A FIRST CLASS COMBINATION.

Industry and intelligence make a first-class combination. But it is rare. A lazy fellow who is inventive and intelligent often accomplishes more than an industrious fool. In the infancy of the steam engine a boy was set to let the steam into the ends of the cylinder alternately, by hand. He found it a burdensome task, and so invented a way to make the engine walk on itself. His method has been in use ever since—the principle of the "eccentric" motion. "What do you mix your paints with to produce those wonderful colors?" asked somebody of Sir Joshua Reynolds. "With brains," curtly answered the great artist.

This is a big idea, and it has to do with everything under the sun. Here, for instance, is the case of a man who spent a whole summer in bed when he might just as well have been on his feet looking after his business and having odds and ends of pleasure on evenings and holidays.

Along in the spring of 1889 he took a chill; exactly the time of year to take chills if you don't watch out, and often if you do. Well, immediately afterwards a dreadful pain struck into both his hips and legs. The result of this was that he had to go to bed, and he stayed there sixteen weeks. Just think of that! Fancy it a problem in arithmetic—a child's simple "sum" to be worked out on a slate. Add the pain, the trouble and worry to his family, the direct extra expenses, the loss of time and income, the loss of the summer's enjoyments, the doctor's bills, etc. etc.—and see what it tots up at.

The first doctor who attended him said he had sciatica, and had it very bad. The doctor was either right or wrong. If he was right the result showed that he didn't know how to cure sciatica. If he was wrong it showed that he couldn't diagnose a disease from its symptoms. Put it how you will, he might have been an industrious, hard-working man but lacked something of being a proper doctor. Well, he gave up the case, and Mr. Dawson (our suffering friend's name) sent for another. This one blistered him and painted him with iodine from his waist to his feet. By this time Mr. Dawson was unable to get out of bed or to dress himself without assistance.

The doctors' medicines and applications failing to help him, he went to the hospital at Buxton, where he was advised to try the baths. After being there three weeks he returned home but little better for the treatment.

The conclusion of this exasperating experience is set forth in a few words by Mr. Dawson himself in the letter from which the above-mentioned facts are taken.

"I had," he says, "little or no use of my legs, and it was wholly out of my power to attend to my business. I lost a deal of sleep in consequence of the pain, and owing to a want of appetite and necessary nourishment I grew very weak. Even after leaving my bed if I went out for a breath of fresh air I had to stop and rest every few yards. I was so broken and helpless that my wife and others who saw me thought I never should get about again. In this condition I remained until January, 1891, when I read of cases like mine having been cured by Seigel's Syrup. Persuaded by the clearness and evident sincerity of the reasoning, I began taking the syrup, and soon found relief. My legs had more power, and the pain gradually subsided, until it ceased altogether, and I could go about as I did before I was taken ill. If I had only known of this remedy and used it sooner I should have saved suffering and heavy doctors' bills. You can publish this statement if you think it will be of use to others." Yours truly (signed) Harrison Dawson, Heap Bridge, Bury, April 27th, 1893.

Our friend's inference is perfectly logical as to the advantage he would have derived from an earlier knowledge of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup; as his ailment—acute rheumatism—arose from the poison generated by a torpid digestion and a clogged liver for which the syrup is a specific. His doctors labored hard to cure him no doubt, but without an understanding of the cause of his condition. Blind men may walk, but are apt to walk in circles. The remedy that succeeds where others fail is a product of industry and intelligence.

KING'S WHARF.

(Special to THE POST.)

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.—Tuesday, the 22nd, being the closing day of our school, and Mr. W. E. Perdue, the teacher, having previously tendered his resignation, the high appreciation and esteem in which he was held by the pupils was fully manifested by an appropriate address and beautiful present, it being a very handsome writing case. DEAR TEACHER.—We the pupils of No. 15, Emily, have learned with regret of your intention of severing the bond that has linked us together as teacher and pupils. During the time which you have conducted our school, we have, despite our youth, been taught by your gentle government to appreciate and prize the tact and energy necessary in the teacher to mould, draw out and cultivate to its perfection the talent implanted by God in the mind of the pupils. We one and all bear willing testimony to your zeal and impartiality in essaying to fill our minds with useful knowledge that shall in the future help to remove the asperities strewn along life's rugged road. Now, kind teacher, as you are to leave us, we ask your acceptance of this present as a slight token of the kindly intercourse that has existed between yourself and pupils of the school.—Signed on behalf of the pupils, STELLA O'LEARY, AGNES MURTHA. Mr. Perdue was completely taken by surprise, and expressed his sincere thanks and appreciation for such an unexpected and valuable present. He said: My dear pupils, it is utterly impossible for me to express my unspeakable gratitude to you on this occasion. In laboring I have only done my duty, and though I think I do not merit such acceptable tokens of your appreciation of my service, and the great good-will you have thus attested and expressed; still, I will the more highly prize it if spared for years to come as the gift of my dear pupils, and shall ever remember your extreme kindness and generosity of this day. In conclusion I heartily thank you for the pleasing honor which I have received this day, and in anticipation of the coming festive season, I wish you all a merry Christmas and a very happy New Year.

UPHILL.

(Correspondence of THE POST.)

THE COMPLIMENTS OF THE SEASON to you and your numerous readers. The holiday season passed off here very quietly.

SOCIAL.—Our pie social on Christmas night was quite a success, the proceeds amounting to $22.80. Thanks to all those from a distance who contributed towards this result.

WEATHER.—The weather has acted very erratic this fall and winter so far. A few days ago the roads were frozen as hard as a bone, and we were waiting anxiously for a few inches of snow, all that was wanted to make good sleighing, but instead of snow we have got several inches of mud and the roads are almost as bad as they were in the fall.

ELECTIONS.—Municipal elections are attracting more than ordinary interest owing to the change in the make up of our county councillors; the law doing away with reeves as county councillors is far from being favorably received. In this section of country we would much prefer paying the extra members and have each municipality represented at the county council board. I may have something more to say on this subject at some future time.

ACCIDENT.—I regret to have to state that by the bursting of the barrel of a shot gun on Christmas day, the youngest son of Mr. James Little, of Dalton, a boy of about 11 years of age, lost his left hand. It appears that he and some of the boys were amusing themselves by shooting at a mark with this gun, and on his turn the gun had either become dirty or was overloaded, or perhaps both, the consequence being that the barrel burst, shattering the boy's left hand so badly that it was necessary to have it amputated above the wrist. The operation was performed by Dr. Gilchrist, of Orillia, under whose care at last accounts the lad was progressing favorably.

SCHOOL OPENING.—Our public school opened on Tuesday, Jan. 5th, the teacher for the present year being Miss Lena Elford, of Islay, late teacher at Rosedale.

BUSINESS.—Our business men are having a comparatively quiet winter, but not altogether a dull one, there being a fairly steady business doing; but owing to the Longford Lumber Co. doing no log cutting this winter, north of here things are not as lively as they otherwise would be.

NEW SAWMILL.—The new sawmill which Messrs. McFadden & Butterworth have had in course of erection is now completed, machinery all in, and ready to start operations. I understand it is their intention to get up steam at once. This will be a great boon to the people of this section, as there was no lumber mill nearer than Victoria Road. As there is plenty of timber in this part for the next twenty years, the venture may be reasonably looked upon as a likely success.

SCARCITY OF BILLS.—I noticed in a recent copy of the Victoria Warder that bills of the $1 and $2 denomination were very scarce in Lindsay, and that the receiver-general had been requested to meet the emergency. Well, Mr. Editor, allow me here to make our wants known, and in doing so I would say that bills of all denominations are fearfully scarce (dunning bills excepted) at Uphill, and we would request the receiver-general to send more or less—the more the better. We care not a rush whether their denominations are $10's or $1's. I might add that silver and even coppers are equally scarce.

PERSONAL.—Mrs. Dilman, of Little Britain, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. A. Graham of this place.....Mr. James Porter, walking boss for the Longford Lumber Co., spent his holidays at our burg, the guest of Mrs. Porter.....Mr. D. McRae, of this place, spent his Christmas holidays with friends at Beaverton and Brechin.....Several of the young men around here who have been working in the woods came here for Christmas..... Several of our villagers took in the Sons of Scotland oyster supper at Sebright on New Year's eve. I learn it was a very enjoyable affair. FACTS.

NEW YEAR'S WI' THE CURLERS.

The Knights of the Besom and Stane Put in a Jolly Day.

New Year's day is always, when Jack Frost gives the curlers good ice, a great day with them. This year the ice was all that the most enthusiastic curler could wish for, and the skips were out bright and early; their opponents, the vice-skips, were slow in putting in an appearance. Evidently they were planning some kind of game that would put the skips out of their conceit to offer them a handicap of thirty points. In due time the games commenced, and the rinks were full of noise and brooms for good three hours. The vice-skips on Ice No. 4, where everything was going their way, were particularly elated and jubilant, and brooms went high and noise galore was sent up when one of the skips failed to make the proper connection and sent his stone sailing through to the back. The rinks were crowded with spectators. They joined in the fun, and a jollier, noisier crowd could not be found in Lindsay. The skips had given the vice-skips a handicap of thirty points, but the vices turned the tables on them and actually won on a straight count by two shots. When the afternoon games were being played excitement ran very high, as the scores kept so close that it was a question up to the last end which side should win. At the close of the fourteenth end the scores were a tie all round. It was decided to play it off at once. Mr. Flavelle on Ice No. 2 scored three points for the skips, but vice-skip Crandell secured five points for his side, and thus won the game for the vice skips.

The first and second stones played the third stone players. These could muster only four rinks a side. This was a handicap game also, the third players giving their opponents 30 points. They beat their opponents, but not enough to overcome the handicap, and the juniors were very much elated over their first victory. The following are the rinks and their score:

WEDDING IN HIGH LIFE.

A Danish Count Marries a Great Great Granddaughter of "Betsy" Patterson.

Washington, Dec. 29.—The wedding of Count Adam De Moltke Huitfeldt of Denmark and Miss Louise Eugenie Bonaparte, daughter of the widow of the late Col. Jerome Bonaparte, took place this morning in St. Paul's Catholic Church. The church was handsomely decorated with flowers and plants. His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, an old friend of the Bonaparte family, performed the ceremony.

Miss Bonaparte, the bride of to-day, is the great great granddaughter of the famous beauty, "Betsy" Patterson of Baltimore, whose marriage to Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon Bonaparte, was celebrated at Baltimore Christmas Eve, 1803. On her mother's side the new Countess is a descendant of Daniel Webster.

JERNIGAN SHOT HIMSELF.

A Swindling Scheme of His Exposed and He Couldn't Stand the Pressure.

Austin, Texas, Jan. 1.—County Treasurer A. J. Jernigan, shortly after reaching his office yesterday morning shot himself through the body, the ball just missing the heart, and he will die. He states that he let a colored porter about the County Court House have $4500 of the county funds to put into a scheme to dig for Mexican gold supposed to be buried in the vicinity of this city. Two colored sharpers inveigled the porter into the scheme, fleecing him out of $6000 in addition to the amount Jernigan let him have. The scheme was exposed a few days ago and the sharpers were arrested.

Weyler Again in Havana

New York, Jan. 4.—A special to The Journal from Havana says: "General Weyler is back from Pinar del Rio. He was received with a pompous demonstration and immediately drove to the palace. He refused to make any statement regarding the operations in Pinar del Rio, or to say why he has left the field, and whether or not he will return.

The column of Lieut. Aguilera engaged the rebel forces of Aranguen, Raoul, Arango and others, aggregating 2000 men, on the estate of Sacramento, near Gallega, fighting for five hours. The rebels are said to have left 38 on the field. The Government had fourteen privates wounded and lost many horses.

The Bram trial at Boston will cost the United States Government about $10,000.

George Griffith, a farm laborer, went to the barn on the farm of Mr. James Cartwright, for whom he worked, yesterday, and cut his throat with a blunt pocket-knife, severing the windpipe and gullet. His recovery is doubtful. No reason assigned.

Exposure to Disease

Does not necessarily mean the contraction of disease provided the system is in a vigorous condition, with the blood pure and all the organs in a healthy action. When in such a condition contagion is readily resisted and the disease germs can find no lodgment. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine to build up the system because it makes pure, rich blood, and pure blood is the basis of good health. In cold weather it is especially necessary to keep up the health tone because the body is subject to greater exposure and more liable to disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the safeguard of health.

TAKE CARE OF THE BOYS.

Men can take care of themselves

The boy is the father of the man, and has a good deal more of the man in him than most people give him credit for. Almost any boy can be made vicious by telling him he is the worst boy in town. Put the ordinary boy in a stylish, well made suit of clothes and make him think he amounts to something and he'll rise to the occasion and show the man in him. Put him in a shoddy suit that will rip and ravel and he'll be just about the style of chap to go well with such a suit.

There is no reason why any boy should wear poorly made clothes, because the very best clothes can now be had ready-made. Messrs. H. SHOREY & CO., of Montreal have made a reputation for Boys', Youths', Childrens' and Men's ready-made clothing.

These goods are all sewn with linen thread, the cloth is thoroughly sponged and shrunk, and the workmanship fully guaranteed. In the pocket of every garments of Shorey's Clothing is a little ticket guaranteeing it. If you insist on seeing this ticket before buying, you can be sure of getting Shorey's make, as they are the only house who venture to guarantee their workmanship in this manner.

Y. P. S. C. E. Notes

—What about the work of the society for 1897. Shall it not be a greater success for 1897 than it was in 1896? How shall this be accomplished?

—The Christmastide is over, and after the season of holiday it is time to resume the routine of work again. There are the regular duties of life to take up once more, and we as Endeavorers should perform them for the highest purpose—the purpose of benefitting the world about us. This is Christ's ideal of service to God. See the last verses of Matthew, 25th chapter.

—Now is the time for a good social evening to get the members acquainted, and get the young people of the neighborhood together and find out all you can about them. Invite every young person whom you can and show that your society has a personal interest in him—not a pretended interest put on for the occasion, but an earnest interest which means more than it shows on the surface and has the well-being of the stranger at heart. Let us ever remember that through the social inclinations of the young we can often lead them along with us to get a glimpse of the mind of the Master and aid them in understanding what christian character means. Such a social evening will form a beginning for the lookout work of the society, a work which should never be relegated solely to the members of any committee.

THE NEW YEAR.

How You May Feel Happier and Better Than in the Past.

Paine's Celery Compound Will Enable You to Thoroughly Enjoy Life.

Act Promptly and Your Fondest Desires Will be Realized.

Many of our readers can truthfully confess that the year just gone by was to them a period of pain, suffering, anxiety, disappointment and wretchedness. Some were laid on beds of sickness, weak and helpless; others, ailing and almost broken down, were just able to move about to imperfectly attend to daily duty and work. The sick and ailing ones met with many failures and disappointments in their efforts to regain health. Doctors failed to cure them, and the very ordinary medicines of our times failed to bring back the blush of health to the pale and wan face.

Those of our readers who were unhappy last year may this year throw off their burdens and shackles, if they use that marvellous source of health-giving—Paine's Celery Compound—that contributed to the happiness of so many thousands in past years.

There is no necessity here to enlarge on what Paine's Celery Compound has done or is doing at the present time. Every day it is making well rheumatic, neuralgic, dyspeptic and sleepless mortals, and giving a new life to those afflicted with kidney, liver and blood diseases.

All classes unite in praising and recommending Paine's Celery Compound as the most effective of medicines. The more physicians know of it the more do they earnestly recommend it for the sick. If you would be well, happy and vigorous all this year, begin at once with nature's healer and life giver.

Manley's.

As a blood maker, blood purifier, health giver and system renovator Manley's Celery-Nerve Compound is unrivalled.

"The eruptions on the face particularly have been removed, and the trouble in my back as well, and I feel like a new man. I consider Manley's Celery Compound better than doctor's medicine for blood and liver troubles, as it has proved in my case." Butch riford, Ont.

We are assured by the beneficiaries of protection that the Canadian industry could not survive in competition with the cheap goods of the States. The Buffalo tailors have held a meeting and protested against the competition of the Canadian tailors, alleging that it is a common practice for Buffalonians to visit Canada and come back with enough cheap Canadian clothing to last them a year, thus depriving the poor protected Buffalo knights of the needle of the business.
