The day is not far distant when "cards of thanks" will be a thing of the past. When death enters a home, neighbors never fail to do all in their power to place a silver lining back of the dark cloud, and they do not expect or desire any thanks through the public press. One subscriber, however, not to be outdone, sent in the following: "Mr. Editor: I desire to thank the friends and neighbors most heartily in this manner for their co-operation during the illness and death of my late husband, who escaped from me by the hand of death on Friday, while eating breakfast. To my friends and all who contributed so willingly toward making the last moments and the funeral a success, I desire to remember most kindly hoping these lines will find them enjoying the same blessing. I have also a good milch cow and roan gelding horse, eight years old, which I will sell cheap. 'God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform, He plants His footsteps on the sea and rides upon the storm'. Also a black and white shoat cheap".—Ex.
