Ontario Aricultural and Experimental Union.

Co-operative Experiments in Agriculture.

Upwards of 1000 varieties of farm crops have been tested in the Experimental Department of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, within the past eleven years, and six hundred of them have been grown for at least five years in succession. Nearly all the Canadian sorts and several hundred new varieties imported by the Experimental Department from different parts of Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, and the United States have been included in these carefully conducted experiments. Some of the new varieties have done exceptionally well and have already been distributed over Ontario, through the medium of the Experimental Union, with very gratifying results. The Siberian oats, Mandscheuri barley, Herison Bearded Spring Wheat, and the Cloud's Early Yellow Dent, Mammoth Cuban, Wisconsin Earliest White Dent, and Salzer's North Dakota varieties of corn, which are now becoming so popular in Ontario, were imported by the Experimental Department and after being thoroughly tested were distributed in small quantities.

The present system of co operative experimental work in agriculture was started in 1896 with 60 plots, which were situated on twelve different farms in Ontario. Since that date, however, the work has increased from year to year and in 1896 there were 11,194 plots, which were situated on 2,260 farms. We are again prepared to distribute material for co-operative experiments with fertilizers, fodder crops, roots, grains, grasses, and clovers.

Interested persons in Ontario who wish to join in the work, may select any one of the experiments for 1897 and inform the director at once of the choice made. All material will be furnished entirely free of charge to each applicant, but he will be expected to conduct the test according to the instructions sent with the seeds, and to report the result of his test as soon as possible after harvest.

LIST OF EXPERIMENTS FOR 1897

1. Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with corn.
2. Testing nitrate of soda, superphosphate, muriate of potash, mixture, and no manure with mangels.
3. Testing six leading varieties of Fodder Corn.
4. Growing three leguminous crops for Green Fodder.
5. Growing three mixtures of grain for Green Fodder,
6. Testing four varieties of Grasses for Hay.
7. Testing four varieties of Clover for Hay.
8. Testing three varieties of Buckwheat.
9. Testing four varieties of Spring Wheat.
10. Testing four varieties of Barley.
11. Testing five varieties of Oats.
12. Testing four varieties of Peas.
13. Testing three varieties of Beans.
14. Testing five varieties of Carrots.
15. Testing five varieties of Mangels.
16. Testing four varieties of Turnips.

Material for either No. 1 or No. 2 experiment will be sent by express, and for each of the others it will be forwarded by mail. All fertilizers and seeds will be sent in good time for spring seeding, providing the applications are received at an early date. The supply of material being limited, those who apply first will be surest of obtaining the desired outfit. It might be well for each applicant to make a second choice for fear the first could not be granted.

Particular varieties need not be mentioned as all the kinds to be distributed are those which have done exceptionally well upon the trial plots in the Experimental Department.

C. A. ZAVITZ, Director,
Agricultural College, March 22, 1897.

Mr. Wm. Nethercott, a farmer, near St Thomas, met with a peculiar misfortune a few days ago. It seemed Mr. Nethercot borrowed a pot from one of his neighbors, and while carrying it home he carelessly placed it mouth downwards upon his head, and while jumping a fence the pot was forced entirely over his ears, and being a conical shaped one it could not be removed without causing great pain, owing to the resistance of the hair and ears. After many unsuccessful attempts he tried to make his way homeward. After wandering several hours, through the woods and fields, he luckily came to Mr. J. V. Faulds, where Mr. Faulds, assisted by by Louis Watterworth succeeded in removing the pot from his head. But the article had to be broken, and, unfortunately, the noise of the transaction partly destroyed the hearing of the left ear.
