For THE EXPOSITOR

Miss Jinkins.

Miss Jinkins dress'd in modern grace,
Would stand before the glass,
And constant watch her neat attire,
O! what a lovely lass!
'Twas fashions of the latest cut
Absorbed her every thought,
They might please some fop of vacant mind,
Whose heart she eager sought.

To soil her soft and tender hand
She ne'er had been so cruel,
A care-worn mother might do this,
But not a mother's jewel.
Washing dishes and milking cows,
With all domestic toil,
Unto some beldame might belong
Not held in beauty's coil.

But then such beauty and such grace,
As did in her combine,
Could not indeed to such come down,
For such she was too fine.
With mental culture never blest,
With soft and idle brain,
By affectation ever spoil'd,
What could her beauty gain?

When to speak she faintly tried
Her transient beauty flew,
With all her airs and gaudy show
She no attention drew.
Affectation spoiled her charms,
And held her up to scorn,
For dark derision and contempt
It seem,'d she had been born

Yet, when on the street, or in the church
Of this she had no doubt,
That all were with her beauty struck,
All, all around about
And that many a stricken swain,
To press her tender hand
And crave her love would fain indeed,
And in her favour stand.

EDWARD JOHN.

MISCELLANEOUS.

A MAN may live in a garret and still not be a roomattic.

WHEN a man's coat is threadbare it is an easy thing to pick a hole in it.

WHAT we have in us of the image of God is the love of truth and justice.

AN indiscreet man confided a secret to another, and begged of him not to repeat it. "It's all right," was the reply; "I will be as close as you were."

ONE Folger, of Detroit, Mich., has invented a flying machine, which is successful in every particular, except that it falls to the ground too soon. His first experience with it, from the top of a barn, deprived him of consciousness for only about fifteen minutes.

THE world may entertain its idea of a magnificent Deity, whose government is general, but let me believe in the Lord God of Elijah, whose providence is entire, ordering the minutest event in human life, and with a father's care arranging it for the greatest possible good.

IN affixing a postagestamp upon a letter, always place the stamp on the upper right hand corner. Articles inclosed in a letter that are easily broken, should be secured in the lower left hand corner; thus the article will escape being broken when the postmark is stamped upon the letter.

A CELEBRATED physician was called upon recently by a person suffering from rheumatism, who insisted upon his doing something for him. The physician wrote a prescription, and as the patient went out of the room, said to him, "I wish you would let me know if that does you any good, for I have myself been very much troubled with rheumatism lately."

THE Rev. Dr. Taylor said in his lecture on the Holy Land, that the top soil in Egypt was the richest he ever saw, with the exception of the top soil of Manitoba, which beats anything in his experience.—Egypt owes this to the annual overflowing of the waters of the Nile, whilst in Manitoba it is permanent deposit of from two to five feet in depth.—Manitoba Gazette.

REAL Christians delight in prayer just as lovers of music delight in a song. It is their meat and drink. To them prayer is no task but a pleasure, a delightful exercise. "Oh that I knew where I might find him, that I might come even to his seat. I would order my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments. Evening and morning and at noon will I pray and cry aloud, and he shall hear my voice."

To comprehend a man's life, it is necessary to know not merely what he does, but also what he purposely leaves undone. There is a limit to the work that can be got of a human body or a human brain and he is a wise man who wastes no energy on pursuits for which he is not fitted; and he is still wiser who, from among the things that he can do well, chooses and resolutely follows the best.—Gladstone.

AT Banchory, lately, the parish schoolmaster, out of curiosity, put the question to the scholars—"What is nothing?" A pause ensued, until an urchin, whose proclivities for earning a penny were well known among his school-fellows, got up and replied—"It's when a man seeks ye to hand his horse, and jist says thank ye!" The answer has since earned considerable notoriety for the youngster.—Dundee Courier.

THE investigation into the sinking of the emigrant ship Northfleet, which has long occupied the Admiralty Court of Cadiz, Spain, has resulted in a verdict severely censuring the captain of the Spanish SS. Murillo, and suspending his certificate for nine months. This goes to prove that the statements as to the Murillo being the cause of the awful disaster are well founded, but the punishment looks exceedingly disproportionate.

AT a recent meeting in Montreal, Dr. Carpenter denounced the system of licensing the sale of spirituous liquors by grocers and saloon keepers, which he considered contributed much to the increase of drinking among the respectable classes. Many would order from the grocery a dozen of ale or porter, who would not be seen tippling at the bar of a tavern. Ladies for instance could easily do this when ordering their groceries and no one be the wiser.

PERSONAL.—D'Arcy Boulton, Q. C., (of Boulton & Dixon), D. G. M. L. O. L. of British North America; P. G. M. of Western Ontario, D. G. M. of the Provincial Black Chapter of Western Canada, left the city yesterday en route for Europe, as delegate from Ontario, to represent the Orange body in the Grand Conference to be held in Glasgow on the 15th of July next. He is to be entertained at Londonderry, Dublin and Belfast, upon his arrival at those places, where grand demonstrations are to be held.—Leader.

THIS is the way the Mikado's palace, at Yeddo, was burned, a catastrophe which will cost the Japanese the pretty little sum of $2,500,000. The fire was caused by one of the Empress's ladies, who, as the night was chilly, had taken a brazier of charcoal into her bed. During the night this fair young damsel, the high-born maid of honour, selected for her beauty and her rank to serve the Emperor's bride, kicked, upset the brazier, scattered the lighted charcoal over the cotton quilts, and a new palace will be the result at the cost above mentioned.

THE Detroit City Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the use of steam whistles on steamers lying at any of the wharves of the city, or approaching or leaving such wharves, under a penalty of $25 and costs for every such offence. Railroad companies are prohibited from using steam whistles within the city limits on pain of incurring a fine of $100 and costs for each offence. No stationary engine within the city limits can use a steam whistle without rendering the owner liable to a fine of $25 and costs for each infraction of the law. Nothing in the ordinance is, however, to be construed into forbidding the blowing of steam whistles as signals of warning in cases of peril of collision, or other imminent danger, nor the necessary signals by the steam engines of the fire department.

A CELEBRATED comedian had arranged with his green grocer, one Berry, to pay him quarterly; but the green grocer sent in his bill a long time before the quarter was due. The comedian, in great warmth, and laboring under the impression that his credit was doubted, said: "I say here's a pretty mull, Berry; you've sent in your bill, Berry, before it's due, Berry. Your father the elder, Berry, would never have been such a goose, Berry. You need not look black, Berry, for I don't care a straw, Berry, and I shan't pay you till June, Berry."

COMMENDABLE.—Mr. A. S. Abbot, City Clerk, received to-day a registered letter from Mr. Henry B. Saunders, an employee of the Canada Southern at St. Thomas, containing two ten dollar bank bills, which the sender requested should be applied to the relief fund. Mr. S. explains by stating that two years ago last Easter he asked for and received assistance from the authorities here and wished to make return for the kindness. It is not often those who have received charity think of making remuneration when their circumstances would allow them to do so.—London Advertiser.

TEACH your boy to work with a will when he does work. Give him play enough to make him healthy and happy, but let him learn early that work is the business of life. Patient, self-denying work is the price of success. Ease and indolence eat away not capital only, but worse still, of man's nerve power. Present gratification tends to put off duty until to-morrow or next week. It is getting to be a rare thing for the sons of rich men to die rich. Too often they squander in a half-score of years what their fathers were a lifetime in accumulating. I wish I could ring in the ears of every aspiring young man that work, hard work, of head and hands, is the price of success.—Country Gentleman.

NOT to be out done by even the metropolitan organ of the "party of slander" in the manufacture of "outrages," an ambitious Brantford sheet, devoted to the same faction, concocted an absurd sensation concerning the Mimico Farm, and giving as its authority the affidavits of three English emigrant laborers. About the only notice the slander received outside of the circle of "outrage" mongers has been instructions to Mr. Hardy, of Brantford, to proceed criminally against the affidavit makers, and this prompt move has had the effect of disclosing the fact that no such individuals are known in that neighborhood. The slander, from root to branch, affidavit and affidavit-makers, was manufactured out of whole cloth.

HOW LONG AND HOW MANY.—How long do you think it took to write the Bible? Fifteen hundred years. From Moses who wrote Genesis, to St. John who wrote Revelation, it was that long, long time. How many people helped to write it? More than thirty. There were Matthew, Mark, Luke, John, Paul and Peter. There were Moses and Ezra, and David, and Daniel, and Samuel. Some were shepherds, some farmers, some fishermen, some tent makers, some kings, some judges, some princes; some were learned, some were unlearned, and yet they all agree in what they write. There is not so much as a word of disagreement in the whole book. How could that be? Because God did all the thinking in the Bible. The thoughts in the Bible are all God's thoughts. The thirty men only did the writing. They wrote just what God told them. How many different sections or books are there in the Bible? Sixty-six, all bound together, making one beautiful whole. It is a blessed book. Prize it above all the books in the wide, wide world. Make it the man for your counsel and the map of your life. Your life can never be a failure if you follow its example.
