Mr. Editor—As we have not seen any items from this sunny spot for some time, and thinking this was one of the places you would like to hear from to which you referred in last week's Advance, I thought I would act on the suggestion and send you a few items.

Farmers here appear to be contented. The western fever has not made much headway here. Most of the pioneers have gone to their long home, but the sons are occupying their places and seem to be working away contentedly and improving their places. Samuel Arnott is putting up an addition to his barn and a stone wall underneath. Geo. McMaster is erecting a fine large barn and wall. Robert Grummett is building a house, and we hear Mr. Penn also purposes building in the near future. Mr. Henderson and Richard Davidson are going to drain their farms this season—so you see improvements are going on.

The Epworth League, which has been closed for two or three months, has been re-opened, with Mr. Roberts, our school teacher, as president, and Miss Flo. Roome as vice president. Last Friday evening there was a large and interesting meeting. Rev. Mr. Stanley was present.

Mr. Irish has just finished cutting his stock of logs and shingles. Firm. is a hustler and does good work.

Mrs. Will Inkster returned from the city where she was visiting some old friends.

We think the editorial item in The Advance last week, about the hotels of Dundalk, was good. They need not act so spitefully after having such a fat time in supplying liquor so long to the surrounding townships which had passed local option, but it shows what the hotelkeepers are.

Arbor day was kept by teacher and pupils here. The yard was cleaned up and spruce trees planted.

Non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla

If you think you need a tonic, ask your doctor. If you think you need something for your blood, ask your doctor. If you think you would like to try Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla, ask your doctor. Consult him often. Keep in close touch with him.

A Modern Diogenes.

Ethel, aged six, had gone down the village street with her new doll. It could be plainly seen that she was in dire distress. She stood still, and after a close scrutiny of several men who passed she accosted one.

"Say, are you an honest man?" she demanded.

"Why, yes, I think so," was the astonished reply.

"Well, then, if you're sure you're an honest man," said the little maid, "please hold my dolly while I tie my shoe."

A Easy Way Out.

"Here, you," said the conductor, "you rang up a fare. Do that ag'in and I'll put you off!"

The small man standing in the middle of the crowded car promptly rang up another fare. Thereupon the conductor projected him through the crowd and to the edge of the platform.

"Thanks," said the little man. "I did not see any other way to get out. Here's your dime."

Strength of Human Hair.

A human hair of average thickness can support a load of six and one-quarter ounces, and the average number of hairs on the head is about 30,000. A woman's long hair has a total tensile strength of more than five tons, and this strength can be increased one-third by twisting the hair. The ancients made practical use of the strength of human hair. The cords of the Roman catapults were made of the hair of slaves, and it is recorded that the free women of Carthage offered their luxuriant tresses for the same use when their city was besieged by the Romans.

Report of the Swine Commission.

The report of the Commission sent last year by the Dominion Government to Europe to study the swine rearing industry has been issued. It consists of a pamphlet of sixty pages of printed matter and a large number of striking illustrations.

The countries visited were England, Scotland, Ireland, Denmark and Holland. Denmark and Ireland, being the strongest competitors of Canada in the British market, received most attention. The report described clearly how the hogs are bred and reared, and the various steps taken to develop the export bacon trade. The far famed co-operative system, as applied by the Danes to the breeding and rearing of the swine, the packing and marking, is fully described. Co-operative feed buying, which involves the purchase of over six hundred million pounds of grain, oil cake, etc., a year, is fully dealt with.

A valuable feature of the report is the attention given to the methods followed in the different countries for maintaining harmony between packers and farmers, and the securing of a uniform supply of pigs. Co-operation, not only between farmers, but between packers and farmers, is credited with excellent results. This is especially true in England in bacon curing vicinities.

After dealing with the various phases of production in the different countries, a chapter is devoted to the English bacon trade and another to lessons for Canadian farmers and packers. The report is comprehensive and practical, and therefore of value to every swine raiser in Canada. Copies may be procured free by writing the "Live Stock Commissioner" at Ottawa.

HORSE'S LEG SWELLED

Animal Was Too Sore and Lame to Work—Quickly Cured by "Nerviline."

"I have had a long experience in treating horses, and I can safely say that I know of no liniment for strains, sprains, and swelling that is so useful around the stable as Nerviline." Thus writes Mr. Joshua E. Murchison, from his home, Crofts Hill P. O. I had a fine young mare that wrenched her right fore leg, and from the shoulder down she was stiff, sore, and swollen. I applied Nerviline, and it worked like a charm; in fact, that mare was in shape to work a day after I used Nerviline.

Nerviline is a Trusty Liniment

"We have used Nerviline on our farm for twenty-five years and never found it wanting. For man or beast it is a wonderful liniment."

We have received nearly five thousand letters, recommending Nerviline as a general household liniment, as an all-round cure for aches and pains. One million bottles used each year. Try it yourself. Large bottles of Nerviline 50c; trial size, 25c. All dealers, or The Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

NO. 7.

Says the Miller:

"One day coming home I looked through the kitchen window and saw our grocer's wife baking biscuits. Sure enough, there was a bag of 'CREAM OF THE WEST' flour, and the biscuits were just piping hot—made my mouth water.

"You bet I knew then how it was that grocer sold so much

'Cream of the West' Flour

He knows how good it is by the tasty things his wife makes with it, and he feels sure in recommending it.

"If every grocer would try his goods before selling them it would be a good thing."
