

JERSEY JOE MEETS THE VETS — The heavyweight boxing champion of the world, Jersey Joe Walcott, invaded the north end of the Montreal Forum recently between falls in the Darnell-Rogers wrestling match he refereed, and sat among the World War 1 wounded veterans, quartered at Ste. Anne de Bellevue military hospital, who are the regular guests of promoter Eddie Quinn. At left is Joe Shears, old-time boxing star, who is regularly in charge of the veteran group. The crowd of 10,000 cheered Jersey Joe loudly for his thoughtful gesture.
