GEN. FRENCH'S CONVOY

Seven Hundred Waggons Brought Through in Safety.

A despatch from Pretoria says:—One of General French's scouts, who was captured near Heidelberg, and who was at first treated badly by the Boers, who threatened to shoot him, was afterwards released and taken with dispatch to Gen. French's headquarters. He states that Gen. Hans Botha is in command of the Boers, and has with him the Bethel, Carolina, Ermelo, and Middleburg commandoes. The scout says he recognized a number of British prisoners in the laager. They were captured during Gen. French's first advance. They will be released and furnished with passes as soon as the official who issues passes arrives from Middleburg.

The scout also states that the Boers are short of supplies, and are living on mealies and meal, and are using burnt mealies to make coffee. The supply of meal, however, is abundant.

The Boers were very much disappointed because they were unable to capture nay of General French's convoy, which was the object of their continued attacks. The convoy consisted of seven hundred waggons. The Boers admitted that they had lost heavily, especially the morning after Gen. French left Bethel. On that occasion the Boers, who thought all the British had gone, approached close to a farm near which the carbineers were posted, and lost fifty in killed and wounded out of a force of two hundred.

The Boers expressed the bitterest feelings about the burning of farms by the British. It is explained that the only farms burned were those whose owners had done something deserving punishment.

A despatch from London, says:—Lord Roberts, in a despatch dated Johannesburg, Nov. 5, reports to the War Office as follows:—

"Smith-Dorrein states that Major Saunders and Captain Chalmers, of the Canadian Mounted Rifles, behaved with great gallantry in the action of November 2. Saunders rode out under a heavy fire to bring an unhorsed noncommissioned officer.

"Saunders was wounded and his horse was killed, and Chalmers went to his assistance. Saunders implored him to leave, but was refused, and the gallant Chalmers was, I grieve to say, killed."

CAPT. CHALMERS' RECORD.

Capt. Chalmers was a graduate of the Royal Military College, Kingston, and a veteran of the North-West rebellion. When the Montreal Garrison Artillery left tor the North-West in April, 1885, Capt.
