Manitoulin Island.

A Norwichites Experience on The Island of the Great Spirit.

Your readers will doubtless be interested in a short sketch of the island of the Great Spirit. As most people know, it was formerly owned by Indians; they also know the name was given it by the dusky inhabitants.

For many years nothing was known of this beautiful island, and until about forty years ago, it was little botter than a howling wilderness, The first white settler of whom anything is known, is still living in one of the villages known as Little Current, and is still halo and hearty.

As I have stated one of the most interesting features connected with the settlement of the Island, it will not be out of place to introduce to your readers Mr. Phillip May, the first white settler mentioned above. A trip to Manitoulin this summer was one of the most enjoyable ever experienced. The place has undergone many changes and improved so rapidly, that the tourist can scarcely be persuaded that this is the place supposed by so many to be a wild, uncivilized region, behind the times as far as social standing and modern improvements are concerned, the natural beauty of this village (Little Current, we assume) has been greatly enhanced by the splendid wharves and some fine new buildings recently erected. Seven good boats ply between Collingwood and Sault Ste Marie, two of which make the entire trip to Duluth, but all calling at most of the villages on the north side of the island. Those desiring to visit this island will find the route by way of Wiarton the most direct.

Let me give you an account of a few days camping on the North Shore, at the foot of the Lacloche mountains. A party of thirteen of us engaged Capt. Taylor, of the trim little sailing vessel, MANITOU, and pilot May—the first white child born on the Manitoulin—to convey us to the opposite side of the channel from Little Current, distance of about thirteen miles. We made the run in short time, and after taking dinner, we proceeded—armed with pails, baskets, tin cups, fishing tackle, and the Frenchman's ever needful long—handled frying pan—on our tour. We started up the mountain and were not long in finding any amount of blueberries, or huckleberries as some call them. Up we went until we had attained an altitude of 1000 feet when we halted, and gazed out on nature's grand panorama stretching from beneath our feet almost, to where earth and sky appeared to meet. The bay, dotted with innumerable islands, resembled a huge mirror as it sparkled in the bright rays of the sun. The islands seem to range from the size of a TEA-PLATE to the Great Manitoulin itself, which is 90 miles long and 30 miles wide. Some idea can be formed of the number of islands dotting the bay, when I inform your readers that there are said to be 80,000 between Collingwood and the Sault.

After filling our baskets, &c. to the brim with berries, we reluctantly descend the mountain. By the time the botton is reached, we are all hungry for it is now seven o'clock. After supper, a huge fire is built and blankets spread in our tent, and those who feel too fatigued to part in the songs and jests around the fire, betake themselves to their "downy" couches on the "softest" side of the rocks.

Two days of this sport ended our first picnic and we started for home in high glee, having gathered in all nearly 300 quarts of fruit. Two excursions to the North Shore, each of two days duration, satisfied the tourists that if there is any place under the sun where a good old-fashioned sporting time can be had, it is on the Manitoulin.

The crops on the island are abundant and in quality surpass anything in the Province.

Hoping I have not trespassed too much on your space, I remain, &c.

Mrs. W. S. Hambley.

Norwich, Ont.

AN old smoker declares that he has been using Myrtle Navy tobacco ever since the second year of its manufacture and that during that time he has never suffered from a blistered tongue or parched tonsils or any other of the unpleasant effects which most tobaccos will leave behind them. His experience, he says, is that no other tobacco which he has ever tried is quite its equal and that in value for the money no other comes anywhere near it.

A pushing Country Journalist.

We congratulate Mr. W. L. Smith, of the Shelburne Economist, on the hand some Christmas number he presented to his readers last week. The Economist man's enterprise and push in this as in other matters pertaining to live country journalism, cannot be too highly praised, and we trust his efforts will meet with that genuine reward which they richly merit.

TO OUR READERS.—If you suffer from from headache, dizziness, backache, biilousness or humors of the blood, try Burdock Blood Bitters. It is a guaranteed cure for all irregularties of blood, liver and kidneys.

Matter Left Over.

The following interesting reading matter unavoidably crowded out of this issue, but will appear in our next:—Report of Flesherton Cheese Factory; "An Artemesia Boy;" Honor Rolls S S. Nos. 8 and 3, Artemesia; Election of officers, Markdale lodge of Royal Templars of Temperance; Election of Officers, Flesherton L. O. L. No. 429: and other matter—principally editorial.

NATIONAL PILLS are the favorite purgative and anti-bilious medicine; they are mild and thorough.

Married.

On the 17th December, by the Rev. D. C. McDowell, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. David Blair to Miss Mary Ellen, daughter of Mr. John H. Heard, all of Flesherton.

We take much pleasure in wishing the young couple all happiness. Both are well known and highly esteemed by the people of this locality and therefore have the good wishes of all in their matrimonial venture.

AFTER TWENTY-THREE YEARS SUFFERING.—Rev. Wm. Stout, of Wiarton, was cured of scrofulous abscess that seventeen doctors could not cure. Burdock Blood Bitters was the only successful remedy. It cures all impurities of the system.

A Royal Christmas Gift.

Santa Claus used to be the donor of "good things" in the days of our balmy youth; but, the sea-god appears to have a predilection for some portion of the upper earth, for, on Christmas evening as Mr. and Mrs. Benson, of this Town, were discussing the merits of a Can of Oysters they had just opened, Mr. B. discovered a hard substance in one of the oysters he was eating, which upon examination proved to be a Pearl of rare quality and high value. "It never rains, but it pours," is an old adage, and the success of Mr. Benson's business relations is now crowned with a Triterion emblem of at least the value of $250 to $300. Editorially we don't envy W. Benson but the thought strikes us that we might have done a meritorious act by purchasing a Case of Oysters from Benson, on the evening in question.

EXPECTATION.

Markdale, Dec. 29, 1884.

A Walking Skeleton.

Mr. E. Springer, of Mechanicsburg, Pa., writes; "I was afflicted with lung fever and abscess on lungs, and reduced to A WALKING SKELETON. Got a free bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which did me so much good that I bought a dollar bottle. After using three bottles, found myself once more a man, completely restored to health, with a hearty appetite, and a gain in flesh of 48 lbs." Call at W. Richardson's Drug Store and get a free trial bottle of this certain cure for all Lung Diseases. Large bottles $1.00.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "28 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 28, 1882.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from Scrofula, and the inclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous effect has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and an object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly, W. M. PHILLIPS."

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a pleasure and a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the SARSAPARILLA in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1882. Yours gratefully, HIRAM PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Blotches, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and Eruptions of the Skin. It clears the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.
