When a salary is reduced 20 per cent. why refer to it as a cut? The cost of living in Canada has gone down to 20 per cent., so an individual on a salary less 20 per cent. today is just as well off as during 1929. Anything below 20 per cent. would be a cut, and it would be time then to complain. Business men have taken a cut of 50 per cent. and know it is of no use to murmur.

Recipe For Pneumonia

Take six to ten onions, according to size, and chop them fine. Add about the same quantity of rye meal, and vinegar enough to form a thick paste. Stir thoroughly, letting it simmer from five to ten minutes. Then put the mixture into a cotton bag large enough to cover the lungs, and apply to the chest as hot as the patient can bear it. Before this gets cold, apply another; and then continue by reheating the poultices.

In a few hours the patient should be out of danger. Usually three or four applications will be sufficient; but continue treatment until perspiration starts from the chest.

Feet should be kept warm while undergoing this treatment, and the room free from draughts. Comfrey root tea would also be helpful; half a cup every three hours with a little honey added, and a small pinch of powdered ginger root.

Mac CANNELL — HAW

The parsonage of the United church of Dundalk was the scene of a pretty wedding on March 1st, when Ethel, eldest daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Haw and the late Herbert Haw was married to Mr. Donald A. MacCannell, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacCannell of Proton Station, Rev. E. E. Baker officiating. The young couple were attended by Miss Effie MacCannell, sister of the groom and Mr. Russel Haw, brother of the bride. The bride looked charming in a gown of glass blue French crepe and carried a corsage bouquet of roses and forget-me-nots. The bridesmaid was prettily gowned in hyacinth blue crepe.

The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silver, to the bridesmaid a necklace and to the groomsman a gold watch chain.

After the ceremony the wedding party returned to the bride's home, where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to the immediate members of both families. The same evening a reception was tendered the newly maried couple at the home of the bride's mother. Over 150 guests were present and the evening was spent in dancing and cards. The bride and groom were the recipients of many beautiful and costly gifts. After a short honeymoon they will reside near Proton.

As March came in like a lamb it is scheduled to go out madder than a lion with a sore paw, so what's ahead will be fierce enough, some are predicting, to blow a mortgage off a farm.

Swine Cars Valuable

A total of 45 stops were made by the Ontario Swine Demonstration cars which completed their itinerary on March 4th. Animal husbandry experts from the Department at Toronto and Ottawa gave an interesting series of lectures, and parasites were discussed by authorities from the Ontario Veterinary College. The lecture cars carried an interesting collection of charts and exhibits and a full coach was devoted to breeding swine which were sold to the farmers. During the first two weeks in Eastern Ontario the sales at each stop averaged five. At the first 30 stops, a total of 130 sows and 18 boars were distributed. The average attendance was 85 per stop. A keen interest in swine raising was evinced and enquiries were made regarding feeding methods, colony houses and parasite control. The officials made it plain that Canada has a surplus of hogs and the only market for that surplus is in Great Britain where quality product is wanted. Furthermore, the Ontario grower is obliged to compete with the West where cheap grain makes cost of production lower than in the East. The Ontario farmer's hope then is in quality hogs, and through better breeding stock, correct rations, parasite control and good swine husbandry the Ontario grower may improve his position. The question of numbers is left for the producer to determine.

One of life's blessings is that the simplest way is usually the best.

The locomotive on Saturday night's C.P.R. train broke a tire at Markdale and the passengers were over three hours late in reaching Owen Sound. A second engine was sent from Owen Sound to take the train to its terminus.

A fine two year old horse, owned by Mr. J. B. Welton, of town, became mired in a bog on Sunday near the Munshaw lake, inside the corporation and perished. The horse was found dead on Monday morning. It had been running loose and is thought to have gone to the lake for a drink when it became mired in quicksand.

Mr. F. J. Thurston of The Advance managed to scald his right hand pretty badly on Monday morning by accidentally spilling some boiling water on it. By the time new skin covers the burn he expects to be quite ambidexterous and will be able to shoot the curling stones with both hands. As the old darkey said, "It's an ill wind blows nowhar."

The worst snow storm this winter hit this section on Wednesday night of last week and continued until Friday, blocking the roads for motor traffic. The provincial plow came up Friday night and allowed two transport trucks to come this far, but were forced to lay up on account of the snow quickly filling in the opened road. Saturday morning when the storm was over the plow made a return trip and since then motor traffic has been free to run north or south. All other roads out of town are completely tied up at the present time.

No depositor in a Canadian bank ever lost a dollar, declares the Sault Ste. Marie Star. We wonder if the Star man had any money in the Home Bank.

The banking system of the United States is giving the people of that country an object lesson in the frailty of their financial institutions and a comparison between their heterogenous banking system to Canada. The fact that U.S. bankers discount Canadian money to the tune of 15 or 18 per cent. has absolutely no justification. In fact with the hundreds of bank failures taking place on the other side of the line the boot should be on the other foot.

MISS MACPHAIL AT DISADVANTAGE

Being the only woman member of the House of Commons, Miss Agnes Macphail is at a certain disadvantage. When a member refers to an honorable member and says that "he" did this or that, the identity of the member remains vague. But if he said of the honorable member that "she" did so and so, there can only be one member referred to, and that is Miss Macphail. Hence every one knew whom Prime Minister Bennett was hitting at when he said:

"Then it is suggested that some private enterprise have received money from the government. One honorable member of this House is authority for the statement that she was told that money had been given to Mr. Wright's furniture factory at Stratford by this Government.

"That is the story that is circulated in the back concessions. Everyone knows how false that is. The orders in council have been laid upon the table of this House; if not, they were published in the Gazette.

"That safeguard was established in last year's legislation. The Auditor- General will not honor a single cheque that has not behind it the authority of an order in council, and these orders in council have either been published in the Gazette or laid upon the table of the House, so that every member could fully know and appreciate how every dollar has been spent."

There is only one "she" and the identity of the member was established by the pronoun.—Border Cities Star.

French sailors were tossed overboard in a rough sea to find out if a new rubber life-saving suit would work. The inventor was delighted to find that it would, a feeling which we are certain was shared by the sailors.

Farquhar Oliver (Prog., S. Grey) will propose to the government an amendment to the Moratorium Act under which the debtor's equity in his home will be protected when it amounts to at least 50 per cent. of the indebtedness.
