A Reliable "Weather Prophet.

Flesherton has a weather prophet—in fact we have several, but the one we more particularly refer to can just "knock the spots off" Prof. Wiggins, or even that notorious old fraud, Moses Oates, who predicted a mild winter last fall; and, then, when that failed, he had the brass to give it as his opinion that we would have a nice open spring! But we digress: A week ago last Monday our weather prophet predicted beautiful, spring weather, commencing on the Thursday following. Sure enough it came, and has stuck to us like a brick ever since. There is nothing mean about us; "honor to whom honor is due," has been, is, and always shall be our motto. Our reliable weather prophet is none other than Mr. M. Richardson.

Improvements.

As stated in a previous issue, building operations have already commenced in Flesherton. Besides those already mentioned, the following buildings are in course of construction:—

A large three-story, brick, carriage and blacksmith shop on the corner of Durham and Hill streets, by Mr. J. H. Heard.

A cottage, brick veneered, residence, on Adelaide street east, by Mr. Harry Piper.

A cottage, brick veneered, residence, on Church street, by Mr. Jas. G. Brooks.

A two story frame residence, on Richmond street east, by Mr. Wm. Taylor.

And still there's more to follow.

Superintendent Trimble.

Our esteemed and highly venerated citizen, Mr. R. Trimble, has been appointed, by common consent, superintendent-in-chief of our sidewalks and streets. On Tuesday evening he strolled down Collingwood street, and finding that everything was not just as lovely as it might be—particularly in front of the ADVANCE printing office—gave it as his opinion, that the folks in the east end were a lazy lot anyhow. He thereupon moved, seconded, and carried unanimously, the following resolution:—

That Fawcett and them other lazy chaps in the East Ward of this town of Flesherton, be and they are hereby requested to move, or cause to be moved, within forty-eight hours of the passing hereof, all the rubbish on the sidewalks and streets in front of their respective places of business and abode, on Collingwood, Kingston, and other streets in the said East Ward, in the said town of Flesherton.

Fawcett demurred on the ground that the pile of wood in front of his office added greatly to the beauty of the scenery. Supt. Trimble over-ruled the objection, alleging that to allow any such thing to be tolerated would establish a bad precedent for his successors in office in the dim future.

Horses and Sidewalks.

To the Editor of The Advance.

The extreme thoughtfulness, to keep dumb animals feet out of the mud, was displayed last Sunday evening by a young man on horse-back who, after trying some time to get his horse on the sidewalk, succeeded; then after trotting him at a pretty good pace for some distance thereon, the said youth felt satisfied and retired in order to allow those impertinent pedestrians to have a chance. No wonder there are holes in the sidewalks when they are used with such freedom by quadrupeds and the long-eared bipeds who direct the footsteps of the former.

PRO BONO PUBLICO.

[We have often admired the "thoughtfulness" exhibited on the part of equestrains, such as the one referred to above. —HORSE REPORTER, in absence of the "Editor-in-Chief."]

As a superb hair dressing and renovator Ayer's Hair Vigor is universally commended. It eradicates scurf and dandruff, cures all eruptions and itchings of the scalp, promotes the renewed growth of the hair, and surely prevents its fading or turning gray.

Division Court.

His honor, Judge MacPherson, had a light docket to dispose of at the last Division Court held in Flesherton, on the 17th inst. There was nothing very enlivening about the proceedings—the monotonous hum-drum of debtor and creditor exhausting the parience of those whom curiosity brought thither. Of course there were a number of rather important cases, but even these did not seem to create much interest. The Wilsons were at "Coort" looking after the interests of the irrepressible Robbins again, with what result we know not—will likely hear about it some other time. The Wilsons are a clever family, and known more about law than a great many of our lawyers—so we are told by one who ought to know—and have more influence with the "jooge" than a carload of pettifoggers who "chate people in a face, so they do."

The Agricultural Editor could not help observing upon what trivial pretences many of the cases were brought before Judge MacPherson—whose reputation as a clear-headed and upright judge is widely known. Lots of the cases brought before our Division Courts are the outcome of misunderstandings which a few words from any clear-headed man would set right, and thus save the cost and annoyance which would otherwise follow. It made the Agricultural Editor sad and mad at the same time, and in the words of the immortal but rather "illy" clad, "Puck," he was led to exclaim:—"What fools these mortals be."

The old "stand-by's" of the Court were all there; in fact the Agricultural Editor of this paper has never known them to fail to put in an appearance before the last echoes of the bailiff's stentorian "O, Yes, O yes," &c., had died away, to be succeeded by the stamp of feet, and confused murmur of voices which invariably attend the opening of our courts, They shifted uneasily on their seats, and craned their heads forward with eager expectancy when anything unusual occurred; and when the judge, in his abrupt, and decided manner, decided a case—whether for plaintiff or defendant—the "old stand-by's" nodded their heads sagaciously, and winked at their neighbors as much as to say.—"I told you how it would happen!" The otherwise tedious routine of the Court, was thus relieved somewhat in the observation of these old wiseacres.

The cases—less than forty in number, which was very little more than half the usual quota—were all disposed of early in the afternoon, and judge, lawyers, clerk, assistant bailiff, successful and unsuccessful clients, "old stand-bys," and the audience dispersed.

A GOOD TEST.—For over sixteen years G. M. Everest, of Forest, has sold Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam, and its sales are steadily increasing. It cures coughs, colds and all lung complaints; is pleasant to take and always reliable.

WELL TO REMEMBER.—A stitch in time saves nine. Serious results oft follow a neglect of constipated bowels and bad blood. Burdock Blood Bitters regulate and purify the stomach, bowels, liver, kidneys and the blood. Take it in time.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful manager of the Largest Hotel Enterprises

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND'S farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND'S direction was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use.

Mr. LELAND has personally used for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Scrofula, Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND'S permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his mammoth Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York.

Mr. LELAND'S extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.
