

W. C. Acheson Visits Home

Mr. W. C. Acheson, former well-known Lindsay broker before his enlistment in the Royal Canadian Navy at the outbreak of war, was a visitor at his home here to-day.

Old friends were pleased to see him looking hale and hearty after his long service at sea.

Asked what he planned to do when he was discharged from the Navy, Mr. Acheson said he was planning to re-enter the brokerage field, possibly in Toronto.
