John Henderson

He's the voice behind the Quinte Mall radio commercials and fills in occasionally on CJBQ.

Henderson said his belief that radio personalities have to be involved in the community "so that people can see the face behind the mike" prompted him to join various organizations, like Christmas Sharing, Canadian Cancer Society, local lung association and the United Way. He was also instrumental in bringing the Bowl for Millions campaign to the local Big Brothers Association.

Henderson, his wife, Eva, and three children, Barbara, Michael and Christina, have had no regrets about coming to Belleville.

"There is no doubt my wife or I will ever move from the Quinte area," he said.

Not now, especially since Henderson recently got his first dog, Koko, from the humane society.

"I'm too busy walking him to leave."
