—Considerable surprise was manifest last week when it became known that the Rev. Mr. McCamus had been transferred to Port Perry for next year's labors. We understand the change was made entirely on the responsibility of the stationing committee in order to disentangle certain difficulties they had met with in arranging the ministers. Mr. McCamus will occupy his pulpit here for the last time on Sunday next and early in the week will remove to his new field, where his many friends here wish him every success.

—We have not tried to scale so high a fence as encloses the agricultural grounds since we were in short trousers, but like the rest who tried to take part in or see the cricket match on Saturday last, we got there. It seems incredible that such a spectacle of boorish and unfriendly spirit as was exhibited on that occasion could take place in a civilized community. The village gives every encouragement to the Society and it is surely small return to throw the goose pasture open for athletic sports. Someone has blundered.

—Dr. H. A. Turner and Mrs. Turner were suddenly called away by wire on Saturday to Ottawa to attend the funeral of Mr. Scott, Mrs. Turner's father, who died that morning after only a brief illness. The doctor returned on Tuesday morning, but Mrs. Turner will remain with her mother for a few weeks. We give in another column a short account of Mr. Scott's career from the Ottawa Free Press. The REPORTER begs to extend the sincerest sympathy of the community to the Doctor and Mrs. Turner.

—When most of us read those wonderful cures by Pink Pills, Warners' Safe Cure and other quack medicines, and see the "before and after taking" faces of the recovered invalid we generally take the story with a grain of Salt, but when the familiar contour of our own townsman, Alex Moffat appeared the other day in the Toronto dailies we had to swallow our former doubts. We didn't know it had been so bad a case Alex, but all our readers of your acquaintance will rejoice in the complete recovery. Paine's Celery Compound did it friends and the fur coat, which the testimonial says Alex wore even in summer has been discarded. Wonderful isn't it, if P. T. Barnum or his agent were around Alex. could make some money.

—A good story comes to hand from Rama. It appears that recently there has been considerable infringement of the law in regard to selling liquor to Indians. While a case of this kind was in progress a few days ago the defence undertook to show that there was no infraction of the law because the Indian was only half an Indian, the other half being Scotch. The Indian, who has evidently had his eyeteeth cut endorsing this view of the case, the Magistrate enquired which half was drunk. The noble red man promptly replied that "it was the Scotch half that was drunk." An immediate acquital followed.

A Boon and a Blessing.

A boon and a blessing to mankind is Hagyard Yellow Oil, the great pain destroyer and healing remedy for external and internal use. Yellow Oil cures all aches and pains, rheumatism, lame back, sore throat, croup, deafness, cramps, contracted cords and lameness.

—Darlington Sons of England will run a Farmers' excursion to the Model Farm, Guelph, on Tuesday, June 25. The Agricultural College grounds and Farm are in excellent condition now, and this is the best season of all the year to visit there. This is likely to be the last and best excursion to Guelph this year from this district. The fare from Port Hope, adults $1.65, children 85 cents, special train, 7.30 a.m. Trains arrive at Guelph at 11.25 a.m. Tickets at the same rates will be good going on all afternoon trains on Monday, June 24th; all trains on Tuesday, June 25th, and good returning on all trains till Wednesday, June 26th.

A DOCTOR'S VIEW.

One of the most noted physicians of modern times says:—"When the system is surcharged with bile and the liver needs a powerful stimulus to excite it to duty, then it is that we use powerful cathartics to obtain the necessary relief, often attend, however, with prostrating effects," and he might also add, "often causing by their re-action worse constipation and biliousness than before." There is a remedy, however, which absolutely cures bilious conditions. It is Eseljay's Live Lozenges and can be got at any drug store at 25 cents a box or 5 boxes for a dollar.

—A lady reporter for the Women's edition of the Belleville Sun visited the Bay of Quinte Conference of the Methodist church while in session at Picton last week and made the following observations:—That there was a Jewell on the educational committee. That the church property committee had a Leitch on it. That there was a Taylor, a Butler, a Weaver and a Miller on the Sabbath observance committee. That the first man on the list of the conference is Adam. That Mr. Beer is chairman of the temperance committee, and strange to say there is a Pope in the conference. That there is a good metal in the conference, for there is a Steele. That the meetings will be always on time, for there is a Watch. There is a Bird, a good Cook, a Dove, a Coon and a Puffer in attendance. That there is always a Fusse made when they Sing. That there is one Day but no night. That they are not without money for there is a Nickel. That there is one Cragge, two Peakes and twin Clarke's.

A GRATEFUL MOTHER.

RELATES HOW HER DAUGHTER'S LIFE WAS SAVED.

Anæmia and General Debility had Brought Her to the Verge of the Grave—Physicians held out no Hope of Recovery—Dr Williams' Pink Pills Again Prove a Life Saver.

From the Ottawa Free Press.

A personal paragraph in the Free Press some time ago simply stating that Miss Sophie Belanger, 428 Cooper street, Ottawa, had recovered from a serious illness caused by anæmia and general debility, has apparently awakened more than usual interest and pleasure among her relatives and acquaintances. So much so, indeed, that a reporter of the paper found it extremely interesting to visit the family and enjoy a chat with Mrs. Belanger on the recovery of her daughter after she had for two years been coneidered irrecoverably a victim of this terribly enervating and dagerous disease Mrs. Belanger is a very intelligent French-Canadian, wife of Mr. Joseph Belanger, whose wall paper and paint and glass establishment is at 146 Bank street. Miss Sophie Balanger, the whilom invalid, vascillating between life ad death, is a promising young lady of seventeen years. She is a student under the nuns in St. Jean Baptiste school on Primrose Hill. Over two years ago she fell sick and gradually wasted away. The nature of her disease appeared to be a profound mystery to the physician as they were called in one after the other. Despair seized the family as they looked upon the once beautiful, spirited girl, laying day in and day out, weeks and months on her couch, simply slowly vanishing and they powerless even to raise a smile to her wan lips. Each succeeding medical gravely told the parents to prepare for the worst. However, Mrs. Belanger is not one of those women who give up in despair while there is still hope, as her own words will denote.

"It was terrible time," she said. "We had been told again and again that nothing could be done to save Sophie, and had almost been forced by appearances to believe it. I have now to say that but for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills she would have been in her grave instead of attending school every day the livelist of the lively. It began like this: the poor girl was coming to me three or four times a day exclaiming, "Oh, ma, I have such a terrible headache. I cannot stand the pain of it." This went on for a long time, weeks in fact, until we began to look at it in a very serious light. We had almost every French doctor in the city called in, but with no result. Sophie got worse and worse. He face was small and yellow while her lips were as white as your collar. She was listless and opathetic, and so weak she could not raise her hand to her head. A leading doctor forced her to take a certain kind of powders, which seemrd to [illegible] the flesh from her bones. [illegible] became hot and parched, [illegible] into her head and she [illegible] couch as one dead,, tak[illegible] whatexer in things g[illegible] her. Then it was th[illegible] firmed to the popul[illegible] was going to die. I[illegible] look at her, but w[illegible] resigned to the fat[illegible] be overtaking us. [illegible] day and night, but w[illegible] change unless for the [illegible] had gone. I had rea[illegible] the use of Dr. William[illegible] and about this time I n[illegible] cription published in the [illegible] somewhat silmilar to So[illegible] Something seemed to urge n[illegible] them a trial, and now I tha[illegible] did. I sent for some and beg[illegible] them to her one at a time. [illegible] long we saw an improveme[illegible] gradually increased the dose [illegible] to two and then to three a[illegible] tervals. It was incredibl[illegible] change. Her color came [illegible] ferent look in her eyes [illegible] health and appearance g[illegible] interes in her. Before t[illegible] was gone Sophie was al[illegible] around again, and a furt[illegible] fully restored her h[illegible] snatched her from t[illegible] grave. To Dr. Willi[illegible] due all the credit for [illegible] doctors' medicine, an[illegible] these. follewing the c[illegible] the box. My daught[illegible] by Pink Pills and no [illegible] than her mother. I w[illegible] one of the cure, as it [illegible] sible to believe that [illegible] that lay there, and the happy, rosy cheeked girl who goes regularly to their classes are one and the same person in such a marvellously short space of time, and you may be sure I am advising ailing neighbors to use this wonderful medicine."

Just as the reporter was leaving Miss Belangar returned from school. She was the picture of grace, health and beauty, her lithe physique denoting health in every movement, while her face showed the warm, ruddy glow of health. She corroborated all her mother had said besides adding some new testimony. Happiness now abideth in that home where misery held sway so long, and Mrs. Belanger rests her faith in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills which will do for other weak and ailing girls what they did for her daughter.

CAVANVILLE.

A floral service was held in St. John's church on Sunday evening last, where the children of the congregation brought flowers to be presented to sick children lying in hospital wards in the city, and was a beautiful sight to see the children presenting the bouquets of flowers which were laid upon the altar. Rev. W. C. Allen conducted the service, also Mrs. Allen presided at the organ. The church would not hold all, many having to go away.

Rev. Jos. Kilgour has returned from conference.

The Methodist Sunday school children are practising singing for the service on Sunday the 23rd inst., when the Rev. D. N. McCamus of Millbrook, will preach the anni-sermon at half past two o'clock, also there is a service in the evening at 7 o'clock, and on Monday, the 24th, the social will be held in the beautiful grounds adjoining the church. Tea will be served from 4 to 7 o'clock.

Percy, son of Mr. Robert Hutchinson, has been confined to the house the past two weeks with a sprained ankle, sustained while playing.

We are pleased to see Mr. Thomas Weir at home again, having been in the hospital the past two weeks.

Mr. Henry Fee lost a valuable brood mare last week.

BAILLIEBORO.

On Sunday, June 9th, a flower service was held in Christ church, Baillieboro. The church was beautifully decorated with choice flowers. The Sunday school scholars marched in procession up the isle, each carrying a bouquet which was handed in at the chancel steps and placed upon the alter. The Rev. W. C. Allen addressed the children and conregation on the lessons to be learned from flowers. The church was filled, many being unable to find room. The offertory was devoted to the Sunday school fund.

State., Mrs. Montgomery accompanying him. She will stay with her daughter, Mrs. St. Lewis, about two months. We wish them a pleasant and happy voyage. Harold is a smart active boy and will be missed and we'd like to see [illegible]

53 behind on the first hands the visitors began their second innings in very good style. Mathews played extremely well for his 16, top score of the day for them. He was well backed up by McMillan and Brown, the latter hitting very hard. In this innings Van Homrigh secured 5 wickets for 9 runs. Requiring only 3 runs to win Needler soon made them and the home players had secured a victory by the margin of ten wickets. The fielding of both elevens was up to the average. Both wicket-keepers performed well. The return match is to be played in Lindsay on either the 27th or 28th of the month. Full score.
