INGOLDSBY.

Special to The Warder.

CONGRATULATIONS to S. Hughes from the loyal people of Ingoldsby for the noble battle fought and won. Let Cartwright followers now see that britons are true and brave, we never, never will consent to sell our father's grave.

A WONDER.—It snowed some in this part of the country on the fourteenth inst. We noticed the snow being of a dark muddy color as if colored with sand or mud; we cannot explain, some think the atmosphere got so loaded with grit gas that it came back to earth with the snow to be forever buried there. Hurrah for North and South Victoria. Britons never will be slaves.

BOLSOVER.

Special to The Warder.

MR. Charles Young and his horses went through the ice on a lake north of Bracebridge. Some men happened to be close by and pulled Charley and the team out. After the ducking he drove home as fast as the horses could go. He says it will be a long time before he will go lumbering again.

MRS. Robert Bray, who has been laid up with the grippe for four weeks, we are glad to hear, is able to be up again.

MR. Richard Uncles has started a cooper shop at Munro's Corner. He will supply everything in his line good and cheap. He is preparing to supply hardwood butter tubs next summer, of the best of hardwood, cheap and good.

FIFTEEN million dollars has been left to the Dixons in the United States. Mr. William Dixon, Portage Road, is applying for his share of it. We hope he may get it.

A SOCIAL GATHERING. — On Friday evening, Feb. 19th, about fifty of the neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. Joseph Magill to make their last visit before his departure for Manitoba. After some time had been spent in parlor games the perfume of oysters went abroad and all felt that the time for renewing the physical energies had arrived. This was accomplished, though with various desires regarding the oysters. Some desired them untouched by flame, others desired them boiled, while a few desired them to be kept far away. Shortly after supper Mr. and Mrs. Magill were requested to occupy the front of the room and the following address was read and the presentation made.

Mr Magill, Mrs. Magill and family:

DEAR FRIENDS,—On the eve of your departure for Manitoba, your friends feel that they cannot let you remove from their midst without giving expression to their feelings of esteem and appreciation for you as a friend and neighbor. We would like to give expression to our regard for you, not in words only, but in a more tangible form by some token of respect for you that will in after years bring your thoughts back to us. We therefore, ask you to accept this Family Bible, as a token of friendship and esteem and that it will lead you to remember the friends you have left behind you, who wish you all success and happiness in your new home. Signed on behalf of the friends.

EMANUEL MARTIN.
WM. MONTGOMERY.
THOS. IRVINE.

In a suitable reply Mr. Magill thanked them for the handsome present, for their presence there, and also for their kindness towards them as a family. This gathering, he said, brings us to realize the fact that we are going, and must leave a place where we have spent years of such pleasant associations. In some further remarks Mr. Magill referred to the social harmony existing in the neighborhood, and ended by again thanking the friends for the beautiful present and the kind expressions towards Mrs. Magill and himself contained in the address and he hoped that Mrs. Magill would find as pleasant associates and neighbors in her new home. The games then continued until early morning, when all returned to their homes feeling that they had spent a pleasant evening, but saddened by fact that they were losing one of their best neighbors.

BUSINESS.—Murchison & Gilchrist are doing a rushing business, having undertaken to supply the wants of the Patrons of Industry of this place.

C E NOTES.—A large delegation of Glenarm's endeavorers attended the Lindsay convention and report grand, inspiring, enthusiastic meetings. Miss May Gilchrist represented the society as their voting delegate at the convention. The society conducted the services on Sabbath, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. Mr. Donald having to occupy Mr. Johnston's pulpit in Beaverton, who is unable to attend to his duties.

HAMILTON.

THE members of the Molders' Union are elated over their success in inducing non-unionists to leave the city. One night last week they saw five more off on the train, and next morning they accompanied Crozier and Smith the two men who claimed to have been assaulted, to the station and said good-bye to them. Before going Smith admitted that he had another name, not quite so common. All these men either had been actually at work in Copp's, or were engaged to start there, and their departure leaves that shop almost without hands except the apprentices. Manager Tilden, of the E. & C. Gurney Co., was absent from the city, and the molders suspect he was away looking for non-unionists. One or two other employers are also said to have gone on the same errand and the men look for an influx of strangers at any moment.

WE are having fine weather here, but very little snow, not enough to make sleighing.

THE Masons turned out in large numbers to pay to the memory of their departed brother, the late Edward Mitchell, the last tribute of respect. The funeral was under the direction of the grand lodge of Canada, of which the deceased was treasurer, and of Acacia lodge of which he was a valued and active member. All the lodges in the city were represented by large delegations and Acacia turned out almost in full strength.

"Who hath not own'd with rapture smitten frame
The power of grace, the magic of a name?"

asks Campbell, the poet, in his "Pleasures of Hope." Pleasures of hope, forsooth. Many and many a woman knows them no longer. They are in despair about their health. They are run-down, debilitated, suffering from what they know not. It may be dyspepsia, heart-disease, liver or kidney disease; any or all of them. The sicknesses of women are cured by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That's where the magic of a name comes in. This improves digestion, invigorates the system, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, produces refreshing sleep, dispels nervousness and melancholy, and builds up both the flesh and strength of those reduced below a healthy standard. It is a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no sugar or syrup to sour in the stomach and cause distress. It is as peculiar in its composition as it is marvelous in its remedial results.

PETERBORO.

THE LIQUOR CASE APPEAL.—The Cavanagh appealed liquor case came before Judge Weller at 11 o'clock this morning. Mr. Pousette, Q.C., was still unable to appear, but he was represented by Mr. W. F. Johnston and the case was proceeded with. Mr. R. E. Wood, County Crown Attorney, appeared for the prosecution. The appeal, it will be remembered, was from the judgement of the Police Magistrate giving judgment against Mr. T. Cavanagh in a liquor case as a third offence. Mr. Johnston argued for the appeal on a similar line to that advanced by Mr. Pousette, contending that the three convictions must be made in the one license year to come within the meaning of the Act as a third offence. Mr. Wood met this argument and cited several cases in rebuttal of the contention. His Honor said he thought that it was an offence against the Act and not against the license and the cases cited confirmed his opinion. He therefore dismissed the appeal with costs. Mr. Cavanagh's license lapses with the confirming of the conviction as a third offence.—Review, Saturday, Feb. 27th.

KINMOUNT.

Special to The Warder

IT IS with sorrow that we have to chronicle the death of one of our old neighbors and brother in the person of William Morgan. He died on Thursday 25th, taken from his family in the prime of life, his age was 36 years 2 months and 16 days. He was interred in the Kinmount cemetery on Sunday 28th, by the orange society of which he was a member, being a member of L.O.L. No. 1109 for many years. His funeral was the largest there has been here for many years, being well attended by the members of his lodge and also the true blue lodge of this place, and the oddfellows lodge of which he was a member. Bro. J. H. Delamere, deputy grand master of Ontario last year, and Bro. James Mortimer, county master, and Bro. Jas. Scott from Minden, attended the funeral, and the brethren from Galway lodge showed great respect to our late brother, whose memory will not be soon forgotten in his lodge or by his neighbors. The members of his lodge wish to return thanks to all for their kind attendance. At the closing of the lodge this resolution was passed: Moved by Bro. Cottingham, seconded by Bro. Swinson, that the members of L.O.L. No. 1109 hereby tender the widow of our late Bro. William Morgan and her family our sincere sympathy in their great bereavement, and we devoutly pray that He who hath promised to be a father to the fatherless and a husband to the widow, will in His gracious mercy watch over them throughout their earthly pilgrimage and bring them safe to that better land where there shall be no more sorrowing or sighing, and no more parting there, but all shall be joy and peace and the Lamb himself shall be the light thereof.

To Build a Big Paper Mill.

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 28.—The largest paper and pulp-making plant in the world is to be built on the Niagara tunnel. The Niagara Falls Paper Company will be the style of the owners. This company was formerly known as the Soo Paper Company. The company has signed a lease for 3000 horse power to be furnished this fall. The lease extends to the year 1936. As the tunnel will be completed by July, the power will be ready for them then. The plant will consist of 20 large build ings and will occupy 11 acres of ground. The cost will be about $5,000,000. This company has in contemplation the use of underground chambers for grinding purposes. The wheel pit will be 140 feet deep and 14x40 feet wide. It will be connected with the big tunnel by a tunnel 500 feet long, 10 feet high and 12 feet wide.

A Relic of Old Days.

The Peterboro Examiner of Friday, Feb. 26, says:—Mr. Charles Cameron has been dusting his book shelves, and among other literary lumber he unearthed a copy of the Cobourg Star and Newcastle General advertiser, bearing date "Cobourg (U.C.) Tuesday, Jan. 3, 1832." The paper is of eight small pages, altogether about the size of one page of the present issue of the Daily Examiner. There is of course no telegraphic intelligence, but an interesting couple of pages of debate in the legislature on the motion for the sale of the clergy reserve lands. In evidence of the primative habits of the people of Cobourg in those days (which they have not perhaps entirely outgrown) a meeting of the "Cobourg Bible Society" is called by advertisement, to be held at 6 o'clock precisely, W. S. Conger, secretary. An editorial paragraph refers to the "expulsion (from the House) of Mackenzie," and adds that "our representatives have had time to attend to the legislative duties." It appears that Cobourg was "on the make" also, for the same paragraph says that among the measures sanctioned during the past week which demand our warmest admiration and thanks, is the vote of "another $20,000 for roads."

A Soiling Experiment.

The indications from this experiment are:—

The average cow will eat about seventy-five pounds of green feed a day, kept in the stable with grain ration added.

That cows fed on oats and peas, clover and corn, fed green in the stable, in mid-summer, will give more milk than when feeding on a good blue grass pasture.

That a cow fed on green feed in a stable darkened and ventilated will gain in weight more than she will in a well-shaded pasture.

That the cow responds as promptly to a well balanced ration of grain while eating green feed as she does on dry feed.

An acre of peas cut green weighed 13 5 tons.

An acre of peas and oats cut green weighed 24 tons.

An acre of corn cut green weighed 33-6 tons,

The second cut of clover in a drought was 3 1 tons.

It is not necessary to cut green feed oftener than twice a week, if it is spread to avoid heating.

Articles on "Time of sowing grass seeds, winter wheat and oats."—James Wilson, Director Iowa Experiment Station.

Coaling-Stations.

A most important matter, one of vital importance in the rebuilding of our navy, is that of coaling-stations. The policy of this government has has always been not to maintain outside of our own limits any colony or anything approaching to a colony. Our new navy will be composed of vessels dependent altogether upon their coal supply to enable them to move at all. Deprive one of our modern battle ships of her fuel, and she would be absolutely helpless, as she has no sail-area whatever. Even with ships of the class of the Philadelphia and the Newark, although they have a certain amount of sail-power, to depend upon it to any extent would reduce their cruising-radius to almost nil, and in time of war would annihilate their effectiveness either in defensive or offensive operations. At present writing the United States has a coal-heap at Samoa and the privilege of buying coal at Honolulu, but we are entirely destitute of coaling-stations on the west coast of Central America. This lack of facilities cost the government forty-five thousand dollars for coal used when the Charleston chased the Itata. The Baltimore paid twenty-five thousand dollars for one supply at one of the Chilian ports. The English plan is to keep a coal-hulk at all their principal coaling-stations; thus a British war-ship cruising from one naval station to another, no matter at what speed, is always sure of an abundant supply of Welsh coal of the best grade. It is proposed now to buy of Denmark the island of St. Thomas, in the West Indies, for the purpose of establishing a coaling-station on our Atlantic seaboard. In 1867 Mr. Seward negotiated a treaty for the purchase of St. Thomas and St. John, but, although the people of the islands voted unanimously in favor of the sale, the United States Senate rejected the treaty, and there the matter ended. It is high time some decisive action were taken in this regard, as at present the edifying spectacle is presented of our war-ships being compelled to barter for their fuel from port to port, undoubtedly paying an outrageous price for inferior material such as would seriously interfere with the fighting efficiency of the vessel. — From "Rebuilding the Navy," by Harry P. Mawson, in March Lippincott's.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle FREE, that they may try it before purchasing. The Large Bottles are 50c and $1.00. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.—12-1y.

"I was dining at the Murray Hill hotel the other night, and while waiting to be served I began to tick on a plate with my knife. I stood up and, looking across the room, saw an old side partner of mine whom I had not met for years."

Having purchased the interest of MR. JOSEPH MAUNDER in the Sash and Door Factory in Little Britain, I will carry on the business as in the past, and hope by strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.
Highest Price paid for Good Shingle Bolts.
Parties intending to build will do well to consult me and see what I can do for them in the way of prices before purchasing elsewhere.
