Absent Friends.

II Cor. 5:8.

Father, to Thee shall praise ascend
For every true and valued friend
Whose face we miss to-day.
They often helped to make us brave;
But now they live beyond the grave
And dwell with Thee alway.

Thou didst in them Thyself reveal,
And fill their hearts with love and zeal
In spite of care and pain.
In them Thy purpose was fulfilled
Until at length the storms were stilled,
And death for them was gain.

And now from every griefset free
It is their great delight to be
Where evil is unknown;
Where glories gleam, and anthems swell,
Safe in the Father's house they dwell;
They stand before the throne.

And from their triumphs may we learn
To live that life for which we yearn—
That life which never dies;
For when this earthly vigil ends,
We shall be with our absent friends,
And live beyond the skies.

Keady, Ont. June 1905. T. WATSON

There is a new amendment to the Municipal Act which comes into force this year. It provides that every farmer shall cut the thistles and noxious weeds along the roadside bordering on his farm and half way across the road and no time will be allowed on the road list for such work. If the thistles are not cut by the 10th of July, the pathmaster must notify all delinquents. All cases of default shall be reported to the township council by the pathmaster and all work ordered by them shall be charged against the property in the next collector's roll, and it shall be collected together with any costs in the same manner as ordinary taxes. This is pretty hard on the men occupying corner farms, but after two or three years of close attention there should be no thistles left. The defect in the act is in leaving it for councils to order the thistles cut. By the time the councils meet after the 10th of July, the thistles will have seeded the whole territory.—Orangeville Sun.

A cow belonging to J. Methral, Dunedin, gave birth to triplets. Latest accounts say the whole family are doing well. The calves weighed 42, 43 and 46 pounds, respectively.—Creemore Star.

Measles are epidemic in Alliston and neighborhood. The Herald says there are about three hundred cases in Alliston and surrounding country.

Euphrasia Council has purchased a new Sawyer-Massey stone crusher for use in that municipality.

Just What Everyone Should Do

Mr. J. T. Barber, of Iwinville, Ga., always keeps a bottle of Chamberlains Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at hand ready for instant use. Attacks of colic, cholera morbus and diarrhoea come on so suddenly there is no time to hunt a doctor or go to the store for medicine. Mr. Barber says: "I have tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which is one of the best medicines I ever saw. I keep a bottle of it in my room as I have had several attacks of colic and it has proved to be the best medicine I ever used." Sold by W. E. Richardson.

There was much excitement at Thornbury on Tuesday over the capture of a big fish, commonly called a sturgeon. The "sea monster," as some of the boys chose to call it, made it's appearance in the river a short distance below the dam about seven o'clock in the morning. About half a dozen parties resolved to capture the giant if such a thing were at all possible. Proceeding to a blacksmith shop they had a barbed spear made with a line attached to it. With this they managed to harpoon the sturgeon about a quarter to 12 o'clock. The fish was weighed on a scale, when it was found to weigh 85 pounds, after which a speer was thrust through its body and it was carried triumphantly up street on the shoulders of two men, followed by an admiring crowd of spectators. The fact that from 75 to 100 of Thornbury citizens spent the most of the forenoon in watching the sturgeon disport itself in the river would appear to warrant the conclusion that the expense of landing the big fish must have been somewhere in the neighborhood of one hundred dollars—that is if the citizens of Thornbury had anything to do. —Meaford Mirror.

Keep Your Bowels Regular.

If your bowels didn't move for a week you would be prostrated. If more than one day goes by you become languid, blood gets bad, breath horribly offensive, you feel sick all over. To remedy this take Dr. Hamilton's Pills which regulate the bowels and cure constipation. Taken at night you are well by morning. They purify and cleanse the system, prevent headache, biliousness and sick stomach. Prompt and certain are Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c per box or five for $1 00 at all dealers.

In a local school a small boy was reciting in a geography class. The teacher was trying to teach him the points of the compass. She explained: "On your right is the south, your left the north, and in front of you is the east. Now what is behind you?" The boy studied for a moment and then puckered up his face and bawled. "I know it; I told Ma you'd see that patch on my pants."

Croup Is Deadly!
