AN IDEAL FALL

Ontario has experienced an unusually mild and pleasant fall. Farmers have benefited by being well advanced with their fall work. Improvement in pasturage, due to warm weather and rain, is reflected in improved condition of cattle and other live stock. An excellent crop of turnips, mangels and sugar beets is being harvested. Mangels particularly, are of high quality and yield above the average. Fall plowing has been practically completed. Fall wheat is looking exceptionally well. Late potatoes are a heavy crop, of good quality, but the market so far is very disappointing.

Ontario Spends Large Sums on Road Work to Relieve Unemployment

More than $2,300,000 has been spent this year to date by the Ontario Government on construction works to provide unemployment relief. All but $497,000 of this amount has been expended outside the City of Toronto. The Department of Public Works is engaged in excavating, grading, bridge-building and dredging, in addition to the trans-Canada highway project and other relief undertakings. The magnitude of the trans-Canada highway undertaking is stressed when it is revealed that more than 1,400 miles, a distance equal to the trip from Toronto to Florida, will be laid. 10,000 men will be employed in the new highway's construction. They will be housed in 120 camps. Hardware such as picks, shovels, etc., will cost $50,000; heavy machinery, drills, will cost another $100,000; tents, $50,000. Wages will total $24,000 per day. This winter another 2000 men will work on the 100 miles from North Bay East to Point Alexander, and another 8000 are now commencing on the stretch from Schreiber and the Manitoba boundary.

A PROLIFIC APPLE TREE

An apple tree that will give 24 barrels of first-class apples this year is the pride of Kenneth Cameron of Lucknow, who has one of the finest orchards in Western Ontario. It is a Spy tree, and Mr. Cameron's personal favorite in his 300-tree orchard. In the past thirteen years it has produced 193 barrels of saleable apples and is to-day a splendid, healthy specimen of the Spy variety. Mr. Cameron, one of the most ardent orchardists in Western Ontario, sprays his trees five times a year, and cuts the grass in the orchard for a mulch. He uses more than 1,500 props to hold up the limbs of his profit-making trees, and finds his markets chiefly in Montreal and in later years to some extent in the British Isles. His orchard contains Baldwins, Spies, Ben Davis, Manns, Wolf Rivers and Russets.

William McPhearson, the leader of four boys who have been carrying on the business of thieving in Collingwood, was brought before Magistrate Hogg recently and sentenced to one month in jail. Two of the three remaining boys, aged from 17 to 21 year's probation, while the third was fined and given a suspended sentence.

THE CARE OF THE SKIN

The skin is not merely a covering for the body; it is an important organ of secretion. It is in the skin that the sweat glands are located. It is chiefly through the pouring out of the secretions of these glands on the surface of the body, with subsequent evaporation, that the temperature of the body is controlled.

It is in the skin that we find the nerve endings which give us the sensations of heat, cold, touch and pain. It is the skin, when it is in a normal, healthy condition, which acts as a barrier to prevent disease germs from gaining entrance to those parts of the body which lie under the skin.

The above remarks are sufficient to show that the skin is something more than a mere covering. As one of the important organs of the body, it is linked up with all the other organs and systems. It is for this reason that the skin, because it is not a thing apart from the rest of the body, reflects the state of the whole body.

It should be clearly understood that it is not possible to have a healthy skin unless the body is healthy. It is this simple truth which is so commonly overlooked or forgotten by those who are worried about their complexions or about skin blemishes.

The person who wishes to have a good clear complexion must observe the laws of health. No amount of external applications or number of treatments will overcome the effects of improper food, lack of rest and exercise, insufficient fresh air, or disregard of the other simple needs of the body.

The skin of the face is the same as that of the body. It is more exposed and so it becomes more dirty than the rest of the body. The skin of the face should be kept clean by the use of soap and water, just as the skin of the body is kept clean by that means. Grease does not take the place of soap and water.

Every part of the body is nourished by the food which we eat. After it has been digested, it is carried in the blood stream to every part of the body, including the skin, so that the skin is fed by the food which enters the stomach. This is the only way in which the skin can be nourished. In winter, some bland grease may be applied to a skin which is very dry in order to supply it with the fat needed to keep it soft and pliable. There is no such thing as a skin food; the skin cannot be fed by means of local applications. Local applications can, as we have stated, soften the skin, but the skin cannot absorb and digest food for its own use.

Keep your skin clean by regular washing with a bland soap and water. Keep your skin healthy and your complexion clear by eating a well-balanced diet, getting sufficient sleep, and by taking exercise out of doors in the fresh air and sunlight.

Grain Show Postponed

Owing to general conditions in Western Canada, the world's grain exhibition, which was to have been held in Regina in 1932, has been postponed until 1933. The decision was announced by Hon. Robert Weir, chairman of the committee, only after mature deliberation had been given every angle of the situation. More than two score countries had promised to take part in the show, for which plans had been promised from many European countries,, from Asiatic countries, Australia and New Zealand, the United States and all provinces of Canada.

BUY CLOVER SEED NOW

Farmers anticipating the purchase of clover and alfalfa seeds, would be advised to do so now. The situation is that there are many Ontario growers who are in need of ready cash, and who will accept sacrifice prices. Obviously, then, this would seem to be the time to buy clover seed, rather than wait till spring when prices may be considerable higher.

In the purchase and sale of small seeds, the Dominion Seed Act requires that such seeds must be sold by grade. The Dominion Seed Branch will examine samples free of charge.

For the first nine months of this year Orillia spent $30,000 in charity.

The Aurora Banner reports a tomato weighing 3 lbs. grown in that locality.
