

Housing—In the period from 1947 to 1957, 6,664 new homes were built in Burlington. This orderly growth reflects the progressive spirit of the community, and its confidence in a prosperous future.

Education—17 primary, 3 parochial and 2 secondary schools offer the best in educational facilities to Burlington's children. Four great Universities, at Hamilton, Toronto, London and Kingston are well within reach of Burlington.

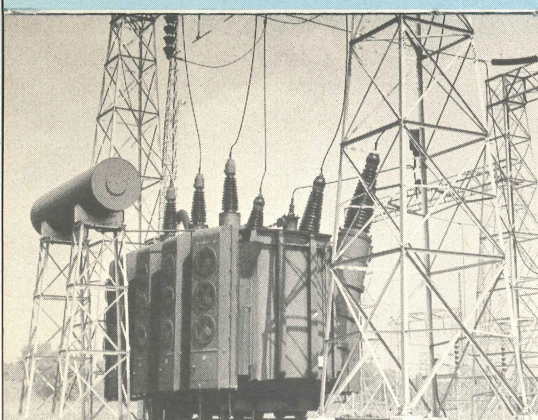

Medical Services—Doctors and dentists are well represented in Burlington. A hospital building program is now in progress. The medical services of Toronto and Hamilton are close at hand.

Recreation—25 parks and large areas of open country-side offer unexcelled recreational facilities. Lake Ontario is world-famous for its boating and other water sports. Fishing, hunting and camping and cottage areas are surprisingly near. Burlington's recreational program offers facilities for every year round sport, for residents of every age. Hobby and cultural groups gather to share their mutual interests.

Shopping—Burlington has several modern shopping plazas and a complete selection of stores, restaurants and specialty shops in the downtown area.

Utilities—Electric power is both plentiful and economical. Water is drawn from Lake Ontario, and rates reflect the inexhaustible supply right on Burlington's doorstep.

Industrial Zoning—3500 acres are zoned for industry in this well-planned community. Many building sites front on the Queen Elizabeth Highway, and a railway line. Much of this property is fully serviced. Whatever your requirements—large, medium or small, there is an outstanding site available for you in Burlington's industrial area.

Those interested in locating the ideal location for industry will find everything they seek in Burlington.

It is a well planned community of over 35,000 people that offers all the conveniences and facilities of pleasant, modern living. Together with the charm and friendliness of a small centre, Burlington residents enjoy all the cultural entertainment and higher educational advantages found in nearby Hamilton, Toronto and Montreal. Service clubs in Burlington are the Lions, Kiwanis, Kinsmen, Optimists and Rotary. A branch of the Canadian Legion and the Senior and Junior Chambers of Commerce are also in Burlington.

There is ample acreage available for every type of industry. Careful planning has located this industrial zoning convenient to highways, railways and to the town itself. Moreover, this careful planning encourages an enthusiastic support of industrial expansion on the part of residents and existing industries.

Write to the Burlington Industrial Commission for more complete data on land values, assessments, utility rates and other factors. If you wish, we will gladly prepare a complete analysis of the contribution that Burlington can make to your success.

A well-planned community with ample industrial facilities