REV. DR. SEARLES of New York, lectured in Cambridge St. methodist church on Monday evening last. The occasion was the anniversary of the church, and the whole congregation and many friends attended. The subject, "A Voice from Prison Life," was congenial to the learned doctor, he having for sixteen years been chaplain in Auburn, N.Y. state prison. The lecturer made the subject apply in its bearing on the rising generation and gave his experience of the causes leading to ruined lives to be chiefly three, IDLENESS, LICENTIOUSNESS, and INTEMPERANCE. The first and third were discussed in various aspects, delicacy forbidding an analysis of the second. Throughout the lecture ran a vein of bright sparkling humor, and anecdote which gave force to the depth of thought and sentiment forming the base of the discourse. J. E. Dundas Esq., was chairman. A vote of thanks was tendered Dr. Searles at the conclusion of the lecture, moved by Mr. F. C. Taylor, seconded by His Honor, Judge Dean. Rev. Dr. Searles preached also on Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Dr. Williams whose personal friend Dr. Searles is, deserves the thanks of Lindsay citizens for giving them such a lecturer.

SEND THEM IN.—No jeweller in this country does more repairing on watches, clocks and jewellery than W. F. McCarty. He aims to please his customers, and doing that finds no time for idleness. Go to W. F. McCarty with your watches when out of order. Charges returned if they do not run properly. Opposite the Daly House.—8 1.

RARELY does a disorganized system reduce any man to such a condition that the journal he edits, continuously reeks with falsehood and slander; yet so far as concerns anything like fair treatment of THE WARDER or other opponents, our contemporary the Post was never yet known even by accident to do justice or to tell the truth concerning us of them. Not to waste words over his "latest," we will simply give a new silk hat to any person who will prove any one of his statements anent our having been party to writing Swipes' article against Mr. MacMurchy. We never yet read the article nor heard it all read by anyone. We will let him select one judge, we will name another and the two choose a third. The loser to "pay the piper." What we write we do not deny, or gloze over under another form or name. Further, the writer of that letter is quite competent to do his own composing, without either assistance or direction from THE WARDER, as our bilious contemporary knows to his sorrow. Hence, the long rigmarole of lies in last week's Post vanishes. His famous curling club episode also vanishes in smoke. We have not resigned or withdrawn from the club. Nor have we been dismissed from it; nor do we purpose resigning or being dismissed from it. True, Mr. Flavelle in a childish manner resigned; but knowing he was and is the life and soul of the club, we requested that his resignation be not accepted. He curls daily and even oftener in winter, and is essential to the club's success. We do not and are not. We curled last year more than in any former year, and that was only ten times. Therefore, being too good a sportsman to wish to see the club broken up by the acceptance of Mr. Flavelle's resignation, or by the withdrawal on the other hand of our friends from the rink, and the weakening, if not the breaking up of the club, if we left, we simply requested that Mr. Flavelle's resignation be not accepted. The other vulgar insinuations of the Post are on a par with his nature, his face, and his conduct. Regarding our career as curler, it is older than that of any man's in Lindsay, therefore we do not require a certificate from such a source as the Post, whose editor has not the first principles of a true sportsman. In Lindsay our lot has been cast chiefly with two excellent players, but whose tempers caused them to be quietly dodged by others. Still with them we never had one angry or sharp word, and have played to victory in a number of hard matches; for, what little playing we have done, was oftener to oblige the club in matches than for our own pleasure. Our record as sportsman is too well established not only in Victoria but throughout Canada, to suffer from the ribald calumny of such a journal as the sheet at the east end of Kent street. Though the edge has gone from our active sporting; yet in spirit, and if need be in act, we feel as keen as ever; and it will require more than the Patent Combination to dull it. Our aim is to teach the true spirit of a sportsman—a spirit entirely unknown in some quarters.

Brevities.

THE WARDER till Dec. 31st, 1890, for $1.

Oysters served in all styles, also sold in bulk at Morton's William St.—6 3.

Mr. J. Magwood of Orillia, was in town on Wednesday, and gave THE WARDER a call.

Mr. Nicholas Ingram, well known and respected in Lindsay lies very ill at Bowmanville.

Mrs. Joseph Touchburn of Ida, Cavan, is visiting her sister Mrs. Robert Hannah in town.

Miss Rebecca Fowler of Eden, Mariposa, has gone to Michigan for the winter, to visit a brother.

Mrs. Rd. Conquergood of Michigan, is home visiting her brothers, Messrs. Mark of Cameron.

Last Saturday barley dropped 2c., in Lindsay. There was a big rush of farmers that day. Don't you see?

A great time for coughs and colds now. The best thing to cure them is Gregory's Elixir of Aniseed.—6-4.

Call and see the latest, Morton's new portable oven with plate glass doors, for baking home-made bread.—6-3.

In the first methodist church, Cambridge street, the Rev. Dr. Williams will preach next Sunday morning and evening.

Does your neighbor take THE WARDER, or does he borrow it? If he borrows it suggest that for $1 he can have it till Dec. 31st, 1890.

Mr. John Foster of Bowmanville, has been visiting his cousin, Mr. Foster of Zion, Mariposa. They spent Saturday in Lindsay.

Robt. Vance of Cavan, and Robt. Hannah of town, were on a business trip in the interest of farmers, to Woodville on Wednesday last.

Messrs. Henry Glendenning and John Wright of Manilla, have been out in Somerville inspecting some mineral lands they own there.

C. D Barr, editor of the Post, will appear in the police court this Friday morning on a charge of criminal libel preferred against him by Dr. P. H. Clark.

Rev. Richard Duke of Bobcaygeon, will preach in the Queen St. methodist church, next Sunday morning and evening and at Salem, Ops, at 3 in the afternoon.

A tea meeting will be held at Cambray on Christmas Day, under the auspices of the methodist church. Several well known rev. gentlemen are expected to be present and deliver addresses.

The Grand Trunk fire brigade, under Capt Storer, recently turned out on short notice, laid their hose and were playing streams in first-class fashion, in a few minutes. They did splendidly.

Prof. Loisette's memory system is creating greater interest than ever in all parts of the country, and persons wishing to improve their memory should send for his prospectus free as advertised in another column.—5-4.

Rev. G. Horton of Cambray, is one of those hard-working, energetic, successful methodist clergymen, who go through the world doing more good than many brethren, who "cut a wider swarth." His work is lasting too, for good.

The Grand Trunk Brakemen's ball, in the Opera House, on the 20th, inst., promises to be a grand success. It is not as some seem to suppose, a public one, but on the contrary is on invitation. The boys will be sure to have it a success.

School children and even older ones, will be greatly interested in reading Mr. John Dobson's advertisement this week. Mr. Henry Miller, the manager, has evidently been sitting up nights getting it ready. Read it, and then study it.
