Dress the Hair

With Ayer's Hair Vigor. Its cleanliness, beneficial effects on the scalp, and being perfume commend it for universal toilet use. It keeps the hair soft and silken, preserves its color, prevents it from falling, and, if the hair has become weak or thin, promotes a new growth.

"To restore the original color of my hair, which had turned prematurely gray, I used Ayer's Hair Vigor with entire success. I cheerfully testify to the

of this preparation."—Mrs. F. H. Davidson, Alexandria, La.

"I was afflicted some three years with scalp disease. My hair was falling out and what remained turned gray. I was induced to try Ayer's Hair Vigor, and in a few weeks the disease in my scalp disappeared and my hair resumed its original color."—(Rev.) S. S. Sims, Pastor U. B. Church, St. Bernice, Ind.

"A few years ago I suffered the entire loss of my hair from the effects of fever. I hoped that after a time nature would repair the loss, but I waited in vain. Many remedies were suggested, none, however, with such proof of merit as Ayer's Hair Vigor, and I began to use it. The result was all I could have desired. A growth of hair soon came out all over my head, and grew to be as soft and heavy as I ever had, and of a natural color, and firmly set."—J. H. Pratt, Sanford, Texas.

A Plea for Orangeism.

It is said the Orange is growing dim,
But the Blue is also fading,
And round the aged order
Ghostly lights are gleaming.
They say that every member has
Sworn oath of fealty taken,
In spite of every plea put forth
To shed enemy's blood to wade in.
Is false! 'Tis false! away with such,
We will no longer hear it;
But praise the theme and bless the name
Of William Henry Shannon.

Yet oft we hear some others too
Join the loyal Orange descended,
Pull down the cause, despise the laws
By which they are defended.
They say the order has no part
In the British constitution.
Some say it is a great disgrace
To the land of civilization.
'Tis sad! 'tis sad to hear of such,
But we will calmly bear it,
And praise the theme and bless the name
Of the prince that came from Holland.

When Londonderry was besieged
By the cruel James's number,
The Derry boys manned the walls
Against that great offender;
But bravely did they bear the siege,
Though worn by death and toil,
Till a British vessel broke the beams
That lay across the Foyle.
'Twas life, 'twas life for all of them,
How gladly did they greet it;
Then praise the theme, and bless the name
Of William, the great defender.

William the Prince of Orange was
Akin to the royal Stuarts,
Came to defend the faith as true
Against James, the prince of cowards.
A brilliant victory at the Boyne
Was to that orangeman given,
Securing fast his British claim
While James to France was driven.
'Twas well, 'twas well for Britain's crown
That William then did win it;
Then praise the theme and bless the name
Of King William the III of England.

Then if our sires of long ago
Did die the faith defending,
'Tis well for us to celebrate
Their deeds with praise ascending,
When they thought well to bleed and die
And cry out "No Surrender,"
Let every true and loyal heart
Their glorious day remember,
'Tis right, 'tis right to dare and do
Let those who will condemn it;
Then praise the theme and bless the name
King William the Faith's Defender.

The Protestant $60,000.

(Waterloo Advertiser, Liberal.)

The committee acted wisely. The functions of the committee are limited to the control of protestant education and the expenditure of the funds placed at its disposal for that purpose. The protestant committee has no legislative powers. It cannot increase or diminish, by any act of its own, the amount of money to be devoted to protestant education. Nor has it the shadow of right to refuse the money voted for purposes of education by the Legislature. It is obliged to receive and expend the money as it deems best. It is not the business of the protestant committee either to criticize the acts of the Legislature or antagonize the Government. The people will attend to that themselves. The Davidson-Dougall clique of Equal Righters, who make up in impudence and noise, what they lack in numbers and influence, have all along tried to frighten the committee into refusing the sixty thousand. In other words they endeavored to induce the committee, for the sake of promoting an unpatriotic agitation, to do what they had no right to do and to assume an attitude which could not be defended. But the committee refused to make itself ridiculous at the invitation of a few misguided men who are doing all in their power to jeopardize the interests of the protestant minority. Rev. Dr. Shaw, Ven. Archdeacon Lindsay, and the other members of the committee are entitled to the gratitude of the protestant people of Quebec for the stand they have taken in the performance of their public duties.

If we were compelled to take a choice between Annexation and suffering the growing ascendency of Papist rule in Canada as it has been increasing for some years, we should unhesitatingly hold up our hand for annexation. In the United States a roman catholic has the same privilege as a protestant and no more, and each has a fair show without either being allowed to encroach to the slightest extent upon the rights and privileges of the other. However we don't see the necessity for either suffering catholic aggression or for annexation, so long as we can all go and cast our ballots for legislators who will protect the rights of all. Members of parliament tell us that the law is so and so, and compels them to support what is wrong; and they say a majority of the lawyers in parliament agree that the law compels them to do wrong. Well, what are members sent to parliament for but to change and repeal laws that compel people to do wrong? If laws now exist that compel them to not only give every fat office in the country to catholics, but also to allow the latter to seize the treasury and do as they please with our education system, these laws should be annulled, and that is what parliaments are elected to do. Are members of parliament to come back to the electors and state that they have done a great deal of wrong in accordance with bad laws, and then ask us to re-elect them? Not much. Parliament make all laws, and when the people of Canada cannot muster courage enough to defeat all trimmers and moral cowards who run for parliament, it will be a wise move to seek annexation. The ballot makes members, members make parliament, parliament makes laws. The ballot therefore controls all. Let the people believe no excuses of politicians but vote for men who have the backbone to fight any sect or creed which asks for more than its rights.—Whitby Chronicle.

Severely Attacked.

I WAS severely attacked with diarrhœa and vomiting, the pain was intense and I thought I could not live till morning. Six doses of Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry cured me and I have not had the least symptom of it since. Mrs Alice Hopkins, Hamilton, Ont.—1700-2.

In Many Forms.

DYSPEPSIA assumes many phases, all disagreeable to the sufferer, yet it takes so firm a grip from two to four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters will not cure. B.B.B. cures dyspepsia, tones the weak stomach, aids digestion, sharpens the appetite and renovates the entire system.—1700-2.

WHICH WILL IT BE?

Which is the fairest, a rose or a lily?
Which is the sweetest, a peach or a pear?
Merry's coquettish, and charming is Milly;
Dora is gentle and fair.
Sweet as a flower was her face when I kissed
(Love is the romance and glory of life,)
Milly, my playmate, I love "like a sister,"
But Dora I choose for my wife.

That is right, young man, marry the girl you love, by all means, if she will have you. Should her health become delicate and her beauty fade after marriage, remember that this is usually due to functional disturbances, weaknesses, irregularities, or painful disorders peculiar to her sex, in the cure of which Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is guaranteed to give satisfaction, or money refunded. See the printed certificate of guarantee on bottle-wrapper.

For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop-girls," housekeepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic, or strength-giver.

COLUMN.

"For God and Home and Native Land."

"Hadn't You Better Take a Sheep, Too?"

A valued friend and able farmer, about the time the temperance reform was beginning to exert a healthful influence, said to his newly hired man.

"Jonathan, I did not think to mention to you, when I hired you, that I shall try and have my work done without rum. How much must I give you to do without it?"

"Oh," said Jonathan, "I don't care much about it. You may give me what you please."

"Well," said the farmer, "in the autumn I will give you a sheep if you do without rum."

"Agreed,"

"Father will you give me a sheep too, if I do without rum?" asked the eldest son.

"Yes, you shall have a sheep if you do without."

The youngest son then said, "If I do without, father, will you give me a sheep?"

"Yes, Chandler, you shall have a sheep, too."

Presently, Chandler speaks once more:—

"Father, hand't you better take a sheep, too?"

The farmer shook his head; he hardly thought that he could do without the "critter" yet; but the appeal came from a source not easily to be disregarded, and the result was that the demon rum was thenceforward banished from the premises, to the great joy and ultimate happiness of all concerned.

The above simple story illustrates very clearly how prone men are to preach what they do not practice.

We have heard from good authority that during the weeks preceding the repeal of the Scott Act, a certain Scott Act man, met a farmer, and urged him to vote against the repeal, and that very same Scott Act man was the first man to invite the farmer into a hotel to drink after the repeal of the Act.

How could the Scott Act be a success if some of the main props were not composed of the right material?

We would not admire a soldier fighting for his country, who after his first defeat would desert and fly to the enemy's tent for the sake of getting a drink much less, do we admire a temperance man who committs a similar act.

We do advise all such temperance men to take a sheep too, before they utter one word in favor of prohibition.

Skin diseases are most annoying because so noticeable. Dr. Low's Sulphur Soap heals and cleanses the skin.—81-4.

Cannot Fail.

MRS John E. Thompson, of Shelbourne, P.O., writes: My two children received great benefit from Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry for diarrhœa and summer complaint. I gave it according to directions, and they soon recovered. Be sure and get the genuine.—1700 2.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria,
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria,
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
