THAT ALL-TIRED-OUT FEELING IN SPRING CAN BE BANISHED

Actual Authentic Blood Tests Prove That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Will Correct Conditions Underlying Lassitude

There is a definite medical reason for that Springtime "all-tired-out feeling." Winter living conditions have thinned and devitalized your blood stream. A blood test would probably show that it isn't carrying the amount of oxygen—Nature's great vitalizer— required by the body tissues.. Your blood is deficient in haemoglobin, the vital element which carries oxygen through the system. That is why you are languid, listless, and easily fatigued.

This condition can be quickly made right. Actual tests recently directed by a reputable physician definitely proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills greatly increase the haemaglobin and the red corpuscles in the blood stream—which is your life stream—and thereby revitalize the whole system.

Patients of both sexes—whose names and complete records are on file—were given a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills under the physician's supervision, and actual blood tests were taken by him. In his words, "The improvement was nothing short of remarkable." Every patient showed splendid increases in haemoglobin, some over 20 per cent. The real significance of the restorative effects of this world-famous remedy is seen when it is stated that the symptoms of these patients ranged from slightly "under-par" conditions to those indicating a serious anaemia.

The results of this blood test confirm the testimony of literally thousands of men, women and youths in 72 different countries that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by oxygenizing the blood stream, have positively relieved anaemic, rundown conditions, under-nourished nervous systems, habitual tiredness and rheumatic sufferings.

With the haemoglobin content and red corpuscles of the blood stream restored to normal, tiredness gives way to a feeling of renewed strength. Nervous irritability vanishes. Appetite is sharpened and digestion is stimulated. New energy and new vitality are experienced.

If you tire easily, lack ambition to do your work, have poor color and perhaps experience heart palpitation and dizziness—don't drag along day after day without doing anything about your condition. Before it gets any worse, start right away on a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have a record of 40 years as a standard prescription for rundown, anaemic conditions in people of all ages. They will bing you the new strength and vigor you crave.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are 50 cents a package—and your druggist has them.

Bachelor Safe in London

"London," said Sir Charles Biron, the retiring bachelor Chief Magistrate of London, to the reporters as he disembarked from a Cape Town steamer at Southampton the other day, "is the only place in the world for a bachelor, and my friend McCardie, the so-called 'Bachelor Judge' of the King's Bench, will agree with me.

"For one thing, if we ever find ourselves at bay in Hyde Park, or other exotic places, one of our splendid policemen is always at hand and all danger of captivity disappears.

"In the United States detached males are ruthlessly hunted down, because, after a special treatment, they make excellent doormats. And in other countries where they are not scalped early they are regarded as drones, and as such a legitimate object of legislation (vide Mussolini's bachelor tax).

"Only in England, and particularly in London, can the bachelor flourish with a maximum of popularity and a minimum of responsibility. He can make arbitrary selections from the riot of invitations which blossom like hardy annuals along his mantelpiece. He can make excuses inspired by Aesop; he can wear plus fours at first nights, and hostesses still toss up to decide who shall entertain him on Monday week.

"Yet not one of them would dare marooon him in the conservatory with her daughter. Such a suggestion of liability would drve him straight on to some other hostess's register. The London bachelor can do no wrong—except get married."

ARM NUMB WITH RHEUMATISM

Woman's Thanks to Kruschen

"I have been suffering from rheumatism for years. At one time I could scarcely walk with pains in my feet. The thumb of my left hand was so stiff I could only bend it with the aid of the right hand. I was afraid to go to bed, as my right hand and arm up to the elbow used to go numb, and the pain was just terrible until I got the circulation going again. I started to take a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast, and believe me I feel a different woman. I tell everyone what I take, and the good it has done me."—(Mrs.) W. A. B.

Kruschen contains six mineral salts which tone up the liver, kidneys and stomach — and keep them working smoothly and efficiently. The reward of this internal cleanliness is a freshened and invigorated blood-stream. Poisonous uric acid is expelled through the natural channels, and the pains of rheumatism cease. And as you continue with Kruschen, your whole being — body and brain—responds to its purifying force.

Where Walls Have Ears

La Corona di Fero is the name of an Italian hotel-restaurant in a street near the water front of Nice, for years patronized by Italian workmen who periodically cross and recross the Franco-Italian frontier via the Riviera. Now it is shunned by them and the legend prevails that its walls actually have ears—so many arrests have recently been made there of workmen who turned out to be spies employed by a "certain foreign government."

What seems to make the legend an actuality is the fact that when the arrested men are examined separate and then confronted with one another by the Nice examining magistrate, they are not asked to repeat their conversation at La Corona di Fero, but are informed what their conversation was and are then cross-questioned on it. The answers to these cross-questions are then compared, with disastrous results when they are confronted, which usually ends in a series of mutual accusations.

So it was with Prantesi, Morucci and Uberto, who were recently arrested at La Corona di Fero. Because they hailed from the quarries of Massacarara, they had no difficulty in finding employment as masons in the new French fortifications being erected at Flautos, in the Alpes Maritimes Department. At the restaurant they confessed later that their conversation had been carried on in whispers. Nevertheless, Prantesi was told that he had boasted of placing blue prints of certain parts of the fortification in his son's school books. Morucci that he had written out reports with invisible ink on the clean white shirt he was wearing, and Uberto that he had performer a similar feat in regard to the fortifications in the Lauter section, where he had been employed before going to Flautos—all of which proved to be correct upon examination.

As the men were arrested at the end of their "whispered conversation, their mystification naturally served to confirm the legend of the walls with ears—microphonic ears.

When all is done and said,
In the end thus you shall find,
He most of all doth bathe in bliss
That hath a quiet mind.
—Thomas Vaux.

"The happiest people I have met were mostly poverty-stricken —Sir Philip Gibbs.

THAT DEPRESSED FEELING IS LARGELY LIVER

Wake up your Liver Bile —Without Calomel

You are "feeling punk" simply because your liver isn't pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. Digestion and elimination are both hampered, and your entire system is being poisoned.

What you need is a liver stimulant. Something that goes farther than salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum or roughage which only move the bowels—ignoring the real cause of trouble, your liver.

Take Carter's Little Liver Pills. Purely vegetable. No harsh calomel (mercury). Safe. Sure. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. 25c. at all druggists. 53
