A Siberian Comfort

There is no sphere of existence that hasn't its compensations. In bleak Siberia during the long winters each native sleeps with his feet on a dog. A Hot Water Bottle is an improvement on the Siberian plan for keeping the feet warm. It affords a lot of comfort at very trifling cost, and it's odd that anybody would be without one. We have a good assortment of Hot Water Bottles, the dependable guaranteed kind, and are making very satisfactory prices on them.

A Good Start for Boys

One of the greatest helps to a successful business career is to possess the SAVING HABIT. One of the best aids to helping a boy to acquire this habit, is to start them early in life with a Savings Bank account. Encourage them by duplicating THEIR OWN SAVINGS. A few dollars spent as an incentive to save while he is young will be worth more than hundreds given to him when he is of age. We have many such accounts in our books. Try one for YOUR BOY. $1 will make a start. It will be a pleasure to explain our methods.

...LITTLE LOCAL LINES...

News of Town and Country Briefly Told

—At the first meeting of the county council held on Tuesday afternoon, Mr. F. Shaver, of Mariposa, was elected Warden for the ensuing year. Mr. Shaver in a brief speech thanked the members of the council for the honor conferred upon him. He realized that the position was a responsible one but he promised to do his best for the county. One thing he was now out of the fighting line, but perhaps that was a good thing for the harmony of the whole council.

—The regular meeting of the Literary Society was held in the Assembly Hall last Friday. The programme opened with an instrumental solo by Miss Stuart, who responded to a very hearty encore. Then followed a debate on "Resolved that money has more influence than education." On the affirmative side were Messrs. Graham and Allin, while on the negative were Messrs. Hart and Cochrane. The judges decided in favor of the negative side. The last number on the program was an instrumental solo by Mr. Puffer who also responded to a hearty encore. The meeting closed with the singing of the national anthem. (Com.)

—One of the finest attractions in the theatrical line ever seen in Lindsay will be the appearance of the world-famous Ben Greet Shakesperian Co., which is billed for Monday, Feb. 12th under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute. The latter have had to guarantee a very large sum, but the subscription list is filling rapidly and the only fear now is, that many citizens who would like to see this company will be unable to do so owing to their inability to secure seats. The play staged that night is likely to be King Henry V. Applications for seats should be made to Mr. J. C. Harstone.

—Mr. W. A. Fanning purchased this week the brown mare Lottie O., six years old, by Easy Fortune 2.23, dam Norland 2.21. This horse will be quite an acquisition to the local string of coming trotters.

—Mr. W. A. Fanning's last sale on the 13th inst. was a success. Almost everything offered was picked up by eager buyers. The next sale will take place on February 10th, when a large number of first-class horses will be offered. Among them will be a good sized brown horse, road or saddle, four years old, by Anteam, dam Kentucky Maid 2.31, which already shows considerable speed. He has been a great prize-winner, never having been defeated where shown.

—Keep the date of Fanning's next monthly sale in mind—Saturday, Feb. 10th.

—Owing to the remarkably mild weather for this season of the year the ice races advertised for Tuesday and Wednesday of this week in Peterboro have been postponed until Thursday and Friday or even later if weather does not improve. The Picton ice races which were to have been held on the same date as Peterboro races, last Tuesday and Wednesday, were also postponed until today and Friday.

—The County Council arrived last Tuesday and will be in session all this week at the Court House.

—About 12 o'clock Monday night an alarm was sent in from the Y.M.C.A. fire box, and when the fire team arrived a few minutes later they located the trouble in Mr. Wm. Walker's wall paper and picture store on the corner of Lindsay and Kent-st. It appears the fire originated from the stove pipe in the back shop, but as it had made very little headway, it was quickly subdued. The firemen left about 1.30, but were called back again about 4 o'clock, fire having broken out again with renewed force. This time the firemen were forced to use the large hose and to cut a hole in the roof with the result that great damage was done to the fancy and artistic stock. Mr. Walker was in Toronto at the time of the fire but arrived home Tuesday morning. The premises were insured for $200, whilst Mr. Walker had an insurance of $800 on his stock.

—A fine exhibition game of hockey was witnessed last Friday between the Midgets and a Peterboro team. The game resulted in a tie of one goal each. The Midgets should have played the return game with the Parkdale team in Toronto on Monday, but owing to the mild weather the game had to be postponed.

—Mr. Eugene V. Debs, the socialistic candidate for the United States presidency, is billed to speak at the Academy of Music on Wednesday, Feb. 7th. Mr. Debs is a brilliant orator and no doubt a large crowd will greet him on his first appearance in this town.

—A meeting of the friends of the National Sanitarium at Gravenhurst was held last Friday. It will be remembered that a year ago a local branch was formed and $300 raised to endow a Lindsay bed in the institution. As a direct result of this three patients were sent from Lindsay for treatment, and indirectly two other patients were assisted in securing admission in advance of the usual time. All these have been greatly benefitted by the treatment received. At the recent meeting the collection of this year's contribution of $300 was discussed, and a number of ladies consented to canvass the town. They will call on the citizens in the course of a few days, and we trust no one will send them away empty-handed.

—Students arranging to begin a course of study at the Lindsay branch of the Federal Business College on or before Feb. 1st, will be allowed a discount of 20 per cent. off fees. Individual instruction. For particulars apply at the office.

—Mr. Robt. Collyer, of Toronto, late leader of Shea's Theatre orchestra, and the Governor General's Body Guard Band, and a musician of prominence, has been in town for a few days this week looking into the musical situation. Members and well-wishers of the local band are keenly anxious to secure Mr. Collyer as a citizen, but this will be impossible unless he can secure a class of music students. Mr. Collyer is a very capable teacher of either the cornet or violin and those who feel favorably disposed should apply at Mr. Roenigk's music store for particulars.

—Mr. Wm. Lynch of Cadmus, Ont., was in town on Monday, and showed The Watchman-Warder a clever self-working cattle guard for the protection of cattle from straying on the railroad track. Mr. Lynch is applying for a patent for the same.

—A progressive euchre party will be held to-night in the King Edward Club rooms. The orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Collyer will be present, and a musical program has been arranged. All members and well-wishers of the club are heartily invited to be present.

—The recent thaw has materially effected the operations in the lumber camps in the north country. The cutting is nearly all done, but the difficulty is to get logs and wood to the water. Messrs. Baker & Bryans have closed down three camps, and are holding the men at the remaining ones cutting on the high lands. Mr. Baker states that if the weather turns sharp and severe frosts ensues they will have the best roads they have had this winter in the woods. There has been plenty of snow in the north, but not sufficient frost to fix the swamp roads for hauling the logs.....Mr. John Carew states that they are still keeping their men in the camps, but it is impossible to haul the logs and the teamsters are lying idle. Capt. Jos. Parkin went north to investigate the situation. It is hoped that the change in weather conditions will continue to intensify.

—The next regular meeting of the Hackett L. T. B. No. 38 will be held on Feb. 12th. All members are requested to be present. Business lof importance to transact.

—The crusade against Sunday liquor selling, now in full swing at Trenton, has greatly worried a prosperous saloon-keeper there, who has five marriageable daughters. It is because he has these daughters that he is worried, and the cause of his anxiety is explained in a communication sent anonymously to a newspaper by one of the young women. She writes that she and her sisters have five young men calling on them Sunday evenings, and her father has objected on the plea that the young fellows coming and going Sunday nights through the side door lead the police to suspect that they are bar patrons getting drinks in violation of the Sunday law. The young woman askes if the five sweethearts should not be "tagged" so they will not be in danger of arrest on their Sunday evening visits.

—The Bobcaygeon Independent, referring to an interesting question, says: About a dozen guides met Messrs. Evans and Adams when they were here and had a talk over the fishery question. The guides saw that it was to their own interest that the fish should be protected and agreed to do all they could to stop the illegal killing of fish out of season. They also favored a system of licensing the guides by the Government, with the penalty of suspension or cancellation of license on infraction of the regulations. There are a certain proportion of fish hogs who will kill all they can ,and at present if one guide refuses to allow the killing of more than the limit, another guide is got who will allow it.

—Prof. Dorenwend, hair goods dealer of Toronto will be at the Benson House, Lindsay, on Saturday, Feb. 10th. See advt. in this issue.

—Farmers in the north country along the line of the Irondale, Bancroft and Ottawa railway, have hundreds of cords of wood for sale that they cannot find a market for. This is one of the results of the mild weather that has prevailed all winter. Mr. J. S. Knapman made a trip up that line last week and found the above state of affairs existing. The wood yards are stocked with wood, which was cut last year to be ready for this winter's trade. The mild weather has resulted in the curtailing of the amount of wood burned this winter, which has practically killed the demand. In former years the farmers in the district referred to found a good market for their wood at the works of the Standard Chemical Company, manufacturers of wood alcohol at Fenelon Falls. This company this year has sufficient wood on hand to last them for nearly two years, and as a result the market in that quarter is cut off. In short, it is a case of wood wood everywhere and no market for the same.—Review.

—On Monday evening the Lindsay Poultry and Pet Stock Association held a most successful meeting. The number of entries far exceeded their expectations. Hundreds of entries were made up to that date and more expected. The fare and one-third rate on the railways, good January 31st, returning Feb. 2nd will be an inducement for outside persons to visit the show, which promises to be exceptionally good. Mr. A. G. Gilbert, of Ottawa, has consented to lecture on poultry in the interests of the association, on the evening of February 2nd, at which no admission will be charged. We trust this first show will be well attended as the members have made every effort to insure its success.

—A new commission of the Justices of Peace will shortly be appointed for the County of Peterboro. The folfowing are the names of gentlemen who will likely be in the new list: Messrs. Lewis Parker, Nathaniel Crowe, J. P. Davis, Henry Seymour, James Ingram and Walter Ventress, all of Bobcaygeon.

—Mr. Earp, who has been in charge of St. John's church, Whitby for some little time, will take the Church of England services at Cameron and Cambray on Sunday next.

—Rev. T. J. Spratt of Wolfe Island, spent a few days in town last week visiting his relatives and many friends. The reverend gentleman is considered an expert judge of live stock and has done much to improve conditions in the vicinity of his island home. While here he purchased a fine Durham cow and calf, and stockmen who droveR the same say that he certainly can select the right sort. He has in the past purchased several fine roadsters in this vicinity.

—The Peterboro winter ice races, which were to have been held Wednesday and Thursday were postponed until Friday and Saturday next, owing to the impassable condition of the track.

—Mr. Wm. Cunningham of Clearwater, Man., in renewing his subscription writes: "We have a very fine winter here; not much snow but good sleighing since the first of November. I never saw a finer winter in Ontario than we have here at present."

—Clause 79 in the License Act, relative to doctor's orders, will be amended at the next session of the Ontario Legislature.

—Mr. Jesse Perrin having disposed of his last year's fast gasoline launch to Mr. D. Cinnamon, has commenced work on a new one, with which he intends eclipsing anything to be seen on the Kawartha Lakes. The new boat will be 30 feet long, and will have a 12 h.p. engine.

FREAKS OF NATURE.

A few up-to-date pointers for the Toronto World. Please copy.

Street Inspector O'Neill, of this town, picked up no less than three caterpillars on Monday last, and after placing them in a pill-box, had the pleasure of exhibiting them to his many friends.

Ex-Alderman Robinson, of the south ward, states that a young lady in that vicinity surprised the family by going out in the garden and securing four flowers in full bloom. He failed to state the special variety, but assures us they were the real thing and no hot-house "blooms."

Mr. J. V. McNaulty, the genial editor of The Post, states that on Sunday last he observed a number of crows and five wild geese flying to the north.

Several persons report having seen robins in different parts of the town and one gentleman, who prefers not to have his name mentioned, assures us that he has on several occasions seen a freak robin. In color it is white with a black stripe on its back It possesses the real robin warble.

—Mr. John Woolacott of Glandine, Mariposa, reports seeing a number of chipmunks around his barns. Also that his honey bees were flying to and fro from the swamps. He thinks that clover and fall wheat are all right as the water has ran off the fields.

Mr. James Martin of Cameron, states that a large green snake was killed on the road near there, and that another was seen on the railway tracks near that village. It is a local option township and must be right, but still it looks queer.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

A special train will leave Lindsay at nine o'clock on Tuesday morning and tickets will be good to return on the special train in the evening or on any regular train on the following day. "Only Me."

There may be a world of pathos and even of rebuke in a very few words, and so the rather thoughtless wife of a contributor of ours discovered recently. She has two sweet little children, both girls, and, almost without knowing it, she made a pet and favorite of the younger and prettier child. "Sweet," as she called her, had every care and attention lavished upon her, and good natured neglect was more or less the portion of the elder.

The mother was sitting in her bedroom quietly reading recently when the soft patter of tiny feet sounded on the stairs.

"Is that you, Sweet?" she called.

"No, mamma," was the sad reply; "it isn't Sweet—it's only me!"

That pathetic little "Only me!" haunted the wife of our contributor for longer than she would have cared to admit, but a change has since marked her treatment of her eldest born.—London Tit-Bits.

English Names.

Puzzling enough to an American is the English fashion of spelling a name one way and pronouncing it in quite another, but the cities are even worse than the individuals, since they deliberately adopt some alias. The town of Hull, for instance, is Kingston-on-Hull. It has no official recognition as anything else, yet as Hull it is known to nine out of ten, who would wonder if Kingston-on-Hull was near the town of Hull should they hear it mentioned. Even supposedly respectable cathedral towns are not above hiding identity, and to call New Sarum "Salisbury" is to give it its alias. The royal town of Windsor is really New Windsor, and the county of Hampshire, popularly shortened to Hants, is in reality the county of Southampton. Bradford-by-the-Sea is more correctly Morecambe, but rightly Poulton le Sande, while Bridlington, sometimes called Burlington, is more popularly Wakefield-by-the-Sea.

The Proper Caper.

Tom—Here! You've started your note to Borroughs "Dr. Sir." Don't you know that sort of abbreviation is very slovenly? Dick—No, sir. "Dr." is all right in this case. He owes me money.

Experienced Man.

She—Is my hat on straight? He—I presume it is on the way you want it. It is not on horizontal.

A man cannot escape in thought any more than he can in language from the past and the present.

Gluttons.

The old feudal lords of England were the biggest hogs on earth. Their life was made up of the chase, gluttony and drunkenness. The habit of gluttony was handed down to them. It came directly from Lucullus and his imitators. There is no doubt that Lucullus, held up before us as the table saint, ate himself to death. It was not only the quantity of food he ate, but its quality as well, that put so miserable an end to him. Fielding proved many years ago that there was a large amount of fudge about Lucullus. On general principles he was, from a culinary point of view, a fraud. A single supper at which Cicero and Pompey were guests is said to have cost him 50,000 denari (about $8,500), but he probably served his guests a feast of barbecued sow, topped off with cherries. He was excessively vain of his cherries, and, as for his sow, she was always served high.—London Spectator.

The Onion.

"Onions are really sweeteners of the breath after the local effects have passed away," says one learned doctor. This statement is not in accordance with our own experience; therefore we avoid onions. We are still further informed by the same authority that onions correct stomach disorders and carry off the accumulated poisons of the system. They provide a blood purifier that all may freely use. Eaten raw an onion will often check a cold in the head. One small onion eaten every night before retiring is this well known doctor's prescription for numerous affections of the head and is highly recommended for sleeplessness. Personally, we are never troubled with any of these complaints and therefore still look upon this strange vegetable as something to avoid.—Vegetarian.

When You Sneeze.

The alarm signal of a draft is a sneeze, which is a spasmodic effort of nature to start up the circulation and relieve the congestion. A person may be far gone toward contracting a cold before he sneezes, but the moment he gets this warning he should change his position, look around for the draft and move out of it or protect himself against it. A draft is something to be sneezed at—and to be avoided. Drafts cause more deaths than war, whisky, football, consumption and yellow fever put together. Almost everybody who dies from disease dates his sickness from taking cold. This is especially true of elderly people. Yet it is a matter in regard to which there are great ignorance and inattention.
