Taxes And More Taxes

The Hepburn government is not all wrong. It is doing many things that are good and needed doing. At the some time it is making mistakes. One is its departure from the much heralded pre-election policy that taxes would not be increased, but lowered. Are they? How about the amusement tax, and now the proposed income tax? As to the former, it is estimated that it will bring some millions to the treasury which the latter will go even better and extract from the taxpayers twenty million. Balancing the budget is a fine idea, but just what should be attained in the first year after years of extravagance is difficult to understand. Dry up the source of income by making movie admission too high, by making entrance to games, race cources and other places of outdoor amusement excessive, by forcing pleasure seekers to go where charges are unknown—to the open spaces—and there will be no income, hence no takes, no millions to collect. The proposals are wrong and a direct contradiction of the platform on which the government appealed to the people. More easy stages of squaring accounts should be taken. The deficit of the past was not created in a day. Why therefore must it be met in such a haste, If precipitating a paved passage to political perdition is the aim, increased taxation is one of the best cources to pursue.—Bulletin Enterprise.

Soft Bacon Marketed

The further expansion of our bacon trade with Great Britain depends to a large extent upon quality improvement. Recent advices from the British market criticize our supplies on the score of underfinish in a large percentage of bacon sides, as indicated by softness and flabbiness. This soft flabby bacon is most likely the product of underfinished hogs, of which there are considerable numbers being marketed at yards and plants in Canada at the present time. The remedy lies with the producer in holding back unfinished hogs. In most cases, another week or so on feed would put on the finish so necessary for the making of firm bacon. All hogs of bacon and select weights should be properly finished at their weights. Underfinish is as detrimental as overfinish, and in this case is a very serious obstacle to efforts being made to popularize Canadian bacon with the British consumer. Every hog raiser is asked to co-operate to the best of his ability.

Hog Grading Figures

For the 18 weeks ending May 2nd, the total number of hogs graded in Canada was—graded alive at stock yards 383,664; alive at packing plants 709,726, and by carcass 21,652, a total of 1,115, 042. For the corresponding weeks of 1934, the number was 1,160,223.

THE HAY MARKET

There is a poor demand for hay generally. A large number of farmers who are out of hay are feeding straw and other roughage due to lack of funds to purchase hay. There is still a fairly large supply of hay unsold in the Ottawa valley and northern Ontario. It is selling at prices as low as $7 per ton delivered to the car at Ottawa valley points. There is also a fair quantity of good hay available in the Bruce peninsula. In most other localities of the province there is either a shortage or barely sufficient for local needs, but delivered prices are regarded as too high to entice farmers to buy.

Current prices ex-tract Toronto are: for No. 2 Timothy and mixtures $14.-50 to $15.50; No. 2 $12 to $13; wheat straw $10; oat straw $8.50 to $9.50.

Husbands who rebel at the price of Women's hats fail to consider their entertaiment value.
