The longest fence in the world is to be constructed to mark the boundary between the United States and Mexico. It will extend from El Paso, Texas, to the Pacific Coast, a distance of 1,100 miles.

The rapidity of increase of western settlement is well illustrated in some figures presented to the Commons last week. The number of entries for land in 1895 was 2,326, in 1900 there were 7,764, in 1905 there were 34,503, and in 1910 the total was 52,072. In addition to this there were 18,352 pre-emption entries last year, the whole representing a total area of 11,617,600 acres.—Kincardine Review.

W. A. Armstrong,

In future the question of license reduction is to be taken out of the hands of Municipal Councils, and left with the elector. Ten per cent. of the electors may petition the council any time before the first of November, asking for a reduction in a certain number of the licenses. The question then must be voted on at the next municipal election, and submitted to a 50 per cent. vote. The submission of the question is compulsory, and if the by-law is carried by the electors the council is compelled to give it its third reading so that it shall become law. After such a question has been decided upon by the electors, it cannot again be submitted to the people for three years. All local option votes shall be confined to resident voters.

Catarrh and Bronchitis

The Bane of Thousands, and has Hitherto Baffled the Skill of Medical Science.

Catarrhozone

Dry air treatment is the one treatment that will cure these diseases.

What stomach medicine has ever been known to cure Catarrh or Bronchitis?

Catarrhozone is not a stomach medicine, but an air medicine, that carries to the remotest parts of the throat lungs, and air cells little drops of healing so curative that whenever it touches germ life it kills and eradicates them from the system.

Thousands of doctors and patients have been disappointed by using stomach medicines for coughs and colds. Have you not found it a rather roundabout way to reach the diseased portion of the throat and lungs?

Why not use Catarrhozone, which is breathed to the very root of the disease and heals so quickly and perfectly that every spot is rebuilt with new healthy tissue?

Catarrhozone is the only medicine that will cure. Thousands have testified.

Think for a moment. Is it not sense? Little drops of healing—the air carries them just where disease exists That is why

TRUTH BEFORE FAVOR— PRINCIPLES, NOT MEN

WARS AND RUMORS OF WARS

Reorganization of the Conservative party at Ottawa is in the air these days and the Reform press is making a lot of "copy" out of its surmises as to what the reorganization will mean to them. It is said that Premier McBride of British Columbia will enter the federal arena at next election, also Hon. R. Rogers of Manitoba. As both of these gentlemen are exceedingly strong men the Reform party are quite excusable for displaying a certain degree of uneasiness regarding what the future may bring forth.

The speculations include a future premier who lives by the western sea. For a sufficiently long time now the East has ruled the roost, and we could easily afford to let the premiership "go west" where the young blood runs free and active brains are fast developing our western empire. It would not be at all a matter if—(not in the immediate future, but a few years hence) Premier McBride of British Columbia would be Premier McBride of Canada. But then, it is all speculation. These things have to "grow" the same as in nature. Natural laws control, yet at the same time mankind is apt to "shove in his oar" and disarrange the natural laws, so that in this case, as in others, you cannot sometimes always tell.

Porcupine mines have already been capitalized to somewhere in the vicinity of a hundred million dollars. It looks more like a mining of pocket books than gold pockets. Keep away from the quills—they dig in deep. Just now they're being thrown around in Toronto more promiscuously than ever Hiawatha's hedgehog did the trick.

In The Advance

If you would make the public think,
And to yourself attention link,
Make constant use of printer's ink,
And advertise.

If you would prove yourself alive,
And deck abreast of all who strive,
And make your business always thrive,
Then advertise.

Yes, advertise, that all may know
That you have something good to show;
To make the streams of commerce flow,
Still advertise.

In clear and striking language tell
The special lines where you excel,
And you will find it pays right well
To advertise.

Not on a fence obscured by weed,
Where few observe and fewer heed
(Such is a third-class way, indeed,
To advertise);

But in a paper fresh and clean,
Which in each well kept home is seen,
And always read with interest keen,
There advertise.

Successful merchants often say
That nothing does more surely pay
Than what it costs them in this way
To advertise.

Having fed his horse tobacco until it has developed into a veritable tobacco fiend, Dave Frieburger of the Central Hotel, discovered the pernicious habit that the horse had imbibed when he went into the stall on Friday and forgot to give it its regular chew. This neglect cost the owner a new pair of overalls, the horse having reached for the hip pocket where the tobacco was kept, and closing its teeth on the garment bore triumphantly off the tobacco, the pocket and a large area of the subjoined dry goods.—Bruce Times.

Will Reciprocity Increase Farm Values?

From The Canadian Century

Advocates of reciprocity are making statments to the effect that the adoption of reciprocity will immediately increase the value of Canadian farm lands 25 per cent. or more. Instead of making wild guesses let us get at the facts. Since the reciprocity negotations began the United States Government has had a report prepared by experts showing the comparative value per acre of improved farm lands in 1900 and 1910 in various border states and in the Canadian provinces adjoining them. This report states that between 1900 and 1910 the value of improved farm lands increased 67 per cent. in Maine, 37 per cent. in New Hampshire, 33 per cent. in Vermont, 181 per cent. in Nova Scotia, 120 per cent. in New Brunswick, 70 per cent. in Prince Edward Island, 80 per cent. in Quebec, 43 per cent. in Ontario, 39 per cent. in Michigan, 77 per cent. in Minnesota, 123 per cent. in Manitoba, 201 per cent. in Saskatchewan and 185 per cent. in Alberta.

The great influx of settlers in Manitoba, Sackatchewan and Alberta accounts for the rapid increase in farm values in those provinces; but what is the explanation of the extraordinary increase in farm values in the three Maritime Provinces of Canada? Why did Nova Scotia farm values increase 181 per cent. while farm values in the neighboring state of Maine only increased 67 per cent.?

Undoubtedly the great increase of values in the Maritime Provinces is due to the establishment of manufacturing industries in recent years. The establishment of great iron and steel industries in Nova Scotia has revolutionized conditions throughout the three provinces. A profitable home market has been created for everything the farmers produce. These industries have been equally beneficial to the fishermen. As the steel industries are located in Nova Scotia the influence on the price of farm lands has been most marked in that province, but Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick have been greatly benefitted. The development of St. John as a winter port has also helped to increase farm values in New Brunswick.

It will be noted that the increase of farm values is considerably greater in Quebec than in Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont, and the improvement has been greater in Ontario than in the adjoining state of Michigan.

In the face of such facts how foolish it is to indulge in wild dreams of a sudden increase in Canadian farm values as a result of reciprocity.

The Price of Barley

From October 1, 1890, to August 27, 1894, the United States customs duty on barley was 30 cents per bushel. From August 27, 1894, to July 24, 1897, the duty was thirty per cent. ad valorem, equivalent to a little over ten cents per bushel. On July 24, 1897, the specific duty of thirty cents per bushel was restored and it has been continued ever since. Of course during a peroid of 21 years there would naturally be considerable variations in prices, but for purposes of comparison it will be fair to take the three years previous to the reduction of the duty, the three years during which the low duty prevailed and the first three years after the duty of thirty cents per bushel was restored. According to reports of the United States Department of Agriculture the farm prices of barley averaged 44 26 cents per bushel during 1892, 1893 and 1894 under a specific duty of thirty cents per bushel. In 1895, 1896 and 1897, under a duty of about ten cents per bushel the farm prices averaged 34.53, while for 1898 1899 and 1900, under a specific duty of thirty cents per bushel, the prices averaged 40.8 cents per bushel. Thus, instead of the Canadian farmer getting an increased price for the barley he sent to the United States as a result of the reduced duty the price came down in the United States.

It is reasonable to draw the conclusion that if as a result of reciprocity large quantities of Canadian barley, wheat and oats go into the United States, it is more probable that the American prices will come down than that the Canadian prices will go up.
