East Grey Fall Fair.

A Good Showing of Live Stock—Grain and Seed Exhibit Small, but of Good Quality—The Prize List.

For at least once in its life the Flesherton fall fair was favored with beautiful summer weather during the two days' exhibition. The attendance upon the first day was somewhat small, and the exhibits had not attained the settled and attractive appearance which they made on the second day. The exhibits inside the hall were not up to other years, but were all first class in quality. Fruit was very scarce, as also were vegetables, but the samples shown in each of these lines were good.

The Manitoba exhibit of grains, which was tastefully arranged in the hall, attracted much attention. Other special exhibits in the hall were: J. E. Moore showed a handsome set of parlor furniture; F. G. Karstedt, an exhibit of stoves; T. W. Wilson, an exceedingly handsome bedroom set in ash; M. Richardson & Co., a pretty case of silverware, in which was also shown an ancient flint lock musket taken from one of Prince Charley's followers the day after the battle of Clifton Moor, and an old sword picked up on the battlefield of Culloden. Mrs. Beecroft showed an infants dress over one hundred years old. Special exhibits outside the hall were: M. Cochrane, of Durham, mower; Beattie Bros., plows and hay carrier; J. Campaign, seed drill and binder; T. Blakely, binder.

HEARD'S CARRIAGE EXHIBIT.

Mr. J. H. Heard, Flesherton carriage works, exhibited a single and double cutter, top buggy, democrat and a lumber wagon. His exhibit was not so large as former years, owing to the fact that his time during the past season has been fully occupied in filling orders. The fine workmanship evidenced in the articles shown was the object of much admiration, and the general verdict was that Flesherton can produce anything in the line equal to the very best on this continent. Mr. Heard's business is becoming more extensive every day as his work is becoming better and better known. In this instance every article which took the first prize.

Mr. D. Murdoch, who [illegible] day, showed to [illegible] were much admired [illegible] and a speed [illegible] M. Tunbusky taking 1st and D. Moran 2nd. The base ball match on the first day may be considered somewhat as a fizzle, only two clubs having entered, Priceville and Flesherton. The former club was very late in putting in an appearance, consequently only three innings were played.

The exhibit of live stock this year was considerably larger than last, but space forbids us particularizing to any greater extent. Altogether the directors are quite satisfied with the result of the fall show of 1889. Following is the prize list:
