A Tip to Cream Producers

With a good demand now existing for butter as well as an equally good price being paid for cream (now 41 cents for Special grade, with possibility of higher) would it not be wise, during this dry spell, to give special attention and feed to your milking cows, as pasture may improve with possible rains.

It is also essential to maintain the quality and by selling your cream to your nearest Creamery, eliminate deterioration when hauled long distance by truck.
