Heart Palpitation Trembling Weakness

When Worn Thin With Worry and Poor Nerves, Health Miraculously Restored.

"Only those who have gone through months of nervousness with its fears, weakness, and almost helplessness, can realize the blessing of sound health." Thus opened the letter from Mrs. Helen Pierson, of Cape May: "I was all my life a very heavy coffee-drinker, and when my health began to fail, I made it stronger and stronger, because it braced me up. I didn't realize that this stimulation was wearing out my nerves. But at last a nervous breakdown occurred. Then I was able to see how foolish I had been—doing unnecessary things instead of resting My heart fluttered dreadfully with the least exertion. I was bloodless, and more tired in the morning than when I went to bed. A friend whom Ferrozone had cured of anaemia recommended me to use Ferrozone, and from the first it did me good. As my blood grew stronger, the heart fluttering ceased, and this took from me the fear that I would suddenly die. I kept on gaining, and continued to use Ferrozone, two tablets with every meal. I am to-day sound, well, healthy, and happy—Ferrozone did it all."

A delegation consisting of fourteen gentlemen representing several school sections of Artemesia township waited on the County Council at Hanover on Wednesday of last week with a largely signed petition, asking that body to rescind the bylaw passed by them last January setting apart this township as a continuation or rural high school district. The delegation was courteously received and expressed their strong desire to have the work undone.

Three members of the high school board were also present to watch the progress of affairs.

The discussion took up all of Wednesday afternoon. The opinion of the County solicitor was secured, to the effect that the council had no power to rescind the bylaw, and the matter was left at that. The delegation returned home on Thursday.

Saugeen Jct. Still a Summer Resort.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Co. has handed out an answer to the petitioners for better train connections between here and Owen Sound. Mr. J. W. Leonard, in a recent letter, expresses regret that it is not possible for the company to accede to the request of the petitioners. The train service from Walkerton is primarily arranged for Toronto, and while it is possible to have a little over two hours in Owen Sound with the present service, the additional service asked for would not, in his opinion, be justified. The present service is certainly very unsatisfactory to travelers from this branch to Owen Sound. Four hours at Saugeen Junction, two hours at Owen Sound with another four hours' wait at the Junction on the return trip, is not very inviting. We have not yet seen Saugeen Junction classed as one of the pleasant and attractive summer resorts, but this may be an oversight.—Durham Chronicle.

Doctors Condemn Oily Liniments

The Public are Warned to Be Careful of These Strong-Smelling Oily Liniments Containing Harmful Acids, Ammonia, Etc.

Many people have clung to the old-fashioned idea that a thick, greasy liniment is the best kind. Doctors say not—and they know.

Recently a number of these white, oily liniments were analyzed, and they were found to contain an enormously high percentage of harmful acids, and such irritating chemicals as ammonia, etc. For the moment they may cause a warm sensation when first applied, but their continued use never cures rheumatism, and only deteriorates the skin, sets up inflammation and causes endless trouble.

When a doctor warns you to quit using a white, oily liniment—do so. He knows that a thick liniment can't penetrate, can't sink through the pores and reach the seat of the pain.

When asked his opinion a few days ago, Dr. Roberts stated that he considered a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment such as "Nerviline," to be superior to any of the white, ammonia liniments. In his twenty-five years of practice he had witnessed cases of rheumatism, sciatica, and lumbago that simply would not respond to ordinary treatment—but Nerviline cured them. The same physician also spoke of the great advantages of keeping a preparation like Nerviline in the house always, because of cramps, diarrhoea, stomach disorders, earache, toothache, headache, and such minor ailments. Nerviline is a first-class cure. There is scarcely an ache or a pain, internal or external, that Nerviline won't cure. In thousands of homes no other pain-relieving medicine is used. Fifty years' continued success and the endorsement of the profession are proof that Nerviline is the liniment for the home.
