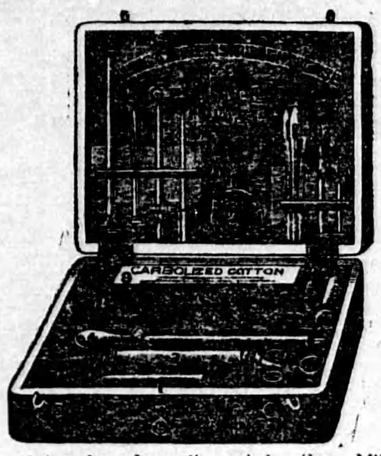
THE PILLING CATTLE INSTRUMENT CASE.

These cases, which are made of polished oak, contain a number of instruments that no farmer, dairyman or stock owner can afford to be without. Every one of these instruments when needed are needed at the moment. Just one case of Milk Fever saved will many times pay the cost of the entire outfit. It seems strange that this very important outfit has not before now been made up. To us it seems one of the most portant improvements to the dairy farm ever devised.



Not only does it contain the Milk Fever outfit for Air Treatment recommended by the United States Department of Agriculture, but it also has a complete assortment of cattle syringes, trecars for bloat, lead probes, milking tubes, test dilaters, teat bistouries, teat opener, thermometer and bandages. It is made by George P. Pilling & Son, Philadelphia, who will gladly send any of their readers a description of the case.

SHORTEST WILL ON RECORD.

Estate Worth Over $40,0000 Disposed of in Three Words.

Probate of the shortest will on record was granted in London, England, last Saturday. It is that of Fred Charles William Thorn, of Streatham, whose will disposing of property of the value of £8,285 was written in pencil on a creased envelope, and read "All for mother. C. T."

This grant supersedes a grant of administration to the widow in June last, as the president of the Probate Court in the action Thorn v. Dickens, on Feb. 22 last, pronounced for the force and validity of this will, and probate thereof has accordingly been granted to the widow, Mrs. Mary Ann Thorn, of 57 Park Road, Stratford, Essex, as residuary legatee, the testator having named no executor.

PILLS AND PILES

A prolific cause of Piles is the use of cathartics and pills of a drastic, violent nature, which is always followed by a reaction on account of the resinous, drying properties they contain.

There are other causes, but no matter what the cause or what the kind of Piles, Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid can be relied upon to cure—to stay cured.

It's an internal remedy that removes the causes of Itching, Blind, Bleeding or Suppurating Piles.

A guarantee goes with each package containing a month's treatment.

It can be obtained for $1.00 at druggists', or The Wilson-Fyle Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ont. 6

LION TAMER SAVED BY SISTER.

She Enters Cage and Beats the Animals Off.

A girl's courage and presence of mind saved a lion tamer from a terrible death the other day at Paris, France.

During a performance at a menagerie at Versailles a tamer named Robert entered a cage containing a lion and lioness. The lioness sprang upon him, and while he was seeking to beat her off, the lion also attacked him, seizing him by the arm. Seeing the trainer's danger, his sister, aged twenty-two, arming herself with a heavy stick, rushed into the cage and belabored the lion over the head. Then she caught hold of the animal by the mane and dragged him off her brother, enabling the latter, who was badly wounded, to be taken out of the cage.

The attendants, with pitchforks, kept the animals at bay until the plucky girl effected her escape.

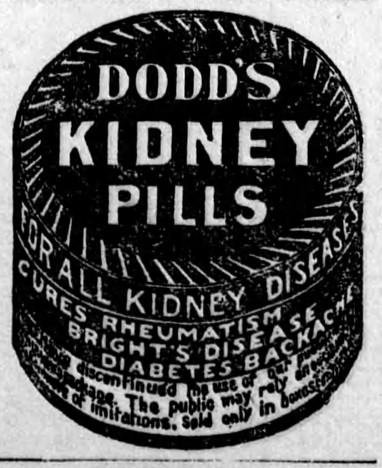
THE NEXT THING TODO.

Simpson—Do you go to church regularly every Sunday?

Hopkins—Pretty nearly.

Simpson—What do you mean by pretty nearly?"

Hopkins — Regularly every Sunday my wife tries to make me go!"



ISSUE NO. 24—06.

QUITE GENEROUS.

One Sunday recently a lady went into a church in a town to which she was a stranger and asked to be shown to a seat. The sidesman conducted her to a back seat in the gallery, the only other occupant at the time being an old gentleman, who rose to let her pass.

It was somewhat dark, and the lady, as she shook her skirts and settled down, had a horrible suspicion that she was sitting on something besides the cushion. She put out her hand and drew forth the sad remains of a silk hat.

"Oh," she said to the old gentleman, "I beg your pardon. I'm so sorry."

The old gentleman looked at the melancholy ruin, and replied that it could not be helped.

"Oh, it's truly generous of you to say so," said the lady, "but I'm afraid you're angry."

"Not in the least," said the old gentleman, straightening out the hat and placing it under the seat; "you see, it's not my hat. It belongs to Mr. ——, who showed you in!"

Do not delay in getting relief for the little folks. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is a pleasant and sure cure. If you love your child why do you let it suffer when a remedy is so near at hand?

"They call me the human songbird." "As a precaution, I supose. There's a law against shooting songbirds."

Agent—"Here, madam, is a book that will tell you how to manage a husband." Woman—'But, my dear lady, what I want is a book that will tell me how to get one, and I'll manage him all right."

In Nature's Storehouse There are Cures.—Medical experiments have shown conclusively that there are medicinal virtues in even ordinary plants growing up around us which give them a value that cannot be estimated. It is held by some that Nature provides a cure for every disease which neglect and ignorance have visited upon man. However, this may be, it is well known that Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, distilled from roots and herbs, are a sovereign remedy in curing all disorders of the digestion.

ARTFUL MRS. WITHERBY.

Witherby—"I've invited a fellow here to dinner to-morrow night."

Mrs. Witherby—"Oh, my dear, what did you do that for? Why, the new cook is coming to-morrow, and you know it will be just awful."

Witherby—"I don't see anything awful about it. Give him what we've got. I guess it's good enough."

Mrs. Witherby—"That's just like a man. You don't seem to care for appearances at all. Can't you put him off?"

Witherby—"No, I can't. The idea! I invite a friend to dinner, and my wife protests. But, madam, he comes just the same. As long as I am running this house I propose to do as I please."

Mrs. Witherby—"Who is it?"

Witherby—"Wigson. You know him, don't you?"

Mrs. Witherby (seized with an inspiration)—"Know him! I should say I did. Why, he's an old sweetheart of mine."

Witherby—"I guess not."

Mrs. Witherby—"But he is. Have him to dinner by all means. Oh, I should just love to see him! How he used to make love to me!"

Witherby—"He did, eh?"

Mrs. Witherby—"Yes, indeed. It was only by the merest chance that I didn't become his wife. This is indeed a pleasure. Dear boy! Let's see; I haven't seen Charlie Wigson for four years."

Witherby (dryly)—"You haven't, eh? Well, I wouldn't be surprised if you didn't see him for four more."

Mrs. Witherby (feigning great disappointment)—"Oh, you haven't changed your mind, have you? Aren't you going to bring him to dinner?"

Witherby—"No, madam, I'm not."

And Mrs. Witherby, having gained her point, glided blandly from the room.

Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial is prepared from drugs known to the profession as thoroughly reliable for the cure of cholera, dysentery, diarrhoea, griping pains and summer complaints. It has been used successfully by medical practitioners for a number of years with gratifying results. If suffering from any summer complaint it is just the medicine that will cure you. Try a bottle. It sells for 25 cents.

CRUSHED FINGERS.

A crushed finger should be plunged into water as hot as can possibly be borne. This application of hot water causes the nail to expand and soften, and the blood pouring out beneath it has more room to flow; thus the pain is lessened. The finger should then be wrapped in a bread-and-water poultice. A jammed finger should never be neglected, as it may lead to mortification of the bone if it has been badly crushed.

IT SOUNDS ALL RIGHT.

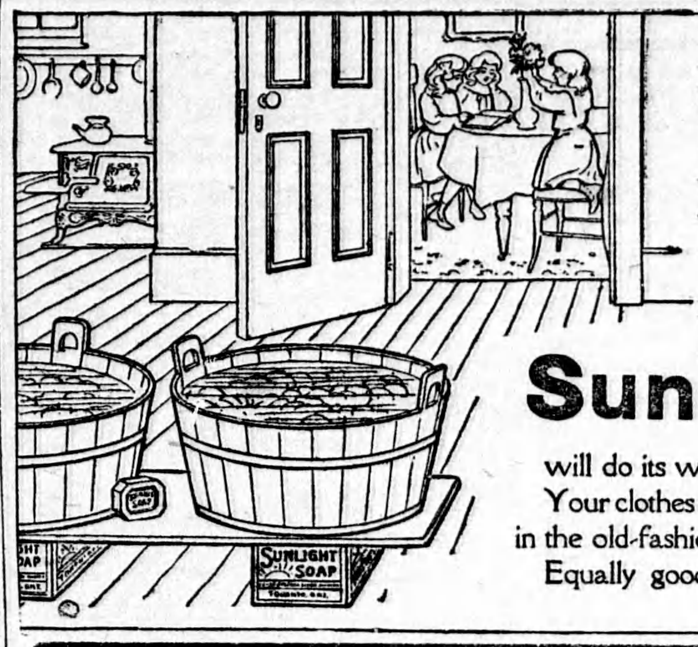
Goaker: "You look over-worked, doctor."

Doctor: "Yes, I am a bit run down. I'm thinking of going for a cruise."

Goaker: "I shouldn't if I were you."

Doctor: "Why not?"

Goaker: "Because men in your profession are so liable to see sickness."



Sunlight Soap is better than other soaps, but is best when used in the Sunlight way.

To appreciate the simplicity and ease of washing with Sunlight Soap in the Sunlight way you should follow directions.

After rubbing on the soap, roll up each piece, immerse in the water, and go away.

Sunlight Soap

will do its work in thirty to sixty minutes.

Your clothes will be cleaner and whiter than if washed in the old-fashioned way with boiler and hard rubbing.

Equally good with hard or soft water.

Parent—"How did you get along with your geography lesson to-day, Johnnie?" Pupil—"Beautifully. The teacher was so pleased that she made me stay after school, and repeat it all over again, only just to her."

A Cure for Costiveness.—Costiveness comes from the refusal of the excretory organs to perform their duties regularly from contributing causes usually disordered digestion. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, prepared on scientific principles, are so compounded that certain ingredients in them pass through the stomach and act upon the bowels so as to remove their torpor and arouse them to proper action. Many thousands are prepared to bear testimony to their powers in this respect.

Mother—"How's this, Tommy? You've been fighting Billy Jones again, when I forbade it." Tommy—"Didin't yer tell me to return good for evil, ma? Well he gave me a bad lickin' yesterday, and I gave him a good one to-day."

There is no more obstinate skin trouble than Salt Rheum. It sometimes lingers for years, but Weaver's Cerate makes short work of it. Also, take Weaver's Syrup to insure permanent cure.

FIVE WAYS TO CURE A COLD.

(1) Bathe the feet in hot water and drink a pint of hot lemonade, then sponge with salt water and remain in a warm room. (2) Bathe the face in very hot water every five minutes for an hour. (3) Sniff up the nostrils hot salt water every three hours. (4) Inhale ammonia or menthol. (5) Take four hours' active exercise in the open air. A ten-grain dose of quinine will usually break up a cold in the beginning. Anything that will set the blood actively in circulation will do it.

A butcher was invited the other night to attend a concert, but positively declined, even when a free ticket was offered him. When pressed for a reason, he replied: "If I should go I should see so many people who owe me for meat that it would spoil all my fun."

It will Prolong Life.—De Sota, the Spaniard, lost his life in the wilds of Florida, whither he went for the purpose of discovering the legendary "Fountain of perpetual youth," said to exist in that then unknown country. While Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will not perpetuate youth, it will remove the bodily pains which make the young old before their time and harass the aged into untimely graves.

"I have three children, who are the very image of myself," said Jones, enthusiastically. "I pity the youngest," returned Brown, quietly. "Why?" asked Jones. "Because he is the one who will have to resemble you the longest," said Brown.
