THE COLLINWOOD FIRE HORROR.

Every repetition of such awful calamities as the Iroquois Theater at Chicago, Rhoades Opera House at Boyerstown, Pa., and the last dreadful holocaust at Collinwood, Ohio, leads to sporadic attempts at improvements and precautionary measures. That is, these measures are advocated and suggested, but unless they are carried into effect at once the lessons are soon forgotten and we drop back into the same old rut of innocuous desuetude.

Although our schools in the village are perfectly safe and easily emptied under ordinary conditions, would they be safe under extraordinary conditions in case of fire and the resultant panic?

The fire drill as practiced all over the country has proven to be the means of averting great loss of life, time and again; this drill to be effective should be given at least twice a month during school hours at unexpected times, and will be a great help to the teacher in charge of the room, by getting the children accustomed to leaving the school in an orderly and systematic way.

If the village officers, school trustees, superintendent and teachers will do all in their power to adopt all precautionary measures, it will perhaps be the means of saving them from a lifelong fruitless regret in the future of what might have been in case we are ever afflicted with one of the too numerous calamities which occur too frequently and most of which could be averted with a little foresight and precautionary measures.

An Application.

"Spell ferment and give its definition," requested the school teacher.

"F-e-r-m-e-n-t, ferment, sb. 'work,' represented a diminutive man."

"Now place it in a sentence, so that I may be sure you understand its meaning," said the teacher.

"In summer I would rather play baseball than ferment in the school room," returned the pupil with such fervent frankness that the teacher found it hard to suppress a smile.

Modern Teaching.

"Did you punish me, ma'am," said the little boy, as he kicked the trail of her skirt at the way.—Detroit Widow.

Local Happenings

—John Stewart, auditor of the I. H. B. Railroad, sailed from New York Saturday, called to Scotland on account of his mother's illness.

—A card party and supper will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Lucore on Saturday evening. A jolly time is anticipated.

—Nat Brigham, the celebrated lecturer, has been secured to give the "Passion Play" by moving pictures. Watch for further notice.

—The Ladies' Aid Society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. L. B. Wells, 51 Saratoga avenue, Thursday, March 19th, at one-thirty.

—We offer to all our old subscribers who renew their subscription within the next thirty days a year's subscription to the American Farmer free.

—The many friends of Mrs. G. H. Bunge, who went to Chicago last Friday to undergo an operation, will be pleased to learn that she is steadily improving.

—A fine line of tablet and box stationery on sale at E. M. Diener's, 109 S. Main street.

—Mrs. O. J. Hemphill entertained the "Busy Bees" Wednesday afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Kellersman, Gourley, Keutemeyer, Holmes, Deegan and Dawson.

—The St. Patrick dinner at the Baptist church parlors will fill you with more than anticipation. Tickets for dinner and what follows, 25 cents. You will miss it if you miss it.

—Mrs. J. C. Scott and family, of Montreal, Can., is spending this week with her brother, D. L. Lattimer, and family. Mrs. Scott is on her way to Mabton, Wash., to join her husband.

—The best five and ten-cent domestic and imported cigars in town at the Athletic Club Association.

Mr. Foster, who has under his direct charge forty-five miles of boulevard and park roads, is accepted as a competent authority on the building and preservation of macadam roadways.

—Chief Klein, with J. Woelfersheim and C. H. Staats, made an inspection of the schools last Sunday, making a report to the board recommending some changes for the safeguarding of the pupils in case of fire.

—E. W. Tack and family are newcomers in the village, moving into one of A. Schmidt's houses on Grove street. Mr. Tack, who is an excellent and competent harness maker, has secured a position with C. Pennet.

—Mr. Riel is improving at the hospital in Chicago, where he was operated on a week ago. Mrs. Riel, who makes her headquarters at St. Elizabeth's with her husband, is suffering with a cold and throat trouble.

—The Glazier Jubilee Singers, said to be one of the finest companies of real negro jubilee singers on the road, will give a concert in the Methodist church on Monday evening, March 16. Tickets, 15 and 25 cents.

—Harry Blodgett returned from his extended southern trip on Wednesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Norton entertained a large party of friends at cards on Tuesday evening. Ask Mrs. Wm. Straube who captured the booby prize.

—From a copy of an Imperial, Calif., paper, giving an account of the installation of officers of the Order of the Eastern Star, appears the name of Mrs. Sadie Stevenson, a well known former resident of Downers Grove.

—Mr. and Mrs. Allingham, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Darnley, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and Mr. and Mrs. Murray spent a very pleasant and enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hughes last Saturday evening.

—The Philatheas have decided to celebrate this anniversary by entertaining the men's class and their wives and Dr. Farmtoe's class and escorts. They have their plans well under way, and promise a good time and good things to eat. Remember the date, April 21st. They expect to make a red letter day of it.

—Small smoked picnic hams, 9 cents a pound, at L. Klein's.

—The practice of boys in buying little spiritguns and using them indiscriminately is a nuisance and ought to be stopped. A little innocent fun is relished by everybody, but when the boys fill them up with dirty water out of puddles and ink it becomes a filthy practice.

J. F. Foster, general superintendent of the South Park system, declared yesterday that the destruction of Chicago's boulevards is threatened by the "grinding" of automobile wheels. The damage from this source has been so great, he said, that unless some new method is discovered for protecting macadam pavements the crushed stone road is a thing of the past.

—A very profitable Sunday School Institute was held in the auditorium of the Methodist Church last Tuesday afternoon and evening. Several speakers from abroad were present and gave addresses on different phases of Sunday school work. It is only to be regretted that more teachers and others did not take advantage of this opportunity.

—Mr. Henry Faul, who for the last two months has been missed from his accustomed place at the window owing to a serious illness, is so much better that he can enjoy the greetings of his many friends as they go by. For there is scarcely one of the many who pass his home but wave a greeting to Grandpa Faul, who is one of the pioneers who has endeared himself to both young and old in the village where he has lived since he was a young man, and will, on the 19th of this month, celebrate his 90th birthday.
