FLESHERTON:
THURSDAY, JULY 15, 1886.

THE 12th AT EUGENIA.

It has been many a day since as large a crowd assembled within the town limits of picturesque Eugenia as gathered there on Monday last to celebrate the "Glorious Twelfth." Although not as many lodges were represented as had been expected, there was a very large gathering of friends and sympathizers, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed during the day. Excellent accommodation was furnished, and visitors received a most cordial welcome at the hands of the citizens. Several handsome arches and a liberal display of bunting testified to the loyal and patriotic spirit of the inhabitants. We noticed particularly the fine arch and other decorations in front of Glenfield Villa, the residence of our esteemed friends, Mr. and Mrs. Woodburn.

Amongst the Orange lodges represented, we noticed Flesherton Station, Eugenia, Flesherton, and last, but not least, grand old No. 244—possibly the oldest lodge in Grey, it having been now in existence nearly forty years. The presence of our Band, of which every Flesheronian must have felt proud (in fact it made us feel about six inches taller to hear the inspiring strains with which they favored the public) added greatly to the general enthusiasm.

After partaking of dinner—and grand dinners were provided by the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, Mrs. Thompson, and others—the lodges re-formed and marched to the place selected for the speaking. The speeches were interspersed by good selections by Flesherton Band. Mr. Jas. Brodie, District Master, was chairman. Mr. Brodie usually says "what he has got to say" in very few words, and is therefore a model chairman. Dr. Christoe delivered one of the most eloquent and forcible speeches we have ever heard at an Orange celebration. What particularly struck us was the diaect references to burning questions of the hour, and the clear, concise manner, in which the Doctor handled his subject. The average Orange speech is nauseating to intelligent and thoughtful minds. Events of a hundred or two hundred years ago are to be found fully chronicled by the historian, where they can be read at leisure; events of the present—which are only known in a vague kind of way amongst the masses—should form the chief theme of the public speaker's remarks—the connecting links between past and present need only be referred to incidentally. The Doctor's speech, therefore, was practical and edifying in the highest sense of the word. Every sentence contained food for deep thought and grave consideration; and every word of advice, if acted upon by Orangemen throughout the Dominion, would secure to them their much talked of "rights" inside of ten years. And when Rev. Mr. Ayers called for three cheers for the Doctor at the close of the latter's grand, stirring, and patriotic speech, we felt like rising from our seat beneath the umbrageous shade of a spreading balsam and shouting,—"Give him a rousing "tiger" as well!"

The speeches by Rev. Mr. Watson, Rev. Mr. Ayers, and Rev. Mr. Corcoran, were masterpieces of eloquence, but scarcely so practical and pointed as the Doctor's. Rev. Mr. Watson is a graceful speaker and uses very fine language, containing many gems of thought, whilst Revs. Mr. Ayers and Corcoran are vigorous and forcible "educators of public opinion" Indeed all the speakers on the platform acquitted themselves creditably, and on the whole their speeches were infinitely superior to the average "Orange orations."

The proceedings were brought to a close about four o'clock, thus closing one of the most enjoyable days ever spent by us in Artemesia.

AN ARTEMESIA CRITIC.

"A Layman" criticises the propriety of the oratorio recently performed in the Drill Shed here under the auspieces of the Methodist church. Whoever the gentleman is, he makes a grave mistake in classing oratorios with the "allurements of the opera and theater." The comparison is far-fetched, and inclines one to suppose that the "few theatre entertainments" attended by "Layman" in his younger days were few indeed, and "far between." How does "Layman" know, too, that the "mock prayers" he speaks of were not as piously and earnestly addressed to our Heavenly Father as are many of those mumbled and oftimes read in many Christian churches? Is not prayer the outcome of Bible teaching, and did not the beautiful prayers in the oratorio of "Queen Esther" come from the very same source? Why not, upon the same principle, condemn the practice of singing hymns in the churches, or psalms either, just because they express certain scriptural doctrine in a similar manner to "Queen Esther." But we imagine that it is the acting of the different parts in this oratorio to which "Layman" really objects—not merely the singing and praying; for no person of average intelligence and morals could object to the latter. In such case we might say, that even as the Lord Jesus made certain doctrinal points clearly understood by the use of parables, so oratorios are calculated to create a sort of "hungering and thirsting" after biblical literature.

ALL WELL PLEASED.—The children like Dr. Low's Pleasant Worm Syrup and parents rejoice over its virtues.

THE REV. GEO. H. THAYER, of Bourbon, Ind., says: Both myself and wife owe our lives to SHILOH'S CONSUMPTION CURE."

THE SCHOOL MEETING LAST TUESDAY AFTERNOON.

Mr. R. Trimble having been duly appointed chairman, and Mr. R. J. Sproule secretary, Mr. Wm. Hogg asked that the minutes of last school meeting be read, which was accordingly done.

Mr. M. Richardson, secretary, here gave an explanation of what the Trustees had done in the interval between the last meeting and the present one. Letter from Mr. W. K. Flesher pertaining to school sites read, in which that gentleman made many objections to the site chosen at the last school meeting. Notwithstanding this, however, the site chosen at that meeting was almost unanimously confirmed. Before finally confirming the selection the meeting was adjourned for half an hour or so, when the ratepayers present made a personal inspection of the two sites West of Sydenham street—one site being the selection of the ratepayers and Trustees and the other being suggested by Mr. Flesher as a substitute. The latter was found to be located in a place where scholars and teachers would certainly be secluded enough from the vulgar gaze of the public, and where the teachers would not likely be subject to "unrest and anxiety" on account of children straying off and getting lost or falling into the mighty waters of the Boyne. In short, it would never answer for school purposes. This was apparent to every ratepayer. The site chosen is infinitely superior in every respect—elevation, distance from principal street, and everything else considered.

FORESTRY REPORT.

The "Forestry Report for 1885," compiled at the instance of the Government of Ontario, by Mr. R. W. Phipps, of Toronto, is even more interesting than the one published last year. Visits having been made by the talented author to various places in the States, where important practical experiments in forestry have been made, we are treated in the Report before us to an exceedingly interesting chapter relating thereto, from which the reader may glean much valuable information. Then the chapter on "Trees of Ontario" contains a vast amount of useful and valuable information relative thereto, with which the most of us are not nearly so conversant as we should be, It is not Mr. Phipps' fault, however, if we remain longer in ignorance of the nature and qualities of the many kinds of beautiful trees which are to be found in our magnificent forests. Few writers are gifted with the concise, yet fascinating style, which characterises Mr. Phipp's writings—no matter what the nature of the subject handled. He is always original; he is always pointed; he always uses language so simple, yet forcible and expressive, that a child can read and understand.

We shall refer to this subject again; in the meantime any person can secure a copy of the work free by addressing Mr. R. W. Phipps, 233 Richmond street, Toronto.

Fell Forty Feet.

MITCHELL, Ont., July 13.—An old man named Edward Gamble, who lives a short distance from town, while ascending to the loft in the Collison House stable last night, fell from the top to the bottom, a distance of about forty feet, fracturing his skull. He will die.

He Didn't Start.

NEW YORK, July 13.—Col. Wm. H. Gilder who intended to leave New York this afternoon to undertake to find the North Pole was detained on the charge of stealing a $1000 bond. Dolly Adams, the professional swimmer, was the complainant. Gilder was held in $1500 for trial.

Scott Act Martyrs.

SMITH'S FALLS, July 13.—The stable and outbuildings belonging to Wm. Graham, license commissioner, were burnt this morning. The fire was evidently the work of an incendiary. The buildings were totally destroyed, together with a horse and other contents. The loss is about $500. In endeavoring to save the horse Mr. Graham was so seriously burnt that he now lies in a critical condition. Mr. Graham is the man through whom information has been given to the license inspector of breaches of the Scott Act.

HASTINGS, July 13.—This village has become most notorious since the passage of the Scott Act. On Saturday night the glass was broken in the store windows of Mr. G. T. Jackson, and Mr. J. W. Doxsee and Constable Striker had two plows stolen, as well as damage done to their property. Last night A. C. Huycke, J. P., before whom cases of infractions of the law have been tried, had his orchard totally destroyed by some persons, who stripped the bark from every tree. Excitement runs high, and efforts are being made to secure evidence against the parties suspected.

A GROWING EVIL.—Scrofula, or king's evil, as an enlargement of the glands of the neck is termed, may be called a growing evil in more than one sense. Mrs. Henry Dobbs, of Berridale, was cured of enlarged glands of the neck and sore throat by the internal and external use of Hagyard's Yellow Oil.

HIGH PRAISE.—Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide Ont., says: "I have used Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam in our family for years. For heavy colds, sore throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves."

LADIES ONLY.—The complexion is often rendered unsightly by Pimples, Liver Spots, and Yellowness. These it is well known are caused from an inactive Liver and bad blood. Dr. Chase's Liver Cure purifies the blood and whole system. See Recipe Book for toilet recipes, hints and suggestions on how to preserve the complexion. Sold by the Druggist

The Knight from Kansas.

At 11 o'clock last night Melinda-street was as quiet as a mill pond. Two only were in that unpretentious thoroughfare, a Knight seeking his encampment and a reporter seeking his quarry. They approach, the one the other. All of a start the Pythian, who was a little man in full uniform, but oddly wearing a white plug on one side of his head, gave three great snorts, dilated his fiery eye, and shouted at the astonished reporter:

"Booh! Booh! I'm a Buffalo from Kansas, and I've come into howl. Booh! Booh! Booh! I'm from away Sou'west, so gimme room to snort. Let me roar a roar, and howl a howl, let me booh like the Boofoolo!"

"Then why in thunder don't you howl, why don't you roar, why don't you snort? The town is yours, and the air is still."

"Then, stranger, just list to me howl, and harken to my snort, but most of all observe how I booh like the Boofoolo. Booh! Booh! I'm a Kansas Boofoolo!"
