PAY SOMETHING ON IT

If you owe a bill and have not got the money to pay all of it, why not pay something on account? There isn't a business man in the country who wouldn't be delighted to give you a receipt for your payments. Business men have "fixed expenses" that they must meet at least once a month and they do appreciate hearing from those who are indebted to them. Protect your credit. Times may not be as they are much longer and wouldn't it be nice when better times come again to be able to say, "Well, I did my bit to help things along—I paid what I could—my credit was always good—and I never held out on anybody."

USEFUL ABBREVIATION

A child in an English school gave a definition of the abbreviation "etc." that is a good deal nearer the truth than the one given in the dictionary. He said: "Etc. is a sign used to make people believe you know more than you do." Many teachers notice that the sign is used most freely by the pupils who are least familiar with their work; and those three letters are often made to do duty for half a dozen names of facts which have either been forgotten or never mastered, and sometimes they are used because the pupil is too lazy to write a full answer.

He brushed his teeth twice a day with nationally advertised tooth paste. The doctors examined him twice a year. He wore his rubbers when it rained. He slept with the windows wide open. He stuck to a diet with plenty of fresh vegetables. He relinquished his tonsils. He golfed, but never more than 18 holes at a time. He got at least eight hours sleep every night. He never smoked, drank or lost his temper. He did his daily dozen, daily. He was all set to live to be a hundred—The funeral will be next Wednesday. He had forgotten about trains at grade crossings.
