We wish to correct an error in the name of one of the ladies who entertained at euchre the other week. It should have read Mrs. Geo. Cairns and (Mrs. Cecil Alexander) in place of Mrs. M. Irwin. Mrs. Irwin is entaining at a euchre this week.

Mrs. Phillips reported on the wood to be purchased for charity purposes. The Institute is asking for good used or new clothing for the Russian Relief. Two quilts had been quilted for which $4.00 had been paid. Mrs. Turvey read a letter from a sailor who had received one of the ditty bags, packed by the Institute at Christmas. Mrs Smith gave an interesting paper on, "The Training of Future Housekeepers". Mrs. Dargavel and Mrs. E. Fisher each gave a reading. The hostess, and her assistants served refreshments.

LET THERE BE

No More Idle Hens

THIS YEAR

The Government is urgently requesting, for this year, a heavier egg production than ever before. The export requirements to Great Britain are enormous,—and these requirements must be filled. The home market will undoubtedly be good due to meat rationing in the near future.

Taking the above facts into consideration you are assured of a good market with reasonably good prices, so, do your bit to help the present situation.

Meat Lockers

Meat rationing in the near future is almost a certainty and, while we do not know how it will affect the average householder, it was announced that the farmer may continue to kill for his own use only.—So we ask the farmers to take advantage of our meat locker facilities while space is still available. For fruits and vegetables lockers will be extensively used this year.

LIVE HENS WANTED
Right now there is a good demand for live hens.
We are paying 22c for good hens over 5 lbs.
