FLESHERTON:

THURSDAY, AUG. 5, 1886.

Is it not about time the Valley Road was receiving some attention at the hands of the Township fathers. It ought to be ready for travel this winter, but it won't.

The rumored destitution among the fishermen of Labrador, has been very emphatically denied by a Newfoundland clergyman, who is said to be well posted in the matter.

Lord Salisbury has been successful in forming a new Ministry. On the 3rd inst. the Gladstone Ministry surrendered their place of office to the new Ministers. It is believed the Queen will open Parliament in person.

Another serious riot at Belfast in which Catholics were again attacked. On Sunday one man was killed and seven wounded. The rioters seem bent upon resisting the efforts of the police to maintain order to the utmost.

Several thousand dollars have been expended upon the Thornbury harbor by the Government, and to what purpose? Why, the people over there are clamoring for thousands more to complete the job; and for the next decade or so the same old cry is likely to be repeated annually, by the press and people. By the bye, will the Thornbury Standard tell us next week how much money is required to complete the harbor works there? It would be interesting to know, and perhaps the Government might be induced to "come down handsomely."

Dr. Landerkin, M. P. for South Grey, voted with Mr. Blake on the Riel question—saying in effect that the arch traitor and murderer should not have been hung. Everybody has a perfect right to their opinions touching such matters, but we are of opinion that the Dr. will find it difficult to defend the position he took upon the Riel question, when called upon to do so on the hustings and elsewhere. He cannot and will not be allowed to shirk the responsibility of his action by blaming the Government for "stirring up rebellion," and otherwise attempting to avoid direct issues.

HE IS GONE!

Alphabetical Stoney Outgeneralled by Slippery Spencer.

When Alphabetical Stoney suddenly disappeared from Flesherton, two or three years ago, a good many of our citizens were prepared to make a solemn, bonafide lawyer's affidavit, to the effect that they would never, NEVER, NEVER again allow themselves to be taken in by such a dandy, plug hat, little cane, watery-eyed, ten cent cigar young man, if they lived to be as old as Mr. Mathusaleh, deceased. If they made such an oath, they have no doubt kept it thus far, as no such petted darlings have struck this town since the advent of the inimitable Alphabetical Stoney.

But this world is full of strange characters, and it is a fact worthy of note that you hardly ever find two swindlers working their little games in a similar manner in the same district. Variety being the spice of life, and it being an established fact, that "Americans love to be humbugged"—to use the words of the prince of humbugs, Barnum—Mr. G. H. Spencer made his appearance in this locality like a "blazing meteor from a clear sky." Talk about enterprise, push, patriotism, and all that sort of thing! Why, a very short time elapsed before Mr. Spencer had leased Mr. Hogg's saw mills and broom handle factory at Little Falls, rented a shop at Flesherton Station and opened out in the general store business, with rather a fine stock of goods; and, shortly before his sudden departure, had made known his determination to lease Mr. Roger Lever's steam grist mills at Flesherton Station and establish a lumber office in Flesherton. He patronized our business men liberally and freely, drove a dashing horse, with a fine carriage attached—but always with a keen, wide-awake, business-like air, which inspired many people with bushels of confidence, to the serious detriment of their common sense.

Many estimable citizens pointed Mr. Spencer out as "one of your wide-awake, pushing Yankees," possibly alluding to Mr. S's. experience in the saloon business in the city of Detroit—but, all the same, we fear we shall have to claim him as a countryman, notwithstanding his "wide-awake" Yankee(?) proclivities. Alphabetical Stoney was also a Canadian, so that it is needless to point the finger of scorn, and say, "Yankee sharpers for you again."

Well, latterly, Slippery Spencer's creditors—almost too numerous to mention—began to grow cold and lukewarm in their admiration, and talked rather of "Division Courts," and "law," and "justice," than of "wide-awake Yankees." They began to feel that hard dollars and cents were as requisite as the slippery gentleman's patronage, and forthwith the "leetle" bills began to pour in upon Slippery Spencer at an astonishing rate, and demands for "immediate settlement" and "prompt payment absolutely necessary" became sharp and decisive—all of which the slippery gentlemen bore with accustomed coolness and urbanity. Division Court came with its "judgments," &c., and the name of Spencer was not forgotten. Mr. Sept. Good got judgment for some twenty dollars. We didn't get any judgment for the fifteen dollars Slippery Spencer "got into us," but we suppose we will fare about as well as the rest anyhow.

Dan McLeod worked at the Little Mills for many months, and would probably have had to share with the other creditors, had it not been that he purchased a span of horses from his employer, Slippery Spencer, and secured them before the end came, and the big "castle in the air" came tumbling down and disillusioned the unwary. It is said Dan got a "pointer" from some well-informed gentleman, and secured himself accordingly. We are glad he did, as Dan is a good son to his widowed mother, and would otherwise have been placed in a bad predicament. We are mad, at the same time, because we have been regularly and scientifically "taken in" by Alphabetical Stoney's greatest rival in the swindling business—although Alphabetical himself squeezed us for over twenty dollars.

Messrs Wm. Petch and Sept. Good, our Flesherton butchers, are amongst the sorrowing. They also had faith in Mr. Spencer's general character for "wide-awakeness" and the sequal proved that they were not mistaken—he was wide-awake, but just a trifle too much so for the mutual welfare of all three. Slippery Spencer came out $35 ahead on this little transaction alone.

But there is an end to all things, and the thunderbolt fell upon Mr. Spencer one morning, some couple of weeks ago, in the person of Deputy Sheriff Moore, who relieved the slippery gentleman of a horse and buggy he had just driven out to Flesherton. Seizures followed in rapid succession, and shortly afterwards Mr. Spencer disappeared. He was next heard of from New York city, and lately it has been rumored that he has got as far south as Georgia, where it is to be hoped he will remain and reflect upon the follies of a mis-spent life, and live comfortably upon a goodly income, derived chiefly from gullable lumber dealers, butchers, merchants, farmers, furniture men, and editors.

We are told that such was the confidence with which Mr. Slippery Spencer inspired Mr. Aaron Teeter, that the latter advanced him $100, and it is almost needless to add, that Mr. Teeter has got Mr. Spencer's note in payment therefor, which is worth about one cent in this locality. Lumber dealers in Toronto also advanced Mr. Spencer quite a lot of filthy lucre, seemingly having the same unbounded confidence in him as had Mr. Teeter and many others. Mr. J. W. Bates, furniture dealer, also contributed his share to defray Mr. Spencer's expenses, to the tune of $30. Mr. Wm. Strain contributed a respectable amount to the general "Spencerial sinking fund," and is also a mourner. Mr. James McMullen, Flesherton Station, chipped in with 30 cents. Mr. Aaron Munshaw got his $10 the day before the crash came; Mr. M. generally "gits thar."

All you have to do now to excite or irritate people around here, is to propound the following question: "Did you know Stoney or Spencer?" In nearly every case you will find it prudent to make a rapid exit, or your movements may be accelerated in a rather unpleasant manner.

Innovation.

To the Editor of The Advance.

The questions propounded in your recent issue remains unanswered, and I will ask you to give the powers of agricultural societies as by statutes stated. Section 38 and sub-sections of Cap. 35, Consolidated Statutes, says:—

The object of the said societies, and of the township societies in connection therewith, shall be to encourage improvement in agriculture, horticulture, arts, and manufactures:

1st.—By holding meetings for discussion and for hearing lectures on subjects connected with the theory and practice of improved husbandry, or other industrial processes;

2d.—By promoting the circulation of agricultural, horticultural and mechanical periodicals;

3d.—By importing and otherwise procuring seeds, plants and animals of new and valuable kinds;

4th.—By offering prizes for essays on questions of scientific inquiry relating to agriculture, horticulture, arts and manufactures;

5.—And by awarding premiums for excellence in the raising or introduction of stock, the invention or improvement of agricultural implements and machinery, the production of grain and all kinds of vegetables, plants, flowers and fruits, and generally for excellence in any agricultural or horticultural production or operation, articles of manufacture or work of art.

39 Sec.—The funds of the Societies howsoever derived, shall not be expended for any object inconsistent with those above mentioned.

But if any doubt exists as to the spirit and loyalty of such an innovation, the agricultural directors will please be referred to 35 Vic. C. 32, Section 10.

It shall not be lawful to carry on any horse racing during the days appointed for holding an exhibition by the Agricultural and Arts Association, or by an Electoral District Society, within five miles of the place of holding the same.

2d.—Any person who shall be guilty of a violation of this section, shall be liable, upon summary conviction before a Justice of the Peace, to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars, or imprisonment in the common gaol of the county for a period not exceeding thirty days.

This East Grey Society, whilst receiving grants from the Government, is amenable to the law—and what a piece of inconsistency it would be for money to be granted by the government and municipal councils, to support horse racing. I make no apology for calling the attention of the public to such a gross innovation—contrary as it is to the statute and punishable by fine or imprisonment—and utterly at variance with the intention of municipal corporations in granting assistance to those societies, as also it is a source of immorality and wickedness. Query—In this case who is at the bottom of it?
