Brevities.

—Mrs. Higinbotham, of Bowmanville, is home on a visit.

—Miss Miller, of Owen Sound, is visiting at Mr. J. W. Armstrong's.

—Two inches of snow in Flesherton this morning (Thursday).

—W. Clayton has received a large stock of Boots & Shoes for fall and winter wear.

—Noble Lawrence and T. W. Wilson disagreed about something last Friday, whereupon the former up with his hand and hit him. A scuffle ensued in which very little blood was drawn.

—The attention of the public is directed to Mr. David Clayton's new advertisement in this issue. He has turned out several fine new sets of harness since he commenced business.

—Clayton's Boot & Shoe store, Flesherton, is the place to get yourself and family shod for the winter. Prices as low as is consistent with good work and material. Boots & Shoes, ready made or made to order. Repairing as usual.

—Mr. J. H. Campaign has leased Mr. Whittaker's blacksmith shop at Flesherton Station for a term of five years. Jack is a good blacksmith, and will, no doubt, be accorded a goodly share of public patronage.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Clark, of Hamilton, attended service at the Methodist Church here last Sabbath morning. Mr. Clark looks greatly improved. He left for Scotland on Monday morning, where he will visit his parents and recruit his health. Mrs. Clark will stop at her father's until his return.

—The "Little Puzzler," from Flesherton puzzled them all in the ring at the Northern Exhibition. He took first money and well deserved it.—Hanover Post.

The horse referred to is none other than Will Campaign's famous little "lightning express."

Though numerous causes may operate to turn the hair gray, all that is needed to restore the natural color is Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer. For more than twenty years its sales have been enormous, but we have yet to learn or its first failure.

Leaving Flesherton.

Mr. R. G. Trimble is about leaving Flesherton, and offers a number of Clocks for sale at bottom prices for the next few weeks. Other articles will be disposed of at very low prices. Come early and secure bargains.

Correction.

A typographical mistake occurred in Mr. Geo. Buskin's letter in our last week's issue. The words "factory was opened, May 23rd," should have read "factory was opened May 3rd."

Hard on the Bears.

Mr. Robert Cooper, who lives near Eugenia, set up a dead-fall early this fall, and since that time he has succeeded in capturing four black bears, which were foolish enough to investigate the mysteries of the rude but "sartin death bar trap." Bears seems to be more numerous this season than for many years past. There is something more sportsmanlike in shooting than in trapping them, however.

Wood Thieves.

Wood is again becoming a scarce article in Flesherton, and the queer manner in which some people replenish their stock of fuel is a subject for investigation. Mr. Geo. Saul, our worthy painter, was absent from home for a few days recently, and when he returned, discovered that a quantity of his wood had disappeared. The person who stole the wood—and who was discovered in the act—will likely make his debut before our village magistrates should he repeat the offence.

An elastic step, buoyant spirits. and clear complexion, are among the many desirable results of pure blood. The possessor of healthy blood has his faculties at command, and enjoys a clear and quick perception, which is impossible when the blood is heavy and sluggish with impurities. Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best blood purfier and vitalizer known.

Ladies requiring Mantles should see Richardson's stock.

Changed Hands.

The grocery business hitherto carried on in Markdale, under the firm name of the "Belfast House," has been transferred to Mr. Wm. Hanbury. We are certain the good name of the House will not decline under the management of W. Hanbury.

Over the "Boyne" Bridge.

On Monday last little Charlie Richardson—son of Mr. W. Richardson, of this village—turned a double somersault over the Boyne bridge while playing on the railing. Happily he lit on his hands and knees and was not injured with the exception of a slight scratch on the hand. His hat fell off in the fall and floated down the stream, but was secured by the plucky little lad, who "waded in" the water after it almost as soon as he fell.

Are there Mormons in Proton?

We have been informed, that disciples of Brigham Young are at the presenttime endeavoring to make converts to their faith in the Township of Proton. We can scarcely credit the rumor, but give it for what it is worth. If it be correct, then the sooner this so-called class of Christians are driven out of the place, the better it will be for the morals of the community.

For underclothing try Richardson's, his stock is larger and embraces a wider range of goods than ever before offered here.

Wedding Bells.

An interesting event took place at a the residence of squire Armstrong, in this village, on Wednesday last, when Miss Lydia Anna, second daughter of Mr. Armstrong, was united in marriage to Mr. Thos. Edward, eldest son of Mr. J. S. Aikenhead, of the wholesale hardware firm of Aikenhead & Crowlie, Toronto. The marriage was a very quiet one, only the relations of the contracting parties and a few young friends of the bride being present. Rev. D. C. McDowell performed the ceremony, and the bride was accompanied by Miss Katie Miller, Owen Sound, and Miss Louie Armstrong, the bride's sister. After the ceremony, a sumptuous repast was served and the happy couple left for Toronto, being accompanied as far as the C. P. R. station by a number of friends who wished them a cordial God-speed in the new relationship, which has been so happily inaugurated. Their wedding trip consisted of a visit to Detroit and other leading United States cities.

A Rare Treat in Store for Flesherton.

We understand that the services of Bishop Carman are to be secured for a sermon and lecture, to be delivered in the Methodist church, Flesherton, sometime in November next. The Bishop is one of the most eloquent and forcible speakers in Canada, and is sure to be greeted by a full house when he visits this place. It is not often that we are favored with such a rare treat as is in store for us.

Mr. M. Reilley, of Priceville, Speaks,

To the Editor of The Advance.

SIR,—I noticed an article in your paper respecting horse-shoes shown at the Township fair. What you stated was perfectly correct; and I also say, that I went to no extremes in making those shoes, but am glad to see some outsiders had the pluck to oppose me. I had it all to myself at every show held in Priceville for the last ten years. I hope that the Directors of the East Grey show will take the matter into their consideration, and, in their prize-list, grant a prize that will be worth competing for, and not confine an exhibitor to one entry alone, but as many as he can show, so long as the exhibitor can show a difference in every pair. For instance, I can show three different shoes on the principal of expansion. I consider this the most important item in the Agricultural department, as no horse-medicine will repair an unsound foot.

In speaking to some of the Directors of the East Grey show, they say that it is impossible to get a competent judge. Call in a veterinary surgeon and I will bear a part of the expenses as one of the exhibitors. It is worth something to make an improvement in this line.

Yours truly,
M. REILLY.

[The above was received too late for insertion in our last week's issue. We agree with Mr. Reilly, that something should be done to encourage horse-shoe manufacture at our county shows.—ED. ADVANCE.]

Sunday School Work.

Rev. Alfred Andrews, Sunday School agent of the Guelph conference of the Methodist Church, preached an excellent sermon in Flesherton Methodist church last Sabbath morning, to a large congregation. The text was taken from Exodus IIc. 9 v., "Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will give thee thy wages." Although the sermon lasted over an hour, the interest in the Rev. gentleman's lucid, common sense remarks, did not flag from beginning to close.

On Monday evening Mr. Andrews delivered an instructive and practical lecture in the basement of the same church to a crowded but intelligent and apreciative audience. After a short and appropriate prayer by Rev. Mr. McDowell, and the singing of a beautiful hymn by Rev. Mr. Andrews, the lecturer was introduced to his hearers in brief and fitting terms. His remarks were illustrated by a neatly executed chart—which should, we think, adorn the walls of every Sabbath school room, as it would very materially facilitate the work of teachers and superintendent. In simple but terse terms, the lecturer explained the meaning of the various lines and figures on the chart. He then asked several questions which were very cleverly answered by Sabbath school scholars, a large number of whom were present and occupied front seats. He then went on to explain the duties of teachers and superintendents in a manner which showed him to be master of his subject. Much as we might desire it, want of space forbids us going into details.

In answer to pertinent questions put by Messrs. C. Treadgold, W. J. Bellamy, and Thos. Granger, the lecturer said that he did not believe in the system of giving prizes to the more successful pupils, although he believed in giving rewards of merit for individual effort. The less fictitious literature in libraries, he said, the better; and nothing but the very best fictitious works at that. In regard to the Berean leaves, he was sorry they had ever been introduced; as it was, nothing but the Bible should be used in school—the leaves should only be used at home as a help to the teacher in preparing his lesson.

He expressed himself strongly against the system of allowing pupils to "half say" their verses. He said it was simply a lesson in dishonesty. Credit should only be given for the number of verses said without "prompting" by teacher or pupils.

She Horsewhipped Him.

A female Amazon, passing herself off as the editor of The Exchange and Mart, Toronto, (is there such a publication in the Queen city?) struck Markdale last week, and forthwith instituted a vigorous canvass for subscribers to the paper she was supposed to represent. Her imperious bearing, together with the fact that she carried a dangerous-looking revolver, assisted her very materially in her operations. Finally she came in contact with Mr. J. R. Trimble, and because he refused to subscribe for the paper, she threatened to horsewhip him. This occurred in Mr. Trimble's store. After making the threat she went out, but shortly afterwards returned, whip in hand, and proceeded with the utmost coolness and deliberation to carry out her design. She managed to strike Mr. Trimble one blow, but at this juncture our famous Flesherton detective, Mr. A. S. VanDusen, opportunely put in an appearance and arrested her on the spot. She submitted to the majesty of the law with good grace, and politely asked her "caretaker" to name the fine—$5, $10, or $20; it didn't matter, for she could pay it then and there. She was quite willing to pay for the "fun" of whipping a man who had the temerity to refuse to take her paper.

She paid the fine imposed, and, on Sunday morning, swept into one of the Markdale churches with the haughty bearing of a duchess, bowing very sweetly to the gentleman who showed her into a pew, and otherwise making herself very agreeable.

Her card bears the following inscription; "F. E. Downes, Editor of The Exchange and Mart, 23 Adelaide St. East, Toronto."

A Street Squabble.

Robert Neilson slashes Dick Hargraves on the Face with His Jacknife.

On Tuesday last, Mr. Robt. Neilson and Mr. Richard Hargraves got engaged in a very animated discussion opposite Mr. R. Trimble's store in this village. In reply to a statement made by Neilson, Hargraves called him a liar. The former retorted in language more vigorous than polite, while the latter asserted it as his firm belief that he could lick Neilson in about ten seconds, and if it weren't for the fact that the said Neilson was an old man he (Hargraves) would do so then and there. Mr. Neilson had his jackknife in his hand at the time, and with the exclamation "You would, would you," rapidly drew the keen edge of the "cold" steel twice across Hargraves face, inflicting two deep gashes in the neighborhood of the mouth. At this juncture, Mr. Clarence VanDusen—who happened to be standing by during the whole affray—interfered and brought Hargraves away from the scene. The Dr. stitched up the wounds, but shortly afterwards Neilson came into a room in the hotel, in which Hargraves was sitting, and struck that individual on the face. The wounds were broken open by the blow, and commenced bleeding afresh. Hargraves at once paid a visit to J. W. Armstrong, Esq., J. P., and no doubt the affair will be thoroughly investigated by our village magistrates at an early date.

What is Catarrh?

Catarrh is a muco-purlent discharge caused by the presence and development of the vegetable parasite amoeba in the internal lining of the nose. This parasite is only developed under favorable circumstances, and these are, Morbid state of the blood, as the blighted corpuscle of tubercle, the germ poison of syphillis, mercury, toxoemea, from the retention of the effete matter of the skin, suppressed perspiration, badly ventilated sleeping apartments, and other poisons that are germinated in the blood. These poisons keep the internal lining membrane of the nose in a constant state of irritation, ever ready for the deposit of the seeds of these germs, which spread up the nostrils and down the fauces or back of the throat; causing ulceration of the throat; up the eustachian tubes, causing deafness, burrowing in the vocal cords, causing hoarseness; usurping the proper structure of the bronchial tubes, ending in pulmonary consumption and death.

Many attempts have been made to discover a cure for this distressing disease by the use of inhalants and other ingenious devices, but none of these treatments can do a particle of good until the parasites are either destroyed or removed from the mucous tessue.

Some time since a well known physician of forty years' standing, after much experimenting, succeeded in discovering the necessary combination of ingredients which never fail in absolutely and permanently eradicating this horrible disease, whether standing for one year or forty years. Those who may be suffering from the above disease should, without delay, communicate with the business managers, Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and get full particulars and treatise free by enclosing stamp.—Toronto Mail.

Catarrh—A New Treatment.

Perhaps the most extraordinary success that has been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for Catarrh. Out of 2,000 patients treated during the past six months, fully ninety per cent. have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less startling when it is remembered that not five per cent. of patients presenting themselves to the regular practitioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Starting with the claim now generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermination—this accomplished, he claims the Catarrh is practically cured, and the permanency is unquestioned, as cures effected by him four years ago are cures still. No one else has ever attempted to cure Catarrh in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured Catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple, and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favourable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment. Sufferers should correspond with Messrs. A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street west, Toronto, Canada, and enclose stamp for their treatise on Catarrh.—Montreal Star, Nov. 17, 1882.
