THIS PAPER may be found on file at Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau (10 Spruce St.), where advertising contracts may be made for it IN NEW YORK.

FLESHERTON:
THURSDAY, MAY 20, 1886.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

Those indebted to the proprietor of THE ADVANCE for job work or advertising are respectfully requested to settle the amount of their indebtedness on or before June 1st next. Our rates are all struck on a strictly spot cash basis, and unless prompt remittances are made in each and every case, and not later than June 1st, interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month will be added in each and every instance.

The majority of our accounts are small but altogether they foot up considerably over the respectable sum of $700—and this notwithstanding the fact that we have been doing business on a cash basis. This is too much money to carry over from year to year in a country place, and we trust those owing us will do us justice to look at the matter in the same light. We dislike dunning, or being dunned, as much as anybody, but everyone will admit that we have good reason to make a move under the circumstances. If we cannot get the cash, we have a right to interest the same as other people.

REV. MR. AYERS.

The genial pastor of the Methodist church here has now been with us nearly one year. During that time he has made many friends and we do not think he has one enemy. The Quarterly Board's action in passing the motion—to be found elsewhere in these columns—is conclusive proof that he has faithfully discharged his duties as pastor. Kind, generous, sympathetic, zealous in all good works, the friend of the friendless, he ranks high—and deservedly so—in the esteem and respect of all classes in the community.

SUPPLEMENTS.

It seems that issuing a certain class of supplements in connection with newspapers, is contrary to the spirit of the Post-Office Act. We found out this interesting fact by personal experience.

Mr. Munro, one of our pushing merchants—who fully understands the value of advertising his goods—has been in the habit of sending out supplements to the public, through the medium of THE ADVANCE, for the past two or three months. A certain newspaper man reported this innocent fact to Post-Office Inspector Spry, who at once wrote to us and ordered a discontinuance of the practice, which, he said, was "contrary to the spirit of the P. O. Act." We were surprised on receipt of this peremptory order, as the practice of issuing supplements is not one of a recent date; we were more surprised however, to notice that papers still came to us containing supplements. Why did not Mr. Spry—who is a most efficient public servant, by the way—issue circulars to all the newspaper proprietors, showing the illegality of the practice?

Determined that others should observe the "spirit of the Act" in question as well as ourselves, we wrote the Inspector again for more light. That gentleman promptly and very courteously replied, and pointed out that he "did not say that supplements could not be enclosed in your paper," but "circulars under the name of supplements." The next thing to do is to determine what constitutes a circular and what dosen't—what constitutes a supplement, and what dosen't. The clause in the Act governing this matter, says that "hand bills, notices, advertisements," &c., cannot be enclosed in a paper as supplements. The question arises, what can? Do not notices and advertisements form a part of a newspaper? The question still remains unanswered as to what really constitutes a supplement. And it is likely to remain so.

WE RISE TO EXPLAIN.

In answer to the genial Thornbury News we would say that the item "Improve the Town" was clipped from the Drayton Vidette. Where he obtained it we cannot say, but if it originated with the News it should have been credited. The World credits wherever possible and regrets the omission in this instance.—Beeton World.

The above is incorrect, and the Thornbury News has been howling about credit which certainly never belonged to it. The FLESHERTON ADVANCE originated the article, "Improve the Town," and the News added a few words to it and palmed it off as original, without giving us credit. The Beeton World was right in not crediting it to the cheeky News.

DRAWING CLASS FOR TEACHERS.

The P. S. Inspector has called a meeting of the Teachers of South Grey, to be held at Priceville on Saturday next, May 22nd, at 1 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a class in Drawing, as authorized by the Education Department. We hope our Teachers will avail themselves of this opportunity of pursuing, at a very small expense, a study which occupies such important place in our school course, and which is found to be so useful, especially in the mechanical arts.

THE LAST YEAR, 1886.—After the above year is ended there need be no person suffering from Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Toothache, Headache, Lumbago, or any acute pain, if they only purchase a bottle of Fluid Lightning, as it cures instantly. Pain cannot stay where it is used. The name is Fluid Lightning. Sold by the Druggist.

A MODERN MIRACLE.—In a recent letter from R. W. Dowson, of Deloraine, Ont., he states that he has recovered from the worst form of dyspepsia, after suffering for fifteen years; and when a council of doctors pronounced him incurable he tried Burdock Blood Bitters, six bottles of which restored his health.

For The Advance.

The Clodhopper.

The future lexicographer will doubtless consign to its rightful oblivion the name I would respectfully lay before my readers. To the uninitiated, I might describe the species (in the language of the poet) as an animalized edition of the lowest order of humanity—a kind of semi-brainless being, who by a long series of well-regulated oppression, had evolved into a workable agricultural slave. Such being the universal opinion as to his status, his surroundings were strictly in keeping. His master's cattle were, in many instances, better housed and fed than himself and family; his education was utterly neglected, and his children grew up in the darkness of grossest ignorance and vice—a plague and disgrace to society. It reads like a fable in this age of rapid improvement, that less than thirty years since, such was the degraded condition of the farm laborers in many portions of England. While "the workman is worthy of his hire," yet it is a deplorable fact that in many counties the wages averaged from six to eight shillings per week. Let me here ask Canadian readers, how they would like to endeavor to pay rent, educate, clothe and feed themselves and their families on a fraction over twenty-five cents per day?

It might possibly be in keeping, in these times when all conditions of labor present so much unrest, to consider these facts, and compare notes, ere they rush into the social discord and attendant chaos of strikes.

That the Farm Laborer of the Old Land should have remained sunken for centuries in such a helpless condition, is a problem which can only find a true solution in the fact, that class distinction prevailed to such an undue extent, as to exclude from its aristocratic dignity all help or sympathy for its less favored fellow-beings, who were left to grind out their wretched lives in abject poverty, and in the misery and helplessness of old age to end their days in the parish workhouse.

It is a refreshing fact to know, to-day a better state of things exists. The animalized, semi-brainless being of the past is now, fortunately, recognized as a man and a brother, possessing—under the fostering influence of education and religion—the rights and privileges of citizenship. Quoting a recent authority, "His wages have increased from between eight and nine shillings a week to between fourteen and sixteen shillings."—"A school for his children is open; he has become a voter; he has ceased to be a degraded and despairing serf; he has become a man and a citizen." This wonderful transformation has, to a large extent, been the result of the faithful labor of one man. There have been many heroes upon the tented field who have won their laurels and a nation's praise, yet in the face of intense class hatred, pride, prejudice, and the iron heel of oppression, this modern hero has fought for years, until the righteousness of his cause has prevailed, and as the emancipator of a down-trodden race, he stands to-day "in the proud position of the first representative of the English peasantry in the House of Commons. Only twenty-five years ago he was a farm laborer in the county he now represents. His general good character for honesty of purpose, gained the respect of all who knew him. As a local preacher amongst "the people called Methodists," he had abundant opportunity of becoming fully acquainted with the miseries and wants of his fellow-laborers, while his sympathetic heart learned not only "to feel another's woes," but he set to work practically to eadeavor to better their condition. His natural eloquence fell with telling power upon the masses. In the large, open air meetings, such was the magnetism of his voice, that the thousands of down-trodden laborers of Norfolk and adjoining counties, had rekindled within them the dying spark of hope. The laborer's league, under his skilful management, were able to present a united front to their masters, and compel attention to the justice of their demands.

It is worthy of remark, that in all the trying ordeal through which he passed, he is never known to have incited to violence; he never lost sight of the higher tribunal, in whose hands he had placed his cause, and with whose help he was determined to succeed. It must indeed have been a proud moment in his life, when at a dinner given in London in his honor, surrounded by some four hundred and fifty of the highest noblemen in the land, JOSEPH ARCH could look back upon twenty-five years of active usefulness crowned by so glorious a victory.

"The poor you have always with you," is to us a divine legacy for all time. Though Joseph Arch is still a poor man, yet he lives in the hearts of the people, and to them his name will even be as "ointment poured forth."

DEACON SNUKES.

MARVELOUS.—One dose of Dr. Chase's Liver Cure will cure Sick Headache, Dizziness, and Sour Stomach. 1 to 2 bottles are warranted to cure Lives Complaint, Indigestion and Biliousness. Sold by W. Richardson.

To break up a cold or cough or its ill results there is no better remedy than Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

Kimberley.

From our own Correspondent,

The farmers about here are finishing up seeding.

The fall wheat, generally speaking, is thin in this locality and some is being plowed up.

The sidewalk is progressing since last report.

Messrs. J. Plewes and H. Gaudin are each the owner of a fine St. James colt of this season.

The boys are organizing a base ball club, and we expect soon to be able to report some good playing.

Mr. John Hurlburt and family intend leaving for the North-West on the 24th.

A FATAL FIRE IN OWEN SOUND.

A Young Man Burned to Death. Others Barely Escape.

(From the Owen Sound Times.)

One of the worst fires we have ever had in town, though the destruction of property was not large, occurred on Monday morning last. About a quarter past one on that morning, the frame building on Division street, owned by Mr. John Hatton and occupied by the shoe shop of Mr. H. Archer and the grocery of Mr. Peter Bruce, was discovered to be on fire. Though the fire men were quickly on the spot, the interior was all on flames, and it was too late either to save the building or to remove any of its contents. It was known that Messrs. Archer and Bruce, as well as to brothers named Mastin, slept upstairs, and a thrill of horror ran through the crowd as it was rumored that Harry Archer was still in the building, as he had not been seen. For some time nothing definite could be ascertained, but by and by the front part of the upper floor gave way, precipitating the contents of the room above down to the lower floor. All doubt was then set at rest, for the flames being now subdued in the lower part, the lifeless body of the young man was plainly discernible among the debris. Tender hands bore the body away, and the crowd left the scene with greater sadness than had been manifested at any fire for years.

The deceased was a fine young man, respected and liked by all who knew him. He was a member of KNOX Church choir, and sang at the opening services on the previous evening, and his sad fate cast a gloom over the town. The Foresters, to which society he belonged, took charge of the body, and attended it to the train on Wednesday morning, when it was taken for interment to Bradford, where his people resided,

Mr. Bruce escaped through the front window with face and hands dreadfully burned, and is still in bed from the injuries he received. He states that he and Archer slept in a front room up-stairs, while the two Mastins slept in a back room. They were all in and went to bed before, eleven putting out the lights. The first intimation he had of the fire was by Archer jumping out of the bed exclaiming, "Oh! Pete, we are being burned up!" He grasped for his pants in the dark but did not find them, and had no time to search. Meanwhile Archer had gone for the door leading to the stairs and opened it, but the flames and smoke burst in and drove them back, when Archer closed the door again. Bruce then rushed against the window to burst it out, but the heavy middle bar resisted his strength and threw him back. As he turned he saw Archer grasping a quilt and wrapping it about his shoulders. He then smashed the lower part of the window with his hands, and swung himself out by the iron rod which held the sign. Finding that Archer did not follow he ran around to the back to see if he had got out that way, when he found the Mastins boys on top of the shed, they having escaped through a back window. He was then taken away by friends, to get clothing and have his injuries attended to. He states that the lights up-stairs were put out when they went to bed, and as there was neither fire nor lights down stairs the previous evening he is unable to account for the origion of the fire.

An inquest has been commenced before Coroner Cameron, and is not yet concluded, but no material facts aside from Bruce's statement, the substance of which we have given, have been elicited, and there is as yet nothing pointing to how the fire originated.

A DOUBLE BENEFIT.—Harry Ricardo, of Toronto, certifies to the benefits received from the use of Hagyard's Yellow Oil as a cure for rheumatism and deafness, his affliction with these combined troubles being a severe one.

THE HECTIC FLUSH, pale hollow cheeks and precarious appetite, indicate worms. Freeman's Worm Powders will quickly and effectually remove them.

FEVER colic, unnatural appetite, fretfulness, weakness, and convulsions, are some of the effects of Worms in Children; destroy the worms with Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

USE PROF. LOW'S SULPHUR SOAP for Prickly Heat, Nettle Rash, Scaley Eruption, Itch, and all diseased conditions of the skin.

MCGREGOR & PARKE'S CARBOLIC CERATE.—Have you and old Sore, Cut, Burn, Bruise, Corn, Bunion, Salt Rheum, Pimple, Blotches, Rough Hands or Face? If so, there is but one cure, namely, McGregor & Parke's Carboli Cerate. If you but try it, it will convince you. It costs but 25c. at the Drug Store.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of Cutting Teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhœa, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the Gums, reduces Inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup" for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," and take no other kind.

MCGREGOR'S SPEEDY CURE.—When we say McGregor's Speedy Cure is the only perfect cure for Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Indigestion, and Impure Blood, we are telling plain facts, of which hundreds upon hundreds can testify who have been restored to perfect health by its use. We would therefore advise you strongly if you are a subject of any of the above troubles to give McGregor's Speedy Cure a trial and be convinced. It is sold in 50c. and $1.00 bottles at the Drug Store.

MINERAL POISON.—Nothing but pure extracts from plants and roots are used in preparing McGregor's Lung Compound, the modern and now popular remedy for Colds, Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Asthma, and all affections of the throat, lungs and chest. All mineral poisons and dangerous substances are avoided, which renders it safe for children or adults. Sold at 50c. at $1.00 per bottle at the Drug Store.

A PLEASANT DUTY.—"I fell it my duty to say," writes John Borton, of Desert P. Q., "that Burdock Blood Bitters cured my wife of liver complaint, from which she had been a chronic sufferer. Her distressing, painful symptoms soon gave way, and I can highly recommend the medicine to all suffering as she did."

NATIONAL PILLS are sugar coated, mild but thorough, and are the best Stomach and Liver Pill in use.

LADIES ONLY.—The complexion is often renbered unsightly by Pimples, Liver Spots, and Yellowness. These it is well known are caused from an inactive Liver and bad blood. Dr. Chase's Liver Cure purifies the blood and whole system. See Recipe Book for toilet recipes, hints and suggestions on how to preserve the complexion. Sold by W. Richardson.
