

AND LIVE IN THE GARDEN- SPOT OF ONTARIO

Burlington is a place in which to enjoy living. It is a town of wide lawns and tree-shaded streets, where even the humblest homes stand, each in its own garden plot, where cool lake breezes temper the summer heat and the friendly waters of Lake Ontario and Burlington Bay offer aquatic pleasures to all who would enjoy them.

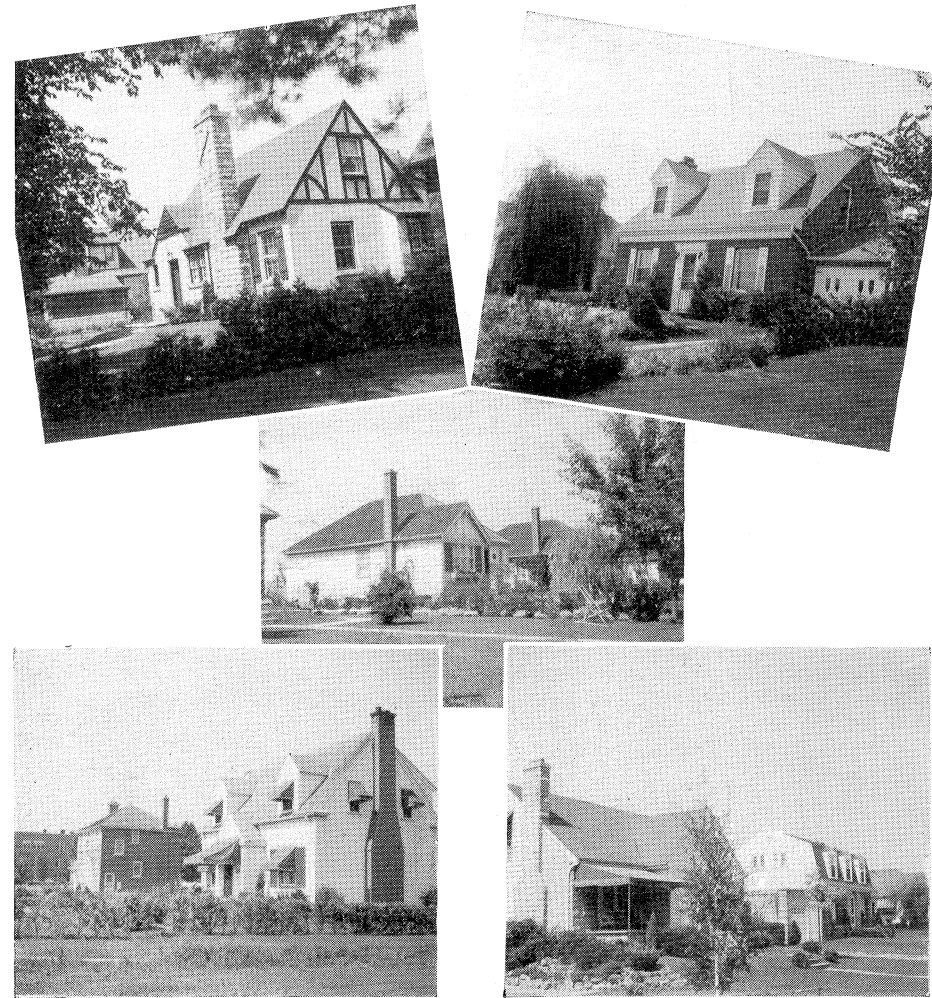

BEAUTIFUL HOMES From the humblest to the most imposing, the homes of Burlington are enhanced by the garden-like beauty of their surroundings.

It is a town of homes. There are the imposing mansions of the wealthy citizens not only of Burlington itself but of nearby Hamilton. There are the somewhat less pretentious but no less attractive homes of the business and professional men. And there are the more modest bungalows, cottages and villas for those of moderate means.

New and modern residential districts have been developed around the historic centre of the town, where each home shows its individual artistic expression.

Large subdivisions of workers' homes have been created, with an eye to beauty no less than to utility. Here too the homes are designed for pleasurable living with wide lots and abundant shade trees, and gardens gay with flowers and shrubs.

A complete, up-to-date shopping district features every type of retail establishment within a few moments' walking distance from any part of town.
