

LOW FLYING JETS scooted below heavy clouds about 10 minutes behind time over Peterborough while citizens looked for them and were just about convinced they would not appear especially after their failure to fly over Toronto Monday. The Sabre jets made two passes at the city and with a swoosh were gone. Piloting one of the planes was Murre E. Kelly, 24, of Bobcaygeon (Above).—(National Defence Photos).