a sadder night
Than this, while thus I tread alone,
These silent halls I call my own.
I never thought this place could change
So utterly, and seem so strange.
The night is hot and yet a chill
Pervades the house; it is so still.
I miss the living atmosphere
That comforts me when they are here;
I miss the sigh, long drawn and deep,
The music of refreshing sleep,
That undulates the gentle breast
Of weary motherhood at rest.
And in the unaccustomed gloom
That shrouds the small adjoining room
I miss the moans, the muffled screams,
Of childhood troubles in its dreams.
O! Sing your song, all ye who roam;
Your wistful song of Home, Sweet Home,
But, though unhappy is your lot,
You will not find a sadder spot
In all the world, than Hame, when they
Who make it home have gone away.

"Do you suffer from headache?" asked a friend. "Sure I do. What else is there to do with it?"

Defender of the sex says the girls of to-day have it all over Helen of Troy or Cleopatra. The girls themselves refuse to argue the question, however. They simply admit it.

Harry—"S'awful hot to-day."

Charles—"Yeah—I feel like taking off my skin an' sitting around in my bones."

We can remember when if you gave a girl a pair of stockings for a present that was the last you were expected to see of them.

Girl's Father—"Young man, the lights in this house go out at 11 o'clock."

Young Man—"That suits me."

Everybody can give a little of what the world wants most—kindness.

A husband who is in the habit of coming home late nights with elaborate excuses says the best present to give a doubting wife is a copy of "Believe It Or Not."

A man travelling in an underground train alarmed other passengers by declaring at the top of his voice that he was Napoleon. Fortunately somebody had the presence of mind to call: "Next station, Waterloo."

Sheep Usurped by Bunnies

For many years rabbit fur has been used to adorn milady's coat. This fur has been dyed, manipulated, treated, or bleached and made to resemble the more expensive furs. Animal lovers have always deplored the death of so many rabbits to appease milady's vanity.

A rabbit has now been developed which bears a plentiful crop of "rabbit wool," and the first angora wool farm has been started near Windsor, England, by Lady Rachel Byng. An angora rabbit will supply an adverage of an ounce of wool per year in four clippings. The wool can be spun on even the old type of spinning wheel. The rabbit does not suffer when clipped, nor is it injured in any way. The wool that is produced is very silky and highly prized. It is possible that Lady Byng has started a new industry which may partially supplant sheep farming.

WHEN YOUR CHILD IS FEVFRISH

Give Him Baby's Own Tablets

The health of babies and little children is subject to rapid changes. Thus the mother must be on her guard. At the first sign of feverishness Baby's Own Tablets should be given—this may avert a serious illness.

Concerning the Tablets Mrs. Norman Lee, Uxbridge, Ont., says: "My little boy, now three years old, was not at all well. He was feverish and had no appetite. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets and he was soon well again. I would not be without the Tablets as long as there are young children in the house."

Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Latest Zoo Inmate Hard to Describe

New York—Near the animal house in the Bronx Park Zoo a small animal with brown fur that looks something like the second cousin of a dog enjoys the distinction and honor that goes with "the latest acquisition." He gazes wistfully at the large crowds and occasionally snarls defiantly to let the passer-by know he is the "only one in captivity."

When Curator Raymond L. Ditmars transferred the canine from a box from South America to a place in the zoo, he shook his head and was at a loss for words to describe him. Although the animal looked like a dog, he was more than a dog, and after inquiries into animal lore, a sign was placed on the cage bearing the words "Cerdocyn Microtis."

Paint stains can be removed from clothes by saturating the stain with equal parts of ammonia and spirit of turpentine. Repeat the process two or three times if necessary, then wash out in warm, soapy water.

A writer says that woman is the playmate and helpmate of man. And often the cheque-mate as well.

Too Much ACID

Many people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief. Please do that—for your own sake—now.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Clubs Are Planned For British Women

First Experiment Will Be Made in the Island of Cyprus

London.—A plan for assisting British professional women is now being advanced. To those working out of their own country the problem of where to live on retirement is a real difficulty. Most of them have no homes, and in many cases have no particular wish to return to England, where their problem might be even more difficult of solution.

To meet such cases as these residential clubs abroad are to be started, beginning with Cyprus. This place has been chosen because the members would be living under the British flag, in an ideal climate, free from heavy living expenses, and in a locality specially favorable to women whose lives have been spent in foreign lands. Miss Helen H. Dennison, originator of the scheme, is full of expectation of its success.

The inhabitants of Cyprus are expert at needlework, and also make honey and jams in considerable quantities. tI is proposed to co-operate with them in developing their work and selling their produce, thus affording social and mental stimulation for all concerned. These British professional women abroad are drawn from many professions, teachers, librarians, stenographers, accountants and so forth. The aim of the residential clubs is to afford them opportunity to continue working while providing them with a home and, at the same time, plenty of interesting things to occupy time and energy.

It is hoped to follow the first club in Cyprus by another in one of the Channel Islands. To join the proposed household a woman has to be over 60 years of age.

BRIGHT EYES, ROSY CHEEKS

The Birthright of Every Girl.

Dull eyes mean misery and weakness—a sure sign of a bloodless condition. Anaemic girls and women have dull, heavy eyes with dark lines underneath. The bright-eyed girl or woman is always happy and well.

There is one way to make the eyes bright—to bring the glow of health to pale cheeks—that is to invigorate the body with new blood—rich, red health-giving blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do this and they do it well. Concerning them Mrs. Robert Devitt, Brougham, Ont., says: "My daughter became so ill and nervous we had to take her out of school. She was pale and thin; her eyes were dull and the least exertion upset her. I began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in less than six months you would not know her. She gained in weight and strength and is now the picture of health."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Sun Loses Weight 250,000,000 Tons

A Pound of Sunshine, Please! —Rays that Weigh Millions of Tons a Second

For hundreds of years English-speaking folk have used expressions such as "The sunlight strikes the hilltop" without realizing that they spoke not in metaphors but of an actual fact. To strike means to deliver a blow; there can be no blow without weight behind it. But can light itself weigh anything at all?

Science has proved recently that it can and does. Sir James Jeans tells us that with a sufficiently strong light one could knock down a man.

Minute measurements have shown that a huge searchlight requiring the equivalent of fifty horsepower to operate would radiate one-twentieth of an ounce of light and heat if it were kept working continuously for a hundred years. Heat as well as light can be put into the scales and weighed. So can wireless waves or X-rays.

Every square inch of the Sun's surface is as powerful an emitter as our fifty horsepower searchlight. The candle-power of the Sun is expressed by a staggering figure—323 followed by twenty-five noughts or three thousand two hundred and thirty quadrillions. If every square inch brings out only a twentieth of an ounce of light and heat in a century, the Sun's whole surface is emitting over four million tons in each second of time!

In a single minute, outpourings of light and heat cost the Sun 250,000,000 tons of weight. An astonishing thought is that the Sun as we see him today is 360,000 million tons lighter than he was this time yesterday.

There is no nood to worry; the Sun has gone on "slimming" at this rate for thousands of millions of years, and there is enough of him left to allow him to light and heat the world for untold ages.

Horses Like Humans Fancy Cold Drinks

The season is here when the fanciers of young and old turn to long, cold drinks in glasses that tinkle musically when they move. Hot summer days without cold drinks would seem unbearable to human beings. How must it seem to horses working in the heat of the day beneath brazen skies, with, perhaps, only a drink night and morning? Many housewives, during the summer months, have greatly relieved the suffering horses by placing a card near the top on the lawn informing drivers that they may water their horses there. The watering troughs for horses in the city are too few and far between. There are localities where a horse may travel miles without getting a drink from a public trough. The Imperial Oil stations have been supplied with pails, 106 having been given out last year.

The Society will be glad to supply cards to anyone who applies for them. Will you do your bit for thirsty horses, if you have a lawn tap? And will you ask your delivery men if they carry a pail to water their horses during the day?—Humane Pleader.
