TO S. H. BLAKE.

Toronto World.

Ye wicked, heartless, headstrang callant,
Hoo daured ye cheek a knight sae gallant?
An' him sae braw an rich a hielant,
A new-made "Sir;"
Tae gar HIM stand ayont the hallant,
Wi' sic a birr.

Sic impidence tae keep HIM waitin'!
While ye wi' common folk were pratin',
A knicht, wi' coat o' arms on's phaeton—
Oh shame! oh fie!
For breakfast surely ye'd been eatin'
A pumpkin pie.

To think that he, a new-made knicht,
Should be subjected tae sic slicht,
It surely maun be far frae richt,
D'ye no kin,
He's no an ordinar' common wicht
Like telegraph men!

Ma conscience! man, my very hair
Stood up on end to see the glare,
The cauld, unflinchin', stany stare,
That met his e'e;
Words fail me quite, I'll seek my lair,
Lie doon, an' dee! —JAY KAYELLE.

True Liberty.

To the Editor of The Advance.

DEAR ADVANCE,—On the first page of your last issue "Cephas," evidently a Divine, attempts to reply to my former article, under this heading. I have touched raw flesh, else his childish vim would not have appeared in the tan-tal of Lang Metre Laging Sadly. Pray God I may never be inflicted with listening to one of his Long Metre Sermons, which may abound in words yet says nothing.—Poor Friar.

In your third page appears an article, well meant, no doubt; but when the bulwarks of the British Constitution are attacked, Britain's sons must be on the defensive. The doctrine referred to has the chime of Chartism and Mobocracy; and that which renders it more dangerous is the fact of its being placed before the public under the specious guise of a moralizer. Mankind naturally sympathize with morality, and through that influence are unthinkingly led to subscribe to acts which their more mature reason would revolt against. The Dunkin Act, for instance. I became a permanent resident of this County in 1857, and from that time till 1877, there was a gradual upward Temperance tendency on the law of Moral Suasion; but, the operation of the Dunkin Act ballooned the drinking usages of our County one hundred per cent. higher than I had ever before seen them. The tighter you pull the cords, the more violent the victim will struggle. The promoters of Morality are preparing a public blister which will raise a boil that only Statesmen can cure.

Quacks, and their remedies, produce ills that scientific men are called upon to cure: the Scott Act will produce a public ulcer that the truly moral skill of the next fifteen years will hardly efface. To close, I will not fan into flame the dying embers of a vile democracy: the ignorant, prowling brood of Afflecs and Spences, and the shrieking Babelism of Sussanah Evans and her female contingent, of questionable morality, who came to dictate moral duty to the honorable wives and mothers of the County of Grey.

"No case" for opponents. Let logic be your guide.

Yours, ever,
L. M. L. S.

Mr. David Johnston lost all this season's hay by the fire, which he had set out in an old slash, running across the dry stubble to the stack in which he had stored it. His loss is heavy, there having been about ten tons destroyed.

Mr. Wm. Buchanan, jr., is laid up with an attack of rheumatism.

The Rev. Dr. Strongman, of Eugenia, occupied the pulpit of Wesley Church last Sabbath afternoon. His discourse was from Hebrews 2nd chapter and part of the 6th verse: "What is man that thou art mindful of him." A collection was taken up in aid of the Educational fund.

The rain on Monday morning has made quite an improvement in the pasture fields which had become very bare owing to the continued dry weather.

Flesherton v. Markdale.

The last Base Ball Match of the Season for the Flesherton Team.

THE HOME TEAM WINS.

A friendly game of base ball was played in this village last Tuesday afternoon between Markdale and Flesherton B. B. C's, with Mr. T. W. Benson acting as umpire. The day being fine, there was a large number of spectators on the ground. We noticed with pleasure that there was quite a sprinkling of the fair sex, which shows that they are not altogether uninterested in athletic sports. Goodness gracious! why shouldn't the ladies (God bless 'em) take an interest in all manly sports; the prudish, absurd notions of our great grandmothers to the contrary notwithstanding.

The bat was not taken until about three o'clock, the Flesherton team leading off. Only five innings a side were played. The result at the end of the fifth innings was as follows:—

Flesherton.

	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	4th.	5th
Frank McDowell	1	0	2	1	1
James Bulmer	1	0	2	0	1
Geo. Bull	1	0	2	1	1
F. M. Watt	0	0	2	1	1
Will Clark	0	0	3	0	1
Harry Bull	1	0	2	0	1
Will Rutherford	0	0	1	1	2
A. Ruston	0	1	2	1	1
R. J. Hannah	0	0	1	0	2
Runs	4	1	17	5	11

Total runs, 38.

Markdale.

	1st.	2nd.	3rd.	4th.	5th
Harry Willifcraft	0	0	0	1	0
D. C. Plewes	0	0	1	1	0
W. Munshaw	0	0	0	0	0
Jas. Tweed	0	0	1	1	1
Geo. Brown	0	0	0	1	1
Thos. Vogan	0	1	0	0	1
A. Smithson	0	0	0	0	1
Silas Hill	0	0	0	2	1
John Hill	0	0	0	2	0
Runs	0	1	2	8	5

Total runs, 16.

NOTES.

There can be no doubt but that umpire Benson gave his decisions, on the various points raised, to the very best of his ability. The dispute as to whether Frank McDowell was out on second base gave rise to considerable discussion. Considering the unevenness of the ground, and the difficulty of exactly locating the base from the place on which the umpire stood, we are safe in concluding that Mr. Benson gave his decision as many an other umpire might have done.

Frank McDowell, as usual, made some brilliant playing. Had he played with the team at the last match between Flesherton and Dundalk (and Toronto Atlantics) there would have been a different tale to tell, we confidently believe.

Harry Bull, the Flesherton catcher, handled the ball with his usual agility. A professional base baller asserted, that Harry had few equals in Ontario as an amateur back stop. Quite a number came from a distance to see how Harry "manipulated" the ball.

Harry Willifcraft and D. C. Plewes, of the Markdale team, did some very neat work as pitcher and catcher respectively.

John Hill cleared every base by a powerful strike on the fourth inning. The ball was driven clear out of the field.

Will Clark made a run of all the bases on a powerful strike similar to that made by Hill.

F. M. Watt well-deserved the appellation given him by one of our citizens on a former occasion, viz., "little lightning." Watt is a printer by trade, but left the business some three years ago. He learned the trade in the Mount Forest Examiner office, which has turned out some of the best typos in the Province.

Geo. Bull, Capt. Bulmer, A. Ruston, Will Rutherford and R. J. Hannah, all did good work.

One of the Markdale boys caught a "red-hot" fly, at the outset of the game, in brilliant style, and was loudly applauded by the spectators.

Thos. Vogan made several very heavy strikes.

Jas. Tweed and Silas Hill made the highest scores in the Markdale team, and Frank McDowell, A. Ruston, and Geo. Bull, the highest number in Flesherton team—the former scoring three runs each, and the latter five runs each.

After the game, the usual cheers were given, when both clubs adjourned to the Munshaw hotel for supper, where they sat down to an excellent spread. Shortly aftersupper the Markdale team left for home, singing with great heartiness, "We're all jolly good fellows," in which the home team joined with hearty good will. The best of feeling exists between the two clubs. The Markdale boys are a credit to their village.

An "All Thunder and a Storm of Wind" Journal.

To the Editor of The Advance.

Dear Sir,—I notice that the Dundalk Herald did not have one word to say about the fiendish outrage perpetrated on the half-witted girl Campbell, or Cameror, by Dundalk and Shelburne roughs a week or two ago. He must have known all about the brutal affair as it has been the talk of the village and neighborhood, and therefore cannot plead ignorance of the facts in extenuation of his neglect. The "plucky little man," as he is absurdly called by one of your contemporaries, is more ready to hurl columns of senseless twaddle at THE ADVANCE, than he is to look after the moral well-being of the community in which he resides. Week after week he has been disgusting intelligent readers with lengthy screeds of no interest to any human being but his own little self. And yet he daren't lift his little finger to denounce the blackguards who perpetrated one of the foulest and blackest crimes on the calendar within a few rods of his office door! "Very plucky little man," indeed! I charge him with culpable neglect in not exposing this damnable deed in the interests of that religion and morality of which he pretends to be an exponent. Out upon such "plucky little" cowards, and long life to those journals who possess sufficient manliness and moral courage to nail their colors to the masthead of principle, and use their utmost endeavors in squelching out rampant ruffianism. "All thunder and a storm of wind" journalism is not compatible with nineteenth century civilization.

Yours for Morality,
VALENTINE MUGGINS.

From our Correspondent.

Harvesting operations in this vicinity almost completed. Spring wheat is somewhat rusted. Other crops good.

A much needed and refreshing rain fell last night.

Considerable fall wheat was sown around here last week.

The builders of the Methodist Church have commenced operations.

Mr. C. Knott has built a very nice frame house which he intends veneering.

Mr. J. Plewes is putting a new run of stones and some other repairs in his mill. Mr. Plewes evidently intends not to be outdone in the flouring line

An altercation, which is likely to end in a law suit, took place this morning between H. Hurlburt and W. Condy, hotel-keeper. It appears that as Hurlburt was driving Condy's cow—which had been in his grain—to pound, Condy interfered and succeeded in driving the cow away. Words, which were not very friendly, but which savored rather of the "pugilistic," passed between them, each giving broad hints of what he thought of the other's character. And now, Hurlburt, in his wrath, is going to take Condy before a magistrate to make him answer for his misdeeds.

The members of R. T. O. T. intend having a picnic on the afternoon of Wednesday, the 17th inst. It is also intended to hold a Scott Act meeting in the evening if speakers can be obtained.
